WHO IS AT FAULT?

The County Shortage Leading to Unpleasant Charges.

WHAT THOSE INTERESTED SAY.

J.Leo Park Makes a Statement Strongly Against Whidden.

THE AUDITOR'S EXPLANATION.

Rosborough Talks Very Plainly Begarding the Affair.

Developments today in the court house scandal were not numerous nor new. There is a great deal of talk and much discussion of the various phases of the shortage and the incident crimes that were committed in the evident attempt to cover the defalcations. Suits have been taken in the matter and all the parties concerned have their strong adherents who will not believe their friends guilty of any wrong doing.

Not for many months has anything transpired which has aroused so much feeling. While the amount of the defalcation is small, the circumstances surrounding it are so peculiar that they have given rise to all manner of conjectures and opinions regarding the guilty party or parties.

It is now more than apparent that Rosborough's deputy, Leo Park, did not destroy the books in Tax Collector Barber's office. The proof is clear that Park could not have done that as he was in Los Angeles during the time the records were tampered with and under no possible circumstances could he have been within reach of the books.

The documentary evidence of Expert Snow and Deputy Frank Smith who arranged an index of the assessment roll in March shows that the assessments which were stamped as paid on November 26th with the odd rubber stamp were as late as March still receipted as unpaid. The expert's statement and the index agree and tally.

"There has been an injustice done District Attorney Snook in some of the published statements regarding his knowledge of the matter," said Tax Collector Barber today. "He has only known of the existence of the shortage since the first of August or thereabouts. I discovered it shortly after Snook left on his vacation. Whidden and myself worked for a month trying to locate it. I decided that the proper person to be informed was the district attorney and concluded to wait until he returned from his vacation before making any move. Snook has therefore not known of the deficit more than a week."

When Mr. Barber was asked regarding some of the statements made by Rosborough he replied that they were correct. He said: "Well, Alex has told the story but I did not want it to come from me.

Barber's connection with the unfortunate affair is much regretted by his friends. He had absolutely nothing to do with the shortage, but through the fact that the second installment on last year's taxes was paid during his regime he felt morally responsible to the county for a certain amount of the delinquency. He therefore paid $600 into the county treasury and since then has been waiting and watching in the hope of discovering where the entire trouble lies.

Auditor Whidden does not think there is anything to be gained by any one connected in the mess by discussing it before it reaches the courts.

Replying to a question touching his opinion of Rosborough's statement, he said: "There are some things in it which are untrue. I did not ask him to produce the stubs of his tax receipt months ago. It was only a few days ago that I was requested to give them up and he declined. I think this is a matter for the grand jury and the courts to act upon and that is where I propose to act myself.

BARBER'S POSITION.

County Tax Collector Barber is the only person who at present suffers from the trouble. When the final settlement was made in his accounts this year it was found he was $1,100 short. The work of checking up the matter was commenced and discrepancies were found which carried some of the shortage back into last year. Barber is in a very unfortunate position. It is best explained in the few words of District Attorney Snook on the subject. "I want to say," he said, "that County Tax Collector Barber has not been guilty of any offense. He has already been compelled to pay out $600 because of the criminal acts of some person. So far as the $483 deficit is concerned we are getting pretty well at the facts. Whoever stole the money is guilty of forgery, embezzlement and mutilating public records. I do not want to say at this time who I believe is guilty, but we are close on the trail. The grand jury will have no trouble in getting at the facts. Criminal as well as civil proceedings will be commenced in a short time."

The various officials interested in getting at the bottom of the scandal have held several consultations in the matter. When they first came together a week ago today there were present County Tax Collector Barber, who demanded the investigation, Alex Rosborough, Leo Park, his former chief deputy, Myron Whidden, Attorney A. M. Rosborough and Attorney George de Golia. They met with District Attorney Snook in his offices. The interview was decidedly unsatisfactory, as it resolved itself into an out and out denial on the part of Park to Whidden's statement that the auditor had turned over the money he had collected to Park. The latter demanded a warrant for Whidden's arrest, but was urged by Snook to go slowly. The request was withdrawn and Snook agreed that the whole matter should be taken before the next grand jury. There all the evidence at the command of the district attorney will be sifted out and such steps will be taken as are warranted by the testimony presented.

ROSBOROUGH'S REMARKS.

He Gives Some Hard Knocks and Does It Without Gloves.

Alex Rosborough has made the following statement:

"The circumstances point conclusively to one man. The beginning was when my term of office expired in January last. My successor, James Barber, asked the Board of Supervisors to allow him an expert to go over the books. He was refused and then got the grand jury to do it. Snow, My accounts were gone over and when Mr. Snow completed his work they told me I was $1,100 short. That is to say that the figures as furnished by the auditor, Myron Whidden, as to the amount charged to me and the amounts which should have been credited did not balance to that extent. Very fortunately I had saved all the tax receipt stubs which I turned in to the office. The expert got through his work in the latter part of February, two months after I went out.

"I told them at that time that I would pay the shortage if it existed, but would not dig up until it was shown on my stubs that I owed it. I shall stand by those stubs, for they show to a penny every dollar taken in on each day each month, right through. Now when the expert checked up the books he had a record of every unpaid tax bill on the books. When Barber made his final settlement in July he found that his books did not balance by $1,100. When the discovery was made that the books had been tampered with there had been a number of bills stamped paid in the books which were marked with a date stamp which was different from either mine or Barber's.

"The investigation went on. It was found that the tax accounts stamped with this stamp were dated paid November 26th, the last day of the tax collections. Every one of the entries which were thus ferociously marked were for bills which bore the paid signature of Myron A. Whidden. He says he paid the money to my deputy, Leo Park. Park told him he was a liar to his face. Whidden did not deny it. The assessment lists were made in those books when they were in the possession of Barber months after I went out of office and when Park was not in Oakland.

A FEW INSTANCES.

"Then there is this that neither Barber nor District Attorney Snook have seen fit to tell. Myron Whidden received the taxes from George Schmidt of Berkeley and not for two months afterward did the receipts go to Schmidt. Whidden sent them to him.

"Another thing. Whidden says he received this money and handed it at once over to Park, who would then date the bills and return them to Whidden to endorse paid. That is assured on its face. We had a paid stamp in the office. It would have been easier for Park to have used that at once. I received the money and turned the paid bills back to Barber that same day with a date.

"We did not hear of the story of Myron Whidden's dealings on his mother's and brother's tax bills? Neither of these were paid for months after they had been marked paid in that peculiar way on November 26.

"Whidden worked out the taxes for Barber on his mother's or his brother's bill months after the first installment was due. Whidden worked in Barber's office just after Expert Wright got through with my books. He is fighting for time. That is what he wants. Why I can tell a hundred circumstances that are beyond a question of doubt where the fault of this thing lies. There is another thing: Whidden told Barber the reason his mother's taxes had not been paid before was because I owed him some money. The fact of the matter was that Myron Whidden owed me money and he borrowed $600 from Barber to pay it. Last Thursday, when a detective came to me from the district attorney's office with some tax receipts and asked me about the signature, I told him they were forgeries. I did not know anything about the doctored books at that time. They told me about them later. Myron Whidden admitted his signature to those receipts.

ALL AGREE.

They talked with the bills on the books which bore that paid stamp which was unlike anything I had ever used or Barber either. It was necessary for the man who stole that money to get at those books and date the bills paid before the delinquent roll was made up, less the advertised list should discover the fact that they were unpaid and cause immediate exposure when the owners should present their receipts and demand an explanation. Now that every one of these bills so far as found that are dated as paid on November 26 were receipted for by Whidden, the expert's report upon my books also shows that at the last of February every one of these same bills was unpaid and so entered on the books, therefore they were stamped in his peculiar way after February 28, and after Leo Park had left Oakland.

"Now they come back at Park, do they? Yes after the young man has left Oakland. Myron Whidden has hired an attorney. He never asked me for my stubs. He can have them, though, if he wants them, but they must be examined in the presence of a third party. My stubs will tell the story very quickly as to how this matter stands. I suppose the district attorney will take it to the grand jury. I shall be a witness and every one of those stubs are ready to be presented to that body or to any person authorized to examine them. Whidden was in the office at the time these transactions occurred to help out during the rush in giving out tax bills, but no one but authorized agents received any money. It had been the custom of the boys about the hall for years. I had never for a moment thought of anything wrong until the false entries were exposed. Again I never kept my books anywhere but in my vault. They were securely locked up at night. As the expert's report shows that the changed entries were made after the books left my possession and I know that Barber allowed the books to remain where one could get at them. With Park in Los Angeles and the receipted bills with Whidden's signature I am satisfied beyond any question of doubt as to the ultimate outcome of this affair."

The $600 which was paid in to the county treasurer by Barber is a portion of the deficit that was discovered when Barber made his final settlements this year. In order to first make his position with the county safe Barber paid the money. Then he commenced his investigations which have led to the unfolding of as rich a scandal as ever gave the county officials fruitful source of discussion. The entire matter is now in the hands of the district attorney, who will take such steps as he deems best for the protection of the interests of the county. "No matter where the blame lies," said Snook; "there will be no cessation of investigation until the matter is solved."

WHAT WHIDDEN SAYS.

The County Auditor Gives His Position in the Matter.

County Auditor Whidden through his attorney, George de Golia, has made the following statement for publication:

In the latter part of November last Mr Rosborough, tax collector, came to me and said he was very much rushed with business in his office in the settlement and receipt of taxes, and asked me if I would come over and help him out, as he knew I was familiar with the routine of the office and was a friend of his. I said "Certainly," and went over to his office and assisted him in every way I could in the matter of collection of taxes. Many people came in, and, not desiring to take their place in line, handed me their bills with the money to pay them. I would check up these bills with the list accompanying them, with Rosborough's deputy, who was authorized to receive the money, and then, after checking up the list, would turn the money over to such deputy with the bills given me by the taxpayer.

I supposed everybody was honest and very foolishly did not take a receipt for the money I turned over. These bills had attached to them the tax collector's stub as they came to me from the taxpayer. The tax collector would then tear off the stub put it upon a sticker, and from the stubs would check up upon the assessment roll later on the payments made for taxes against the various pieces of property as shown by the number upon the stub. After the stubs had been torn from the bill then the party who tore off the stubs would receipt the bill and give it or send it to the taxpayer.

I received, during a day or two' services as assistant under Mr. Rosborough, several thousand dollars, and several hundred bills with stubs attached, which I turned over to the deputy. After the stubs had been torn off a number of bills were turned over to me by the chief deputy, saying that he was very busy and for me to receipt the bills and give them to the taxpayers. This I did, signing in every case "A. J. Rosborough, per W." and delivered these receipted bills to the various taxpayers. I distinctly remember that of the large batch of bills that were turned over to me to sign after the stub was torn off, on a few of them the date of payment was stamped with a peculiar stamp, and on many of them no date of payment was stamped at all. I thought it queer at the time that some should be dated and some should not be dated, but, supposing that everybody was honest in the office, said nothing about it particularly, but receipted the bills as I have said and sent them to the various taxpayers. In those bills on which the date was not stamped I wrote in the date in ink. These particular bills on which appeared this peculiar stamp and for which I receipted "A. J. Rosborough, per W." have formed the basis of the insinuation and false charge against me in this matter.

THE ROLL MARKINGS.

Let me explain how the assessment rolls themselves are marked "Paid." The only way under the system followed by Mr. Rosborough of determining what taxes had been paid was from the stubs detached from the bills, which stubs were as I have said placed upon a sticker, and then from these stubs entry was made upon the tax rolls by stamping upon a place in the book the date when the tax was paid as shown by the stub. And if no stub for a given number was upon the sticker when the deputy whose duty it was to check, compare and mark paid on the rolls, the particular tax was not marked paid and appeared delinquent upon the assessment rolls.

I took no further concern about these tax bills which I receipted with this particular date stamped upon them, but sent them to the various property owners before Mr. Rosborough's term of office expired and though no more about it.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr. Rosborough, the retiring tax collector was supposed to make his settlement with the county for taxes levied by him. He had been charged as tax collector with the aggregate amount of taxes due, as shown by the assessment rolls, and he was credited with the total amount of payments he made on account thereof to the county treasurer, and then the difference between the amount he was charged with and the amount he turned over ought to represent the amount of unpaid taxes as shown by the assessment rolls.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr. Rosborough turned over to Mr. Barber, the incoming tax collector, the assessment rolls, showing a large amount of unpaid taxes not marked "paid" upon the rolls. The county expert, H. K. Snow, and Mr. Barber, with one or two deputies, went over the assessment rolls so turned over to Mr Barber, and found that according to the rolls there was a difference between the amount actually turned over by Rosborough to the treasurer and what he ought to have turned over to the treasurer of about $1?? The expert took off from each page the amount of unpaid taxes shown thereon because not marked 'paid' in the proper column. The county expert's report is a public record at the court house.

Subsequently, when Mr. Barber was called upon to make his final statement it was found that the difference between the total amount of taxes that ought to have been collected and the total amount of taxes that were turned over to Rosborough and Barber between them was about $1,083. In other words there ought to have been $1,083 more paid into the treasury as shown by the total assessment roll than was actually paid in from the tax collector's office.

It was my duty as county auditor to investigate the matter, and Mr. Barber and his deputies and my office men went over the assessment rolls, trying to discover where the difference was, checking up from the expert's report. We found upon the assessment roll books, stamped in the column "when paid" with this same peculiar stamp not in use in the tax collector's office, opposite tax statements aggregating about $483 the characters "Nov. 26th, 1894," which were not there when the expert and Mr. Barber and his deputies went over the rolls in January and February, showing that this peculiar stamp must have been put upon these rolls after the expert had finished his inspection. By whom this was done is not yet discovered. We have not been able, however, to locate the balance over the $483 of the $1,083 difference between the rolls as examined by the expert and the rolls as they now appear marked paid.

The parties holding these tax bills, aggregating $483 were sent for and produced their tax receipts, signed, as I said before, "A. J. Rosborough, per W.," which signature I immediately recognized as mine, as I have nothing to conceal in my connection with this matter from beginning to end; but the stubs are missing.

NO OCCASION TO DO IT.

If I had wanted to take or steal the money represented by these certificates in November, 1894, I must have known that it was bound to come back to me; first, because if the tax rolls were not marked paid the property owner would in time find it out and would produce his receipt for his taxes, to which I had signed my name as above. The destruction of the stub by me would not have helped me in any particular, but only tended all the more to show that I had received the money and had not turned it over, because the tax was not marked paid, yet the receipt bore my signature. Yet, if some one else had destroyed these stubs and taken the money they represented it might be difficult to have located the person and suspicion would naturally have pointed to me at once because my name was upon the receipted bill. I do not know who did this, but the production of the stub for these bills to which my name is signed would tend very much to clear up the mystery in this matter.

As I said before, I can have no possible reason for destroying or keeping them, as my name upon the receipt itself would naturally point to me as the party who got the money, and the destruction or keeping of the stub by me would not protect me in the least, but convict me all the more. Where these stubs are I do not know. I have officially asked the District Attorney to investigate this matter thoroughly and to the bottom, and demand the return and inspection of all tax bill stubs, and when they are turned over to the District Attorney or grand jury we may find the stubs for the missing $600 in addition to the stubs representing the $183 worth of stubs that I signed.

I make no charges or insinuations, but most positively declare that I did not take one dollar of any of the money represented by these tax receipts or bills and as positively state that all the money I received for taxes or bills, and all that I receipted for, was turned over to the proper authorities to receive them.

Because I did not demand and receive a receipt for the thousands of dollars I turned over in each case some people are over eager to come forward and charge me with having taken this money. I have demanded and expect, and am ready to meet, the fullest possible investigation and ask the public to withhold judgment until after such investigation.

LEO PARK'S STATEMENT.

He Throws the Blame Right on Auditor Whidden.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 8.—J. Leo Park, who was assistant to Alexander Rosborough in collecting the Alameda county taxes was interviewed this morning upon his return from Oakland regarding the alleged shortage in Rosborough's accounts.

Park denies emphatically that Auditor Whidden ever paid him one cent while he was cashier under Rosborough.

Park also says Whidden was never authorized to collect tax money at that time.

Park also charges that both Whidden's mother and brother paid Whidden money for taxes for which Whidden gave receipts signed with Rosborough's name, but Whidden did not pay the money into the treasury until August 5th, 1895.

DUMPING PROHIBITED.

The Garbage Question Now Brought to a Direct Issue.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health will be held tomorrow evening and at that time an effort will be made to solve the problem which at present confronts the health authorities in reference to the disposal of the garbage.

Today the scavengers of Oakland, numbering nearly 60, were notified that no more dumping of garbage would be permitted within the city limits. The health authorities have been forced to take this step on account of the large number of complaints in reference to dumping lodged with the sanitary department of the city. Each member of the City Council has protested against garbage being dumped in their respective wards and the scavengers were forced to seek new localities, but such a storm of protests arose that the health authorities were compelled to issue their prohibitory mandate. This move will result, no doubt, in forcibly calling the Council's attention to the need of a crematory.

FRESNO FIRE-FIGHTERS.

They Investigate the Workings of the Department Here.

A delegation from Fresno consisting of Chief Engineer Hart of the Fire Department and Councilmen E. L. Austin and Joseph Spinney witnessed the workings of a Hayes fire truck on Fifteenth street opposite the city hall this morning. The three gentlemen have been appointed to purchase fire apparatus for the Fresno department. The fire department of that city, as explained by Chief Hart, consists of the chief, drivers, engineers and about 100 volunteers. The latter are organized, but are not paid for their services. The apparatus consists of three steamers, a hook and ladder truck, and one chemical engine. Chief Lawton acted the part of host as long as the visiting officials remained in town.

The State Equalization Board Gives an Unpleasant Surprise.

MORE TAXATION ANNOUNCED.

Protests Will Be Heard at Sacramento on the 15th Inst.

ASSESSOR DALTON IS IN ARMS

He Says That It Looks Like a Cold-Blooded Revenge.

A bombshell was thrown into the county clerk's office this morning in the shape of a notice from the State Board of Equalization that the assessment of Alameda county was proposed to be raised. No such move has been anticipated and when it became generally known that the State Board had such an idea in view there was consternation expressed on all sides. There was some very vigorous English disbursed among many of the officials when it became known that such action was contemplated.

The announcement to the Board of Supervisors came in the form of a letter to County Clerk Jordan. The document reads as follows:

Office of the State Board of Equalization,
Sacramento, August 7, 1895.

To F. C. Jordan, Esq., Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda: Sir: Please take notice, and inform the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, that the State Board of Equalization, having examined the assessments upon the assessment book or roll for the year 1895 for said county, proposes to increase the entire assessment roll or book of said county for said year, except property exempt from increase for the purpose of making the assessments conform to the true value, in money, of the property contained on said roll, so as to equalize the value of taxable property of the several counties of the State for the purpose of taxation.

"The Board will consider all objections which may be made to such increase at its office in the capitol, at Sacramento, on Thursday, the 15th day of August, 1895, between the hours of 9.30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Respectfully,
Charles M. Coglan,
Clerk State Board of Equalization.

The question was immediately asked whether the State Board had examined the roll and how. It developed that Peter Borein has for some time past been working on Dalton's books as an expert for the State Board. It is surmised that the action of the Board is based upon some report that Borein has furnished.

WHAT DALTON SAYS.

Assessor Dalton was informed this morning by a "Tribune" reporter of the proposed action of the Board.

"This is the most cold-blooded thing I have ever heard of," said Dalton. "The State Board has no right on its own records to touch Alameda county's assessment. Last year they left the assessment untouched when it was $3,000,000 less than the valuations I made, and is still a cool million less than the figures now to be used after the County Board has made its reduction.

"I suppose they want to get me before them and tear me to pieces. Well, I will be there on August 15th and I am fully prepared to meet them. The representative taxpayers of this county should take hold of this matter at once and prepare to give the State Board as hard a tussle as ever they had in their lives. I am not to be compelled to fight alone.

"I suppose the State Board proposes to raise us 5 per cent and that means an increase of $6,000,000. I understand that eighteen counties have been notified to make an appearance. This notice means practically that one shall show cause why the assessment should not be raised. Now, I would like to know if the State Board proposes to raise these assessments instead of doing its duty and raising the corporations. The railroad company does not seem to have suffered very much of a raise.

"I made a raise of $3,000,000 in this county over last year. Can the State Board find any great improvements that require an arbitrary advance over my figures. There has not been a single one in the county during the year. This looks to me very much like a piece of revenge."

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to secure a large representation of taxpayers to fight the proposed raise.

A BUSY MAN.

Street Superintendent Miller Has His Hands Full Now.

Street Superintendent Miller is a very busy man these days, as there are a number of improvements in progress that require his careful attention, and besides he is besieged at all hours of the day and night by needy men in search of work. This has become such a nuisance that Mr. Miller has given notice that applicants for employment will hereafter be heard only between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock. Sixty-eight men will be put at work tomorrow cleaning the streets and next week twenty additional men will go to work repairing San Pablo avenue, and four men will be detailed to flush the sewers.

Next Monday work on the boulevard will be resumed. Mr. Miller is giving this his most careful supervision and the foundation so far laid under his directions form an excellent piece of work.

The laying of 660 feet of sewer in East Eighth street, between Fifth and Seventh avenues, has also been inaugurated. This sewer will intercept the Sixth and Seventh avenue sewers. The council has appropriated $600 for the work.

WANTS A CLERK.

Mayor Davie Says the Position Ought to Be Filled.

Mayor Davie is anything but pleased with the action of the City Council in denying him a clerk, and he believes that body will in time see the error of its ways and grant him the desired assistant.

"No one has any idea of the number of requests I receive for information concerning Oakland from all parts of the country," remarked the Mayor today. "Most of these I am forced to throw into the waste basket, as I have not time to reply. A clerk in this office would earn his salary and I hope the Council after an investigation into the need of one will grant my request."

Girard Home Again.

F. R. Girard, the piano man, has returned from a pleasure and business outing in Siskiyou county, where he spent three weeks. He says he had an excellent time, although he brings back no game trophies to dissipate the doubts of skeptical friends. He reports, he says, to note that Portland merchants are cutting into the business of California merchants in the northern part of this State. Mr. Girard says he is heartily in favor of the attempt Mayor Davie is making to secure the location in this city of the gun manufactory in Boston which decides to come to this coast.

The new rabbi is said to be an eloquent young man and a good cantor, which is quite a qualification in the Hebrew synagogue service.

IN A NICE MESS NOW.

A Challenge of the Entire Durrant Panel Deemed Probable.

TALESMEN UNFIT TO SERVE.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Theodore Durrant may not be tried in San Francisco after all.

The reason for this is the tangle into which the attorneys in the case find themselves with regard to jurors.

After much care and deliberation seven jurors have been selected to try the case only to find two jurors objectionable in more ways than one.

In this respect the prosecution seems to have got the worst of it.

Juror Walter S. Brown is said to have been bought for the acquittal of M. D. Howell in the trial for counterfeiting his reason being that he did not believe in convicting on circumstantial evidence.

Charles E. Nathan, another accepted juror has a record in Sacramento for objecting to the death penalty in cases of circumstantial evidence.

As the evidence against Durrant is altogether circumstantial, the discovery foils District Attorney Barnes and Detective Lees with dismay.

In view of these matters it is said that when the twelve men shall have been empanelled as jurors the district attorney may ask leave to challenge the two jurors.

The defendant's counsel will probably object to this but may consent to the dismissal of the entire jury.

This would clear the way for a renewal of the motion for a change of venue.

Judge Murphy upon mature reflection may grant this renewed motion if it is made.

The case seems to be almost hopelessly mixed according to the opinions of prominent attorneys.

The death is reported from New Jersey of Sallie Hart, the first new woman who lived in California.

After she went east she became prominent in journalism.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

SEATTLE, Aug. 7.—Proceedings were commenced this morning before Judge Hanford in the United States Court by Brayton Ives, president of the Northern Pacific Company, to have Thomas F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Rouse removed as receivers. The proceedings are in the nature of an "affidavit and notice of motion for the removal of receivers."

Ives, as president of the company makes an affidavit which forms the basis of the motion.

Judge Hanford made an order allowing the petition and will take up the case next Friday.

On that day he will give the counsel for receivers and counsel for the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company a chance to be heard.

Ives' latest move means that the reorganization plan of the Northern Pacific which is now in progress whereby James J. Hill the Great Northern Railway magnate hopes to come into control of the much talked-of road is temporarily at least, knocked in the head and if the courts decide in favor of Ives, Hill will never get possession of the road.

DECOYED AND ASSAULTED.

A Strange Attack Made on a Farmer in Kansas.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SALINA, Kan., Aug. 7.—E. F. Coswell, a farmer living seven miles northwest of here was decoyed from his home last night by a stranger who said he had a sick horse and wanted assistance.

When half a mile from home the pair were met by two pals of the stranger who covered Coswell with rifles.

He tried to escape when one of the men fired, the bullet striking him in the head and the other man struck him twice over the head with his rifle, partially stunning him.

The three then bound Coswell's hands, gagged him and forced him to walk a mile and a half, though he was nearly fainting from the loss of blood.

After terrorizing the farmer for some time they finally let him go, first threatening him with death if he told of the occurrence.

Coswell's condition is critical. There is no clue to his assailants and no cause for the commission of the outrage is known.

The Comptroller Is Called on to Give Advice to the Auditor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The hearing today before Comptroller Bowler upon the question of the constitutionality of the sugar bounty appropriations made by Congress last session for the crops of 1893 and 1894 arises upon the claim of the Oxnard Beet Sugar Company of Nebraska, the first claim settled by the auditor since the passage of the Wilson bill, by which the old sugar bounties of the McKinley act were repealed.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, having adjusted the amount of bounties due the Oxnard Company referred all the papers to the auditor for the treasury department with a statement of the account thereon.

The auditor allowed the amount fixed by the commissioner of internal revenue and certified a decision to the comptroller for approval, disapproval or modification as required by the provisions of the new accounting system adopted in the act of July 31st, 1894, as a result of the labors of the Dockery commission.

That act requires auditors in making an original construction or modifying an existing construction of a statute to report to the comptroller of the treasury their decisions and suspend action until the comptroller has passed upon the question.

The decision of the comptroller is required to be acted upon by the auditor, whose certificate is made by law final and conclusive upon the executive branch of the government.

The result is that the decision of the comptroller be reviewed by any other executive officer of the government.

Claims rejected by the comptroller, however, may be sued on in the court of claims, or in certain cases in circuit and district courts of the United States, their decisions being binding upon him.

The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in the case of the United States Miles Planting and Manufacturing Company vs. John G. Carlisle and Joseph S. Miller for mandamus proceedings against the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioner of Internal Revenue to compel them to appoint sugar inspectors under the provisions of the McKinley Act, having held that the sugar bounties were unconstitutional, the Comptroller of the Treasury deemed it his duty to be satisfied upon that point before passing the claim of the Oxnard Company and establishing a precedent for the payment of the sugar bounties provided for by the new appropriation.

He, therefore, without making any decision upon the matter whatever, called upon the counsel of the Oxnard Company to be heard upon the question.

The matter gives rise immediately to considerable discussion as to the Comptroller's powers and duties, and the claim has been persistently made that he had no jurisdiction and was compelled to obey the laws passed by Congress, whether constitutional or not.

That question will be argued, as well as the constitutionality of the bounty appropriations.

THE CUCKOO CALLS AGAIN.

Over a Hundred Officeholders at the Marshalltown Meeting.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Aug. 7.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by chairman Howard at 10:20 A. M. The Convention contains 1,079 delegates, and every county is fully represented.

Rev. Father Linehan opened the convention with prayer.

Mayor Pierce made an address of welcome. Pierce is a Republican but aroused great enthusiasm by telling the convention that the Democratic party was greater than any one sentiment or principle of party.

Judge Nathaniel French, of Davenport, was made temporary chairman, and addressed the convention nearly two hours.

Caucusses this morning, prior to the assembling of convention, by various districts, showed the free silver men to be in a hopeless minority.

The Committee on Resolutions is unanimous for sound money, only two districts having white metal members.

The silver men will introduce a minority report, however, and make a stubborn fight on the floor of the convention.

Judge Babb, of Mount Pleasant will be nominated for Governor, it is thought, by acclamation.

The platform will denounce anti-local law and declare in favor of the manufacture of liquor by the State, reform of the tariff, and the adoption of the Democratic money plank of '92.

There are over a hundred federal office holders in the convention.

The Resolution Committee stalled on financial plank, and will not be ready to report before 4 o'clock. The free coinage plank received but two votes in committee.

When the convention reconvened ex-Senator J. H. Shields, of Dubuque was elected permanent chairman.

MISSISSIPPI'S MEETING.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 7.—The Convention was called to order at 12:0 today by chairman Booth, who suggested Mr. Longstreet, of Grenada, for temporary chairman. He was elected by acclamation.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

DIVIDED, THEY WILL FALL.

Justin McCarthy Speaks of the Mistakes of His Party.

Home Rule for Ireland Can Never be Unless All Pull Together.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the World from London says:

Justin McCarthy, M. P., has addressed the following manifesto to the Irish people here and in America:

"Fellow Countrymen: The election of a great coercionist and anti-home rule majority to the House of Commons makes it my duty to point out to you that dissension in our ranks is ruinous to the national cause; that the only means by which we can hope to repair the disasters which discord and insubordination have brought upon us are through the restoration of discipline and a genuine observance of the Irish nationalists party pledged to act loyally together.

"With a united party in a united country, even the present situation would afford no ground for despondency in the Irish party. No man can doubt but that for unhappy events in the autumn of 1890 the verdict of 1892 in favor of home rule would have been absolutely decisive.

"Friction alone prevented this result. Unhappily this friction has continued since and outbreaks in discipline in our own ranks have given the enemies of Ireland another lease of power in Great Britain.

"In spite of all discouragements and difficulties the national spirit has once again asserted itself. Ireland voted with unconquerable resolve, but it cannot be doubted that Ireland would have done far better still, and Great Britain would not have done so ill, had it not been for the so-called Irish Nationalists, who have been endeavoring openly to bring back the Coercionists to power, and still more in lamentable blows aimed at the Irish party and the Irish national cause by one of our own colleagues in the most critical moment in the elections.

"It would be almost impossible to overestimate the disastrous effects of Mr. Healy's action at the Omagh convention as disloyal to the Irish party, even setting aside our own special obligations to each other as a breach of ordinary code of honor and discipline essential to the existence of every political organization.

"The Omagh scandal is unhappily only the latest of a series of attacks on the unity and efficiency of the Irish party. Let us endeavor that it shall be the last.

"Convinced as I am of the injury such actions have already inflicted on our great national cause and of the injury their repetition causes, I feel bound on the eve of the meeting of Parliament to address a respectful word of warning to our fellow countrymen and to inform my colleagues frankly of the views I hold—views which, in case I am honored by a reelection to the chair of the party, it will be my duty to my utmost power to enforce.

(Signed) JUSTIN M'CARTHY."

Fine Exhibitions of Sailing at the Cowes Regatta.

The Jubilee Will Race Against the Defender at Newport.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—The yacht races for today were postponed on account of rain. The regatta committee has decided to formally consider Mr. Willard's letter of protest and take such action upon it as may be deemed necessary. It is hoped arrangements may be arrived at which will allow the racing between the Defender and the Vigilant to be resumed.

This afternoon it is stated the Jubilee will undoubtedly compete with the Defender tomorrow even if the Vigilant does not go into the race.

THE ENGLISH RACES.

COWES, Aug. 7.—The Britannia, Ailsa and Hester started today in the race for the big Single Stickers under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Squadron regatta.

The Prince of Wales' yacht had a long way the best of the start. The Hester was recalled and she crossed the line on the wrong side of the mark boat.

In the twenty-raters race the Audrey, Luna, Stephania, Inyoni, Niagara, Ventea and Isolde started.

In the cruiser race for a £20 cup the Zampa, Cetonia, Amphitrite and Water Witch started. The Zampa led at the start, but was overtaken by the Cetonia.

The Britannia won the race for the big cutters.

The following were the times at the finish:

Britannia, 2h 39m .05s; Ailsa, 2h 46m 28s.

The race for twenty-raters was stopped at the end of the first round. The times were:

Audrey, 1h 50m 20s; Niagara, 1h 51m 47s; Isolde, 1h 52m 52s; Stephanie, 1h 54m 56s; Luna, 1h 55m 10s.

The Inyoni withdrew and did not finish the first round.

In the cruiser race the Zampa won. The times were:

Zampa, 2h 56m 55s; Amphitrite, 3h 10m .04s; Cetnia, 3h 19m 20s.

The Amphitrite lodged a protest against the Zampa on the ground that the latter had not sailed the race in the proper cruising trim.

HE HAD TO FLEE.

James White Is Seeking Heavy Damages From George Peterman.

James White brought suit this afternoon against George Peterman of Mount Eden, a young man under age, who, it is claimed, had an altercation with White who demands $25,000 damages.

White says that on the 26th of last month while he was standing in the postoffice at Mount Eden Peterman turned a pistol on him and threatened to shoot him. This act," related White, "put him in fear of his life and maliciously caused him to flee to a place of safety to avoid being injured by the defendant." For this, White seeks damages as related.

An Election Coming for First Lieutenant of the Guard.

L. N. Cobbledick, battalion adjutant, Fifth Infantry, has had experience in all the camps of his command, and especially during the stirring times of the strike on the railroad a year ago.

But in all his warlike career he never realized what guerilla warfare meant until a few nights ago.

He was in camp with a number of friends in the hills beyond Trestle Glen and, in the morning, he awoke and discovered that his camp had been raided during the night and that he was left bereft of everything save almost everything save a well developed desire to cultivate an acquaintance with the unknown guerilla. Among the appendages of Cobbledick's habiliments was a valuable glazier's diamond, which the owner greatly appreciated.

Next Monday night there will be an election to fill the position of first Lieutenant of A Company, Fifth Regiment of Infantry, National Guards of California, made vacant by the resignation of J. L. Cavasso.

It is thought that Second Lieutenant W. T. Peterson will be raised to the vacant place. There are understood to be several dark horses ready to succeed Peterson as second lieutenant but their names have not come to the surface.

There will be a battalion drill of Companies A and F, tomorrow night.

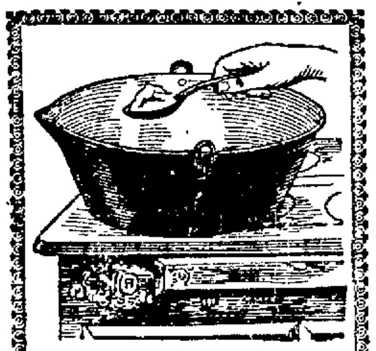
COTTOLENE.



How to Fry with Cottolene

Fry everything from potato chips to doughnuts in Cottolene. Put Cottolene in a cold pan—heat it slowly until it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Then put in your food. It will pay you to try Cottolene just this way—see how delicious and wholesome it makes the food.

Get the genuine, sold everywhere in one, three, and five pound tins, with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and steer's head in cotton plant wreath—on every tin.

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 8, 1895.

The Postmaster-General has published a list of thirty leading cities in which there has been a substantial increase of postal receipts during the last quarter. The two cities in which there has been a notable decrease are Washington and San Francisco: in the former the falling off is explained by the absence of Congress. But how is the decrease in the receipts of the post-office at San Francisco to be explained? This shrinkage of receipts is not large, but it suggests that there must be something wrong when it is seen that all other commercial cities made substantial gains.

At the Camp Roache summer school A. P. Hayne, one of the lecturers, got hold of a live subject. The phylloxera had already destroyed thousands of acres of the best vineyards in the State.

The apathy of the wine growers was dwelt upon, showing how they could have given their vineyards a twenty years' lease of life had they had the courage to face the truth and deal with the pest with the energy that the Swiss nation did. After four years of personal observation and study in Europe the gentleman announced it as his opinion that every vine of the Vitis vinifera on its own roots was doomed to ultimate destruction from this pest.

"This," he said, "is no idea of my own, but is the lesson that has been learned from a thirty years' struggle with this insect in the Old World, where it has devastated millions of acres. It has been found possible to postpone the destruction of vineyards, but no one expects to be able to keep it down for all time. The day will come—and is not far off—when every vine in the world will be grown on resistant American roots."

The Sick Governor.

For the last six weeks or more the report has gone out that "Governor Budd is a sick man." That report has been confirmed by the later news of an attack of meningitis. That is a brain disease from which if there is a recovery, a long period of rest is required. It would be unfortunate at this juncture if the Governor should be laid aside, by a long illness. He has been a very active executive. From the day he took office he has given an amount of personal attention to public affairs that has had few precedents in that office. He has made his influence felt. If there was a suspicion that anything was wrong in any office or institution in which the State had an interest, the Governor was sure to drop down at that particular point and look into matters. He would come and go without warning.

He made a personal inspection of the foundation for the ferry depot in San Francisco. He visited the San Quentin prison and made a thorough examination of matters that had been called in question there. It is true he did not find any abuses at either point, but as an executive he knew exactly what had been done. He dropped down at other institutions in the most informal way. It had come to be understood that the State had a live Governor and no mere stick. No doubt he has carried too much weight. The politicians and office hunters have vexed him sorely. He has had a laudable ambition to make a faithful and efficient executive. His official career thus far has won for him praise from all parties.

The last Democratic Governor of California died in office. He also had by his initial work given promise of a satisfactory public career. The vacancy was filled by the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, who was something of an accident. He was a well-meaning man, whose negative virtues hardly made amends for his incapacity in office. The present Lieutenant-Governor is also a Republican, who has been laid aside by illness ever since his election. That circumstance would add greatly to the public misfortune if Governor Budd should be permanently disabled. The public without respect to party lines will hope for his speedy recovery and that the executive work so well begun may be rounded up for a full term of honorable public service.

One Bridge Across the Estuary.

Colonel G. H. Mendell, the Government engineer, in his communication to the Supervisors of Alameda county, has voiced public opinion as it has been expressed during the past five years. There are two poor draw bridges across the estuary where there should be one good one, with a greater width for the passage of vessels. There can be no doubt that these bridges are an unnecessary obstruction to navigation. The Government has spent a very large sum in improving the water way and will probably continue such expenditures until a perfect ship channel has been made. A great deal of work has been done by way of deepening the estuary above these draw bridges. It is now all navigable water for craft of moderate size.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company owns one of these bridges and has an interest in the one crossed by the narrow gauge track. It is hoped that the company will fall in with the views expressed by Colonel Mendell. It is not known to the public that there is any difference of opinion. The Webster street bridge is in poor condition. It has long been an obstruction to the free navigation of the estuary. Two narrow draw bridges close together have about had their day. One bridge with a wide water way and tracks for all trains with an ample roadway for cars and carriages is what the public convenience demands and substantially what a government engineer recommends.

The Failure of a Colony.

Some time ago many handsome things were said about a colony enterprise undertaken by negroes from this country in Mexico. They were to have land practically free and some other important concessions. There would be no color line in that country. The climate also would be favorable. There would be an abundance with very few privations. Several hundred negroes preferred these advantages with Mexican citizenship to American citizenship and more work. Now the negro colony in Mexico has been a flat failure if their own testimony is to be credited. Two hundred or more of these colonists have been working their way back to the United States. They tell a pitiful story of starvation and sickness. The war department has sent 1,500 rations to these depressed blacks. Possibly the most unfortunate side of the picture has been presented. But colonists reduced to starvation and struggling back to their old homes, hardly need any extra coloring.

A short time ago an effort was made among the colored men of the Southern states to increase emigration to Liberia. Small farms were offered to colonists. The inducements were so strong that numbers of negroes set out for Liberia. The first of the disappointed colonists have already returned. They tell the same pitiful story of sickness and privations. They were reduced to starvation or so nearly that they were willing to eat snakes or any other repulsive food to preserve life.

Now the difficulty in these instances was not in the countries sought. Mexico is a good country. It has a good climate, and is wonderfully productive. Liberia, in Western Africa, is a negro Republic. But it never would have been founded had it not been for the assistance rendered by white men. In fact, they founded that state for the benefit of colored men sent out from the United States. The scheme of colonization embraced the transportation of manumitted slaves and as many free colored people as could be induced to go there. But the colony never attained more than a moderate degree of prosperity; and it probably would not be in existence today had it not been sustained by the liberal appropriation of money by white men.

The moral of all this, if there is any, is that the negro is not anywhere a good colonist. He has none of the aggressive strength and the sturdy persistence in overcoming difficulties that are requisite for successful colonists. He could not find a country made for him in Mexico. Plantains and bananas would not grow without labor. Long days of self-denial necessary in the construction of new homes did not suit this soft tropical man. The bounty of earth and sky and sea in Liberia would not compensate for the disadvantage of a little coast fever, and some hard work to get firmly established. The black man is nowhere a successful colonist. He would lie down and die where an energetic white man would be glad to have a chance to rustle for a living.

The New Fuel Experiments.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will soon make experiments with petroleum as fuel on the ferry trains of Oakland. It is hoped that these experiments will be more successful than those tried three or four years ago on the Piedmont steamer. As near as could be ascertained by outsiders, the fuel cost about as much as coal. At all events the experiments were not satisfactory. If there had been an essential saving it is not at all likely that the experiment would have been suddenly dropped. At that time there was no great amount of petroleum taken from the wells in this State; and none probably that could have been bought at 75 cents a barrel.

The fact that six or eight locomotives are now driven on Southern California roads by crude petroleum goes some way to show that experiments with this fuel for locomotives are successful. The whole question is an economical one. If it can be shown that the use of petroleum would effect a saving of a dollar a ton, or even half that money measured by the coal standard, the change would follow quick enough. No railway company in this vicinity is going to lose the advantage of a dollar, or even half a dollar a ton for coal through any conservative opposition to a change. The Piedmont experiment was a very clumsy one. There are experts now and patents that may go far to make the change a success.

An Illustration of Anarchy.

Illinois has had more trouble with anarchists than any other State in the Union. At the Spring Valley coal mines the Italians, the greater part of whom are foreigners, undertook to drive out all the colored miners, who are American born citizens. The colored men were peaceable laborers. They engaged in no strike. They had been introduced as miners because they made no trouble. But the Italians, who are mostly anarchists, determined to drive them out. They began to slaughter colored men and their helpless families. It is the old devilry at New Orleans repeated in a worse form in Illinois. All negro workers had been ordered to leave the town. These anarchists held mass meetings and resolved that all colored men must leave the place and take their property with them. If they left any behind it would be destroyed. These Italians proposed to govern a part of the country in their own way. Men of that class invited extermination at New Orleans. They are now inviting it in Illinois. Governor Altgeld has shown so much sympathy with the lawless element that no aid in stopping the slaughter of American citizens can be expected from him. After a settlement has been made with Italian anarchists it might be worth while to make a settlement with Altgeld.

A Specimen English Election.

Rider Haggard knows how it is now. He ran in a district for Parliament against a young English lord, the son of the Earl of Kimberley. The young fellow not only used foul language, but led a gang of ruffians to break up a Unionist meeting. Haggard himself was buffeted and mobbed. The election was carried against him by violence on the part of this young sprig of aristocracy, and by the aid also of his father's money. The old Earl was on his metal. He had been roughly handled for his administration in South Africa in one of Haggard's novels. He went for the latter's political scalp and got it.

A great deal has been said and written about British fair play. But it can be about as brutally foul in England as in any country in the world. Meetings held by one political party are frequently broken up by the opposition party. Sticks are freely used. After one of these scrimmages broken heads are patched up, free speech is tolerated until the next meeting is held, and "fair play" is the same jewel as before.

It is a rare circumstance that a political meeting is broken up anywhere in the United States. Americans reverence free speech. If they sometimes are a little disorderly they are quick to make the reparation. They don't consider it fair play to hustle an opponent off the platform. He must have his free speech, even if it is very offensive. There is a great deal of brutality at English elections. The one redeeming fact is that if a candidate has been elected by foul play he is pretty sure to be unseated when a Parliamentary committee sits on his case. Rider Haggard ought to have been beaten by honest means.

The hitch in the payment of the sugar bounty, payment of which had been provided by the last Congress, will work a great deal of hardship where, as in Louisiana, loans had been made on the faith of these bounty payments. Controller Bowler stopped the payments, in accordance, probably, with the advice of his superiors. The money has been appropriated. The last act of hostility of the present administration towards the sugar men is consistent with all preceding ones in that direction.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

At Rochester, New York, a peculiar action is about to be commenced in the Supreme Court as to the result of the bursting of a pneumatic tire on a bicycle ridden by a Buffalo man, who gave his name as Francis Lauer. The tire, it appeared, had been punctured some time before, and Lauer inserted a rubber plug in the hole. The plug blew out and hit one Adams in the eye as he was riding in one of the parks May 1th last. Adams asks for $5,000 damages. At Birmingham, N. Y., a rider who was seriously hurt by the front forks of his machine breaking, has threatened to bring suit against the maker of the wheel.

A novel and sensible dressmaking establishment has been started in London by a company of young women. They take last season's dresses and make them over in the prevailing fashion. No entirely new materials are taken. The scheme pays the persons who have undertaken it, and it is a godsend to women who want to keep in style without impoverishing themselves and their families.

One of the most remarkable exports of the gold coast is that of monkey skins. During the last five years an average of 175,000 skins, valued at $1 0,000, have been annually exported. Only skins in good condition and with few shot holes are taken.

Dr. F. J. Furnival has come to the conclusion that we have been mispronouncing Shakespeare's name. He called himself Shahkspair, as though he were a Frenchman.

Nearly $400,000 is the amount obtained from the bicycle tax this year by the French Government, the number of machines declared being just under 200,000. They are well spread over the whole country, since Paris and the Department of the Seine return 38,000, less than a fifth of the total.

Max Muller insists that the oldest book in the world is the Rig Veda, which was in existence, complete as we now have it, 1,500 years before Christ, and not the so-called "Book of the Dead" from Egypt, consisting of disjointed fragments, collected from many sources, the earliest of which may possibly be dated as early as 6000 B. C.

Paris, through its Municipal Council, has voted the 20,000,000 francs apportioned by the State as the city's share of the cost of the 1900 Exhibition. The city will pay the money to the State in five yearly payments, beginning with 1896. Whatever profits are made will be divided between the city and the State. The cost of the Exhibition is estimated at 100,000,000 francs.

Liberal newspapers are trying to derive comfort for their defeat from the fact that coalition Ministries have never lasted long. That of Lord North and Fox in 1782 lasted only eight months a half, "All the Talents" only thirteen months, from February, 1806, to March, 1837, and that of the Whigs and Peelites, under Lord Aberdeen a little over two years, from December, 1852, to February, 1855. It is an unfortunate analogy for them, as the first two coalitions were followed each by eighteen years of unbroken Tory rule, while the Liberal Government that followed the last was only three years in office.

The United States Court in Chicago has played matador to the bull of the old Whiskey Trust by declaring the receivership of General McNulta permanent, and ordering him to sell all his property not heretofore sold by him, and distribute the proceeds and all other assets among the stockholders by September 1st next. This disposes—probably—of the old book-snake maker, and opens the way for a campaign by a new one.—Traveler.

At a general court of the Hudson Bay Company, held in London lately, the profits for the year were declared to be $300,000, almost exclusively from furs, giving a dividend of $3 per share.

Mr. Navroji, the Radical Hindu, has been defeated for Parliament in Finsbury, but Mr. Manchorjee Merwangee Bhownaggree, a Conservative Parsee from Bombay, has been elected in Bethnal Green.

The new woman is thus properly sized up by the veteran editor, Chas. A. Dana, of the New York Sun: "The new woman? Nonsense! Let her rig herself up as she pleases. Let her talk as she will, she is and always will be the same dear old girl."

According to official statistics our petroleum exports for the fiscal year fell off in quantity but increased in gross value, so that we got $5,169,000 more for 23,000,000 less barrels than we shipped last year. This is accounted for by the fact that between December 30, 1894, and April 17, 1895, the price of petroleum was forced up 300 per cent. Prices have reacted from $2.70 to $1.50 a barrel, but this is probably due to the falling off in consumption incident to the higher price. It is believed that the international combination still holds.—World.

Guerrita, "the famous Spanish bull-fighter" who wishes to give an exhibition at Atlanta, is not wanted in the United States. It is explained by some that he "would not be allowed to hurt the bull," but if he were not the alleged "fight" would be a humbug—a catchpenny fraud of the worst kind. If we are to have any sort of bull-fight let us have a genuine one for our money. But we want none at all. This is the United States of America, and the people of Georgia are Americans, not bull-fighting barbarians.—World.

Sarah Bernhardt has decided to write her memoirs, but not until she has definitely retired from the stage. Many publishers have asked her to prepare an autobiography for them; and one offer, made by an American house, was based on the idea that 5,000 subscribers would pay $40 for a copy of the work in an addition de luxe.

Guiseppe Ferrari, professor of wood carving in the Philadelphia School of Design for Women has been knighted by the Italian King for his work at the World's Fair. He had previously been decorated by the Queen Regent of Spain for a similar reason.

A case of prolonged hiccoughing in an old man of 78, which had lasted twelve days, was cured by an Irish doctor lately, after he had exhausted every remedy he could find, by giving the patient some strong snuff. This set him to sneezing and stopped the hiccoughs at once. This remedy seems to have been administered upon the theory that the hair of the dog is good for the bite.

Persons who are disposed to complain of the bad music and the eccentric practices of the Salvation army are asked to remember that in sixteen of the large cities of America there are 800,000 people of the slum class.

Minneapolis recently imposed a tax on bicycles owned in the city, but omitted to provide means for collecting it. In the hope of landing a few conscientious citizens, public notice has been given of the tax, with the suggestion that although not provided for in the assessment blanks, owners of wheels may return them under personal property if they want to do their whole duty. It is seriously proposed to impose a State tax on typewriting machines in Minnesota next year, and the State expects to raise something like a half million dollars from this source.

Joseph Shannon, the oldest messenger of the Adams Express Company, has killed two robbers, was once desperately wounded in a fight with thieves, and on one other occasion was tortured at intervals for five days without revealing the combination of a safe lock.

"But I am sure she has been using them,' said the lodger, "for there are long black hairs on them, and she is the only person with black hair in the house." "Oh, I remember; she did have them to comb and brush our dear old poodle," said the landlady; "but I am quite sure she did not use them for herself—she's too honest to be guilty of that sort of thing."—Liverpool Porcupine.

FRATERNAL NEWS

Many Grand Lodges Assemble Throughout the State.

GREAT PROGRESS OF RED MEN.

Why Not Have a Reunion of the Grand Army Veterans.

GOSSIP OF THE LOCAL ORDERS.

Social Entertainments Happily Blended With Work.

The present week has been remarkable for the number of grand lodges of fraternal orders which have met in annual session in this State, among them being noticed those of the Redmen in Redwood City, the Colored Odd Fellows and Young Men's Catholic Union in San Francisco; the Grand Council of the Degree of Pocahontas, and the encampment of G. A. R. veterans of Southern California in Santa Monica. The last mentioned assemblage, however, is not a delegate gathering. To it are admitted any veterans who enjoy the honor of having fought for their country, either in the late rebellion or in any of the earlier wars of the nation.

The telegraphic columns of the daily press have been filled with reports of these gatherings, and the stories told of them may not be read by veterans in this part of the State without a feeling of regret that they are denied the pleasure which their brothers in the South would thoroughly enjoy. It is somewhat remarkable that there is in this State only one district encampment and that it is confined to the extreme southern part of the State. This is all the more strange when it is considered that there are a great many more veterans in the northern section than there are in the other extremity of California.

There is absolutely no good reason why the veteran encampment of California should be confined to the south, even admitting that many of the old soldiers in that section have come at more recent periods from the East and still enjoy eastern customs. They are not more reminiscent than their northern brothers. They are not more liberally endowed with the good things of this world, neither can they more thoroughly enjoy an outing than the veterans in this section. It may, therefore, be asked why the veterans of the northern part of California have no such gathering, and the answer is because, thus far, no person desires to take the initiative in establishing a reunion here.

In the east, in many of the States, the location of the encampment is determined by the departmental encampment of the G. A. R. Towns put in bids for it through the delegates of their G. A. R. posts. It is always a source of revenue to the town to which it is awarded.

In return for this advantage, and also by way of showing its appreciation of the defenders of the country, the town designated for the encampment, furnishes, free for all, the tents, wood, hay, straw, and water required to make the encampment a success. The departmental commander of the G. A. R. assumes command of the camp and appoints the usual officers, though the heaviest part of the actual camp work is looked after by the town committee of citizens.

At some of those encampments, thousands of veterans assemble. They are furnished reduced rates on the railroads and hundreds of them take their families into encampment with them. Others drive to the camp in their wagons or ride thither on their farm horses, twenty, thirty, fifty miles. Some of them carry their cows with them so that they can live at absolutely first cost, having to pay for nothing save the few luxuries which they may want while in camp and which they may not have brought with them.

As a great family gathering of the nation's devoted sons, rich and poor, learned and illiterate, humble and distinguished, the counterpart can be found in no other gathering in the Union. The indescribable pleasures of camp life in war days are recalled; songs are sung; stories are told; sham-battles are fought; brass bands from various sections in gorgeous array, parade for the edification of the beholder, and then, on one day, there is a great triumphal march, which is carried out to recall the great review in Washington. If there are twenty bands in the camp they are merged in one, and, under one drum major they play their marches in unison. This is a spectacle that is most inspiring. It is a living lesson in patriotism that cannot be forgotten.

At night, in a large central tent, there are held the camp fires, and there is no veteran so humble that his comrades will not listen to his "experience," and, in those gatherings, the writer has heard United States senators telling modest soldiers to "Go on, go on with your story."

There are also reunions of regiments by States, the names of the States which sent soldiers to the field being called on the great parade ground in alphabetical order. As each State is called the veterans who enlisted in it assemble in a circle, and this meeting frequently brings together soldiers who have not met since they were mustered out of the service.

Many of the States so represented have organizations which publish rosters annually showing, for instance, if the reunion should be held in California, how many soldiers of Massachusetts, New York or any other State as the case may be reside in California. There are dozens of other features connected with these reunions which need not be enumerated here for the purpose of showing how greatly they cater to a soldier's pleasure. In some places the State reunions are "located" in one place for five consecutive years. This plan has many friends, as has also that of changing the location every year.

In places where district reunions obtain the management is exclusively in the hands of the local committees. The desire for the introduction of this system of encampment is being felt in this section. The Tribune is glad to note, on the authority of Capt. C. K. King of this city, to whom the matter was referred today.

"I am sorry," said he, "we have no soldiers' reunions in this section; but I understand that the veterans in San Francisco have at length concluded to do something in that direction. There are a number of places around here where veterans could go into camp, and I know there are plenty of soldiers who would be willing to go if the opportunity were afforded them. I am willing to do all I can to help in the matter."

Major E. W. Woodward said: "The veterans of this part of the State do not attend the reunion in the South because the distance is too great for many of them, although they have all been invited and all of them are welcome. We should have a reunion of our own nearer home. The soldiers in this county never meet those in Santa Clara county and vice versa. They need an outing as well as anybody and are practically about the only people, considering their numbers, who do not have a grand reunion. I mean something outside of their department encampment, which is convened mainly for business. I am heartily in favor of a move for a soldiers' reunion. The association could include a number of the counties in this section and I am sure it could be made a success. If The Tribune will take the initiative I am sure that a plan will be devised that will make the undertaking a success."

NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

The national encampment G. A. R. will be held in Louisville early next month. Among the well-known members of the order in this State who will attend are Charles E. Wilson, department commander; T. C. Masteller, assistant adjutant-general; A. J. Buckles, William R. Smedberg, R. H. Warfield, C. Mason Kinne, A. W. Barrett, L. H. Burbeck, J. B. Lauck and Dr. S. American. They will leave for Louisville Sept. 6th.

The leading candidates for commander-in-chief are Col. I. N. Walker of Indiana and Major Thaddeus Clarkson of Omaha, Neb. St. Paul is slated for the next national encampment in 1896, and Baltimore for 1897. San Francisco will not make a move to secure the encampment until probably 1899 or 1900. She held the encampment in 1886.

Improved Order Red Men.

The most successful gathering of Red Men ever held in this State is now in progress in Redwood City, where the grand council of the order is in session. There are forty tribes represented by about two hundred braves. The meetings of the great council are held in Turner hall, but in the public square there is an Indian village with tepees belonging to each tribe. In the middle of the village there is a "long house," or in the technical language of the order a "Houdano Suanee," which has been provided for the entertainment and reception of the great chiefs.

This has been thronged during the intervals of rest after the labors of the council sessions. Small council fires have been maintained in various parts of the village since the opening of the gathering, while near the "long house" a brilliant council fire of large dimensions has been kept liberally supplied with fuel.

Last Monday Mineola council, Pocahontas degree, received the visiting chiefs and braves, and, after the reception, the vistors called in a body at the lodge of the Melamora tribe, the local organization. On Tuesday the braves were welcomed by Mayor Gordon and a number of interesting addresses were delivered, interspersed with musical features.

The reports show that the order has prospered greatly during the past year. The membership in this State is 2,000, distributed among 39 tribes and 11 councils of the degree of Pocahontas. During the past year there was an increase of four new tribes, three councils and 639 members. The interior tribes have property valued at $101,365. The Red Men's Hall Association has a building in San Francisco valued at $100,000. The money distributed in relief work the past year amounted to $18,659, and there is now available for the same purposes $30,976.33. The receipts during the year were $61,352.

Tecumseh, No. 62—William Britt, Geo. A. Young.

Grey Eagle, No. 65—J. G. Hanks, E. E. Fall, J. E. McElrath, W. H. H. Hussey.

Pawnee, No. 67—G. H. Noble, C. Fischer, W. J. Robinson, H. C. Steward.

Comanche, No. 79—H. W. Whipple, E. J. Leonard.

Masonic.

A legal question of some interest to Masons at large is now the subject of attention on the part of Masons in Stockton and is set forth as follows in the Independent of that city:

"All the members of Stockton chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who could be found yesterday were served with summons to answer the suit of Powell S. Lawson in Sacramento to prevent his expulsion from that branch of Masonry.

"The suit is one of the many phases of a conflict that has arisen, been fought over, healed and broken out again in many Masonic jurisdictions for many years over the so-called Scottish rite.

"Lawson is a member of a "consistory" of that rite in Sacramento, a body that is looked upon by the Knights Templar as clandestine, inasmuch as it confers twenty-six degrees, including those of the Templars, without asking the authority of the local commandery of that order. In some places these consistories confer the twenty-nine degrees from "ancient craft" or "blue lodge" Masonry to the thirty-second degree.

"The charge against Lawson in the Royal Arch chapter to which he belongs is the violation of an unwritten but well understood law against soliciting persons to enter Masonic bodies, members of the body to which he belongs from acting, but it is not made clear why members of Stockton chapter should be joined as defendants.

"The meat of the conflict in most cases is the reaching out of consistories working in the Scottish rite body for the Knights Templars, instead of requiring candidates to be Knights as a pre-requisite to admission to the higher degrees, sometimes called "ineffable."

The "short cut" was once so cheap in Chicago that a Master Mason could get the twenty-nine extra degrees at an expense of from $10 to $20, while to go through the intermediate bodies would cost $100. After a conflict like that going on in Sacramento, lasting for a year or more, the matter was settled and the so-called clandestine consistory was recognized as regular without a resort to the courts.

"This will probably be the ultimate result in Sacramento when roused passion has subsided and the new consistory feels strong enough.

"Interest in the present suit is increased by the fact that Lawson, the plaintiff, is a forty-niner, an ex-president of the Sacramento Society of California Pioneers, a man of some wealth and standing, and has for more than thirty years been a member of the chapter from which it is sought to expel him, and for more than a quarter of a century a Knight Templar."

Young Men's Catholic Union.

The eighth grand council of the Young Men's Catholic Union is in session in San Francisco. The sessions are attended by about fifty delegates.

The grand president is P. N. Hanrahan of De Sales Assembly of this city, who occupied the chair at the first session Monday night and at all the succeeding meetings. In his opening address Mr. Hanrahan congratulated the members on the progress which had been made by the organization during the past year.

The report of the grand treasurer, James English, showed that $1,000.75 had been expended during the past year among the families of ten deceased members.

The report of the grand secretary showed that the order has eleven assemblies throughout the State with a membership of 1,250, of whom 10 had joined since the meeting of the last grand council.

The election of grand officers will take place tonight.

An effort to abolish death benefits was defeated yesterday.

A proposition to reduce the initiation fee in subordinate assemblies was also defeated.

Foresters of America.

The meeting of Court United States of America, No. 77E, A. O. F. of A., was well attended last Tuesday evening. The members are taking an active interest in the court and, with the able assistance of Chief Ranger R. Rosenberg and the other officers, the time is not far distant when the court will become the banner one of the order.

Chief Ranger Rosenberg will present a member's certificate framed and mounted on an easel to the brother bringing in the largest number of members during his term of office.

The A. O. F. of A. and Companions of the Forest are to have a hall of their own. Court United States has appointed a committee of two to act in conjunction with a like committee to be appointed by the various courts and circles in Oakland to either lease or build a hall for the use of the various organizations of the order in this city.

Brother A. H. Rhein, a past chief ranger of Court Junstice, No. 7782, of San Francisco now a resident of Oakland, has received the appointment of deputy grand chief ranger for Court United States of America, No. 77-1.

Court United States will pay a fraternal visit to Court Alisal, No. 8 79, of Pleasanton soon. It intends also to visit all the courts in Alameda county. The different courts will be informed when they will be called upon.

Companions of the Forest.

United States of America Circle, No. 260, held one of its interesting meetings last Monday evening. One application was received.

There were visitors present from Excelsior circle of San Francisco and Oakland circle of this city. Deputy Mrs. Worms, assisted by Mrs. Ray Cohen, installed R. Rosenberg as financial secretary and Miss Fanny Lewis as treasurer. Under "good and welfare," etc., remarks were made by all the visitors.

United States circle will pay a fraternal visit to Excelsior circle of San Francisco this evening. All those desiring to go will meet at Seventh and Washington streets in time to take the 8 o'clock train.

Companion Mrs. Freda Jacobs, chairman of the social committee, has arranged a splendid programme for the entertainment and social to be given Monday evening, August 12th. The programme will consist of club swinging, recitations, songs and fancy dancing.

Odd Fellows.

Brooklyn Lodge, No. 2, gave a social at I. O. O. F. hall last Monday evening. Quite a large delegation of members of sister lodges was present. On August 15th Haywards Rebekah lodge of Haywards will have an initiation and Brooklyn lodge has been invited to do the work.

Rebekah Degree.

Abset Invidia Lodge, No. 11, will give a social and dance at Enterprise hall, Twenty-second and Grove streets, on Tuesday evening, August 20th, to which the public will be welcome.

Sunset Rebekah Lodge, No. 109, will initiate three candidates Friday evening, August 16th. Sister lodges are cordially invited to be present and are welcome at Bartlett hall, corner of Seventh and Pine street, every Friday evening.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge, No. 16, will give a dime social next Saturday evening at Fraternal hall, corner Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Order Star of Bethlehem.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 16, Order Star of Bethlehem, will give a social and dance next Wednesday evening at California hall, on Clay, near Eleventh street.

Knights Templar.

Preparations are now nearly completed for the pilgrimage of the three California commanderies of Knights Templar who will attend the great triennial conclave which opens the latter part of this month at Boston. California Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco will leave at 8 A. M. on the 18th, Golden Gate, No. 16, will leave at 8 P. M. on the same day and Oakland, No. 11, will leave at 8 P. M. on the 19th. Each will have a special train, and about sixty Knights from each commandery will make the journey. Including the families and friends of the Knights, about 300 people will journey across the continent to the Hub.

Last Monday evening Past Master Workman Charles Snook gave an address upon the "Thousand Membership Club" before Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 33, A. O. U. W., in Syndicate hall. The address was one of the most eloquent dissertations ever delivered before the order in this city. At its conclusion Brother Snook received the highest compliments on all sides for his effort.

Knights of Pythias.

Twenty-five years is a long time, where one considers it as a fraction of a century, but it seems a great deal longer when it is considered as the age, in a new country, of a benevolent organization.

On next Wednesday evening Live Oak Lodge, No. 17, K. of P., will attain to its twenty-fifth year and on that evening will celebrate its silver jubilee in a very enjoyable manner. Grand Chancellor Samuels of this city is a member of this lodge. He is now making his official visit to lodges throughout the jurisdiction, but he will be present at this gathering. So will several other grand officers.

H. A. Holland, secretary of the lodge, has issued a circular to the members, which will give an idea of the manner in which the anniversary will be celebrated. It runs as follows:

"On Wednesday evening, Aug. 14, this lodge will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary by an 'at home' social, consisting of a literary and musical entertainment, followed by light refreshments.

"The evening will be devoted exclusively to the members of this lodge and their immediate families.

"You are, therefore, earnestly requested to come, bringing your family with you.

"As no money can be taken from the lodge fund for socials of this character, the committee has decided to ask donations of cake, fruit and ice cream from the members—in this way: Those having wives to furnish cakes, and those not so fortunate to give fruit or cash for the ice cream.

"The committee also desires to state that large donations are not expected, leaving that matter entirely to your own good judgment.

"We ask you to be sure and come. Let us meet and have a good social time together—the cost will be light and the pleasure great."

THE GRAND CHANCELLOR.

Grand Chancellor Samuels paid an official visit to Washington lodge in Vallejo last night. He was very hospitably entertained. The new officers of the lodge were installed, the grand chancellor being assisted in his work by Deputy Grand Chancellor Rawleigh Barcar of Vacaville.

OAKLAND LODGE.

At the last meeting of Oakland Lodge, No. 103, Brother O'Neill initiated the following brothers into the new degree of the Grand Orient: A. C. Aldrich, Solly Cohn, Caesar Isaacs, Manny Cohn, Samuel Ferris, Benjamin Gans, M. T. Conway, S. Grush and E. W. Griffin.

After taking the degree the members organized as Oakland Council, No. 1, and elected the following officers: grand orient, A. V. O'Neill; grand vice orient, A. C. Aldrich; grand past orient, Solly Cohn; grand prophet, Caesar Isaacs, grand herald, Manny Cohn; grand secretary, Sam Ferris; grand treasurer, Ben Gans; grand wardsman, M. T. Conway; grand vidette, S. Grush; grand G. A. P., E. W. Griffin.

The Grand Orient degree will be conferred every Friday night by Oakland council on all Knights.

All Knights members in good standing are eligible. It is hoped that the brothers of all the Oakland lodges will join the new rank.

It is the intention of Oakland council to spread the new work by organizing several new councils throughout the county, thereby creating new interest in all the lodges.

PYTHIAN JEWELS.

The Fresno Republican details the following as an incident of the late destruction by fire of the court house at that place:

"Some time ago the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias presented Judge Stanton L. Carter with a fine jewel, set with jems. It had an intrinsic value of $100, but its possessor valued it much more than its gold and gems were worth.

"It was in his chambers of the court house when the fire occurred, and in the confusion he failed to get it out, and today he made a diligent search and found it in the ashes. It was not much damaged. A leather case protected it from the fire."

Degree of Honor.

The lodge room of Dawn of Hope Lodge, No. 1, Degree of Honor, presented a very animated and interesting appearance last Saturday evening. It was crowded with delegations from Ivy, Silver Star, Minerva and Golden Dawn lodges, who were imbued with the enthusiastic spirit of the occasion.

The interest was heightened considerably by the presence of a number of grand lodge officers, both of the Degree of Honor and A. O. U. W.

D. D. P. C. of H. Cogan of Ivy lodge faultlessly led the ceremonies, ably assisted by prominent workers of the degree.

The officers installed for the ensuing term were as follows: Past chief of honor, Miss M. Dolan; chief of honor, Miss Nellie Welch; lady of honor, Mrs. E. Murphy; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. A. Musser; sister usher, Mrs. S. Sjoberg; inside warden, Mr. L. Morten; outside warden, Mr. A. Fiske.

The remainder of the evening was given up to amusement of various kinds.

Sister Cogan and Sam Booth shared progression of the order in this State.

Sister Stewart concluded by presenting retiring Chief of Honor Dolan with a richly-jeweled badge, emblematic of the degree and a reminder of her efficient administration. The recipient, in a few words, warmly responded.

After being entertained by pithy addresses by prominent workers and grand officers, the lodge adjourned and all marched to the banquet hall, where the evening was closed in a festive manner over heavily-laden tables.

Order United Workmen.

IVY LODGE, NO 4.

Ivy Lodge, No. 4, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., had a very large number of members present at its last meeting Monday evening, the occasion being the monthly social.

The lodge room was artistically decorated with evergreens and beautiful flowers, which were enhanced by the pretty summer costumes of the ladies.

Delegations were present from Silver Star and Dawn of Hope lodges. One new member was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan read an elaborate report on an important question pertinent to lodge affairs. The subject will be fully discussed next Monday evening. Chief of Honor Mrs. Marks appointed as members of the new attraction committee for the next meeting Sisters Carr, Donaldson and Parkinson.

After the lodge adjourned an excellent programme was rendered. One of the features was guessing how many letters are in the word "boomerangderang chang." Brother Cohen, the linguist of the lodge, said the word was Australian for "osculation." No one disputed such excellent authority. Sisters Wilkinson and Mayon tied their guesses, but in drawing for the prize Sister Wilkinson won. The prize was a beautiful silver souvenir spoon. Sister Carr won the booby prize, a pretty watch charm. The presents were donated by Brother San Samuels.

"The Beautiful Mule," was recited by Brother Isaacs and the animal apostrophised was so realistically represented that Sisters Mayon and Parkinson in great trepidation vacated their chairs.

"I Cannot Leave the Old Folks Now," by Sister Fulcher and her daughter was very sweetly rendered and loudly encored.

The recitation "A Helpmate" by Lady of Honor Mrs. Oakes was splendidly recited.

The song, "You Can't Play in My Back Yard," with guitar accompaniment, by District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan, was sung with that lady's usual sweetness, and in response to an encore she recited "My Josiah."

Another recitation, "Two Little Heads With Curls," by Sister Donaldson, was the gem of the evening, and in response to a hearty encore Mrs. Donaldson recited the humorous piece, "Look Out for the Engine."

Brother Ingersoll convulsed all present with his "Parrot Story," the truth of which he vouches for.

After the musical and literary entertainment all present adjourned to the banquet hall, where justice was done to the spread.

The committee on entertainment, Sisters Samuels, Van Court and Judge deserve great praise for their splendid efforts in getting up one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given under the auspices of the lodge.

Ivy lodge dramatic corps shortly intends to bring out a play on a grand scale.

Chosen Friends.

Unity Council No. 179, Order of Chosen Friends, held a very interesting meeting Thursday last. Many visitors from this city and San Francisco were present to witness the installation of officers. The ceremony was performed by Past Councilor C. M. Havens and F. Welch from San Francisco council. A fine social followed. Several speeches and recitations were delivered and music was rendered till a late hour.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The usual meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will take place at their hall this evening. The members are making great preparations to have their picnic and reunion, a grand affair, on Admission Day at Trestle Glen.

Ancient Order of Foresters.

Since the last meeting of the High Court, A. O. F., ten courts have been organized, two of which are in Oregon.

At the last regular meeting of the executive council, held in San Francisco last Saturday night, a resolution of thanks was adopted, setting forth the appreciation of the committee of the attention paid to the A. O. F. by this department of the Tribune.

Court Advocate a few nights ago paid a fraternal visit to Court Sunset and partook of the Oriental degree, which was conferred by a team of the A. O. U. W.

At the same meeting of Court Sunset nine candidates were initiated.

Court Triumph, recently organized, is receiving applications for membership at every meeting. Chief Ranger M. J. O'Gara is doing splendid work in his new position.

Court University is regaining strength. It had three propositions at its last meeting. A committee is making arrangements for a "bloomer" ball.

Court Advocate intends to make use of all its entertainment fund for the purpose of extending its membership.

Native Sons.

The celebration of Admission Day at Sacramento on September 9th is now beginning to attract attention among the parlors of Native Sons, all of which will attend in uniforms specially designed for the occasion. The first uniform announced is that of Stockton parlor, which comprises white caps, black coats, white trousers, belts of the same color and black shoes. White umbrellas will be carried to protect the Stockton boys from the Sacramento sun. Two cream-colored badges will be worn by each member. On the free end of one of the ribbons will be two lithographs of Stockton as it appeared in 1894 and as it looks in 1895.

Nothing Startling Comes in the Bones Divorce Suit.

No Allmony but the Wife Gets Some Very Valuable Realty.

The domestic difficulties that have for some months past caused a cloud in the family of Conductor Sam W. Bones of the Seventh street local road, were not made the basis of a sensational divorce trial in the Superior Court today as had been expected.

Mrs. Bones left the family fireside some months ago and returned to the old homestead at Ninth and Alice streets, where she has resided with relatives. Some sensational developments were anticipated when the suit for divorce was filed, but the attorneys arranged for a quiet little divorce which was to be granted on the ground of cruelty.

The case was on Judge Frick's calendar today and testimony was taken. The only witness was Mrs. Ellen Bones, the plaintiff, who told her story.

A decree was granted and it included an order for the property interests. Under it Mrs. Bones secured her divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and two valuable pieces of property became hers.

She relinquished her homestead right to property at East Eleventh avenue and Eleventh street and in return secured a deed to the property. She also placed on record today a deed to several fine lots at Ninth and Alice streets.

The custody of the daughter, Cora Jessie, was awarded to Mrs. Bones. Each side paid their own costs and allmony was allowed.

THE LYCEUM COMPANY.

A Big Sale for Good Plays to Be Here Next Week.

"The Case of Rebellious Susan," which the capable Lyceum Theater Company gives at the Macdonough theater Tuesday evening, is one of the most popular of London successes during the past year, and gave great satisfaction at the hands of this company during its four months' run at the Lyceum in New York. An interesting bit of gossip concerning this clever play is the fact that Charles Wyndham, manager of the Criterion theater in London, and well known several years ago in this country as a light comedian, has for several years announced each season that he intended coming to this country on a starring tour. Each season he has finally abandoned the idea because of a lack of suitable plays.

When he produced Henry Arthur Jones' attractive comedy, "The Case of Rebellious Susan," at his theater, and it made so pronounced a hit, he decided that he at last had the play which would serve as a vehicle for his American tour. He waited, to be absolutely positive that its popularity was not ephemeral, and then told Jones he would take the American rights.

"Sorry," said Jones, "but the American rights have been sold to Daniel Frohman."

"Then let me have the rights for your other play, 'The Bauble Shop.'"

"Sorry once more," said Jones, "that is also sold to the Frohmans for Jean Drew."

If Mr. Wyndham ever does visit America again, it will probably be "by permission of Mr. Daniel Frohman."

The Lyceum Company will remain here for three nights and a Wednesday matinee. The sale of seats commenced this morning and was very spirited. The repertoire will be: "The Case of Rebellious Susan," Tuesday night; "The Wife," Wednesday matinee, "An Ideal Husband," Wednesday night; and "The Amazons," Thursday night.

THE POLICE ROUND-UP.

A Variety of Cases Disposed of by Judge Wood.

"I don't owe yez a cint and yer were mad 'cause I wouldn't mate yer and yer come to de house after spite," said "Sadie" White today while giving testimony in the case of the People vs. Fitzpatrick, "and yer gim'me de pieter."

Judge Wood did not think the Police Court a proper place to adjust lovers' quarrels and found Fitzpatrick not guilty of disturbing the peace.

Phillip Shepard pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace of Mrs. L. Sabrine. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

Jacob Neill, charged with violating an ordinance, was continued until tomorrow for the defendant to plead.

W. R. Walker in trouble over his love affairs, will have his preliminary examination on August 9th.

Toney Tuohy, E. Troey, and E. C. Hitchcock, who, while in a state of joy produced by an overindulgence in the flowing bowl, threw the furniture out of the windows of the Weber House, were brought into court this morning charged with disturbing the peace. No complaint had been filed and the cases were continued until August 9th.

A Call for Dr. Chapman.

Rev. E. S. Chapman was unanimously called to the pulpit of the Market street Congregational Church at a meeting of the society held last night. His name was suggested by Rev. J. H. Goodell, the retiring pastor. The present salary of the position is $1,000 a year, but it is expected that it will be increased later. Messrs. D. Craig, W. S. Merriam and J. C. McCloud were appointed a committee to confer with Dr. Chapman regarding his acceptance of the call.

Dr. Chapman was seen by a Tribune reporter today and asked whether he proposed to accept the call of the church in question and said:

"The invitation came to me unsolicited and unexpected. I have not had time to see the committee or to look over the field. From what I know of the field it is a good opening for one whose chief desire is to do good work. I cannot now state anything about the probability of my decision in the matter."

THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER
It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!
Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all; therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one iota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly, greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention; and is based solely upon scientific principles. THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LIES IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is this, gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet, mixes quickly with the air and passes off not giving time for the light to take up from the air all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore it passes off and is wasted. But in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle-pointed perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the blaze supplies sufficient air for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore NO WASTE OF GAS, NO BLUE BLASE; all turned to light.

See what prominent business men and people you know say of it:

Please have one of your representatives call on us about the 15th of May.

RUNNING A WESTERN BANK.

The Clients Aren't Much on Figures, But Know Money When They See It.

It was a new bank in a new town in Colorado. As the "institution" opened for business in the morning a crowd of 200 men gathered and when the banker asked what was wanted the man who had been appointed spokesman replied:

"It's just this, Jim: We can't make out that monthly statement you got out yesterday."

"What's wrong with it?"

"She says deposits amount to $7000 and cash on hand $9000."

"Well, that's correct, and I can't see where you have any fault to find," said the President.

"Yes, but the boys don't go much on figgers. Figgers kin be twisted all around, you know. Have you got them 'ere $9000 handy by?"

"I have."

"Wall, won't you jest stand up on a chair and wave that money in the air a few times and let the boys see the color of it? Don't want to put you to any special trouble, you know, but the crowd kinder wants to feel sure about it."

The banker got the money from the safe and followed the suggestion and asked if they were satisfied.

"That's all right," replied the spokesman. "We ain't much on figgers, but we know money when we see it. Them deposits is $7000 and you've got $9000 to pay 'em. That's chuck up and no discount!"

"Anything else?"

"Jest one little trifle. It's kinder got around town that you are goin' to Montana tomorrer. Before you start jest count them $9000 into the safe, lock 'er up as tight as a drum and then call in two or three of the boys to watch 'er while you're gone. We ain't showin' any lack of confidence, Jim, but we are givin' you a pointer on how to run a bank in this town without getting your neck into a slipknot!"

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES.

Promising Outlook for Many Trials of Skill.

The coming term is a most promising one for O. H. S. athletes. The football team will doubtless be up to the usual high standing. The boys hardly know what it is to be beaten by an academic team and they do not propose to taste defeat this year.

The football team began practice yesterday under Captain Anderson, last year's half. The entire left side of last year's team is back this term. Nelson at center, Hall guard, Bittner tackle, Chickering end, Anderson and McCabe behind the line form a substantial nucleus for a fine team.

At a meeting held last Monday Harry Chickering was elected president; H. Mallary and treasurer W. E. Dawson, field captain Mallary and treasurer; W. E. Dawson, field and track captain, Lee Hanford, baggage master.

Dawson is sanguine of putting a good team in the field. He will take care of both hurdles as he is perfectly competent to do. Cheek will not train this year. The boys are sorry as they expected to see him take another slice off the pole vault record. However there is Hoffman who can go over 9 feet with the pole and H. Keller with a record of 5 feet 4 inches in the running high. Ed Lynch can throw the hammer 125 feet while Hanford is hard to beat in the sprints. If Jackson goes to the University of California then Smith and Russ will have to take charge of the mile run. There is some talk of the Stockton and San Jose High Schools coming into the league. The only drawback is the distance. If the first part of September the school boys will give the Y. M. C. A. athletes a battle royal on the Berkeley cinder path.

AMONG THE ACMES.

Wheeling News From the Winged Acorn Quarters.

The Acme boys were greatly disappointed at Nissen's failure to break the Oakland-San Jose road record. They have the consolation, however, of attributing the failure to accidents. Near Centerville his saddle broke, and it took six minutes to mend it, but as he was still ahead of time he kept on. Just beyond the village he ran into one of the tandems that was pacing him, and pulled a spoke out of his wheel. This accident put record breaking out of the question and he rode slowly into San Jose. He will try it again soon.

Many of the boys went to San Jose Saturday night in response to the invitation of the San Jose Road Club. They had a fine time and are loud in their praises of their hosts. They were met at Milpitas and escorted into town. Sunday morning they witnessed the San Jose 5 mile road race, and after seeing Nissen come in they started for home at 4:30 o'clock, arriving at 10 o'clock.

Professor Al. Lean is the happiest man in Acme circles now. He is the proud father of a little girl, who will be the future Acme mascot.

The Acme trampers will walk to Redwood Peak Sunday under Captain Carroll. They will elect their officers during the trip. The start will be made from the club house at 9 o'clock A. M.

CAN PUT THE SHOT.

Ralston Wilbur Doing Exceptionally Good Work.

Ralston Wilbur has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of his friends. Despite the fact that he suffered a serious injury he is putting the shot farther than ever. Last week, while practicing with Bob Edgren, he made the phenomenal put of forty-four feet. Edgren will make a specialty of the shot this season. He is putting it out to forty-one feet and though he does not expect to beat Wilbur, it will take a strong man to best him.

EVANGELIST VARLEY.

He Is Holding a Great Revival in West Oakland.

Yesterday began the four days' services conducted by Henry Varley in the Union street Presbyterian church. Large congregations assembled and were deeply interested in his earnest scriptural preaching.

At 3 P. M. there was a Bible reading and address on "Man's Thoughts and God's Thoughts." In the evening Mr. Varly preached a most powerful sermon on the text, "Awake thou that sleepeth and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

His subject tonight is "Unbelief."

Death of Mrs. McLaughlin.

Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, the mother-in-law of School Director J. W. Evans, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. McLaughlin was born in Ireland but early in life came to America and lived for some time at Utica, New York before coming to California.

Her funeral will be held at the residence of her son-in-law on the corner of Sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street tomorrow at 2 P. M.

When you reach your destination your baggage is there also. This company also sends to the shipping and trans-shipping of goods to San Francisco with equal dispatch. The office is 418 Ninth street. J. Leo Park Makes a Statement Strongly Against Whidden.

THE AUDITOR'S EXPLANATION.

Rosborough Talks Very Plainly Regarding the Affair.

Developments today in the court house scandal were not numerous nor new. There is a great deal of talk and much discussion of the various phases of the shortage, and of the incidental crimes that were committed in an evident attempt to cover the defalcation. Sides have been taken in the matter and all the parties concerned have their strong adherents who will not believe their friends guilty of any wrong doing.

Not for many months has anything transpired which has awakened so much feeling. While the amount of the deficit is small, the circumstances surrounding it are so peculiar that they have given rise to all manner of conjectures and opinions regarding the guilty party or parties.

It is now more than apparent that Rosborough's deputy, Leo Park, did not doctor the books in Tax Collector Barber's office. The proof is clear that Park could not have done that as he was in Los Angeles during the time the records were tampered with and under no possible circumstances could he have been within reach of the books.

The documentary evidence of Expert Snow and Deputy Frank Smith, who arranged an index of the assessment roll in March shows that the assessments which were stamped as paid on November 26th with the odd rubber stamp were as late as March still recorded as unpaid. The expert's statement and the index agree and tally.

"There has been an injustice done District Attorney Snook in some of the published statements regarding his knowledge of the matter," said Tax Collector Barber today. "He has only known of the existence of the shortage since the first of August or thereabouts. I discovered it shortly after Snook left on his vacation. Whidden and myself worked for a month trying to locate it. I decided that the proper person to be informed was the district attorney and concluded to wait until he returned from his vacation before making any move. Snook has therefore not known of the deficit more than a week."

When Mr. Barber was asked regarding some of the statements made by Rosborough he replied that they were correct. He said: "Well, Alex has told the story has he? I didn't want it to come from me."

Barber's connection with the unfortunate affair is much regretted by his friends. He had absolutely nothing to do with the shortage, but through the fact that the second installment on last year's taxes was paid during his regime he felt morally responsible to the county for a certain amount of the delinquency. He therefore paid $600 into the county treasury and since then has been waiting and watching in the hope of discovering where the entire trouble lies.

Auditor Whidden does not think there is anything to be gained by any one concerned in the mess by discussing it before it reaches the courts.

Replying to a question touching his opinion of Rosborough's statement, he said: "There are some things in it which are untrue. I did not ask him to produce the stubs of his tax receipts months ago. It was only a few days ago that he was requested to give them up and he declined. I think this is a matter for the grand jury and the courts to act upon and that is where I propose to act myself."

BARBER'S POSITION.

County Tax Collector Barber is the only person who at present suffers from the trouble. When the final settlement was made in his accounts this year it was found he was $1,100 short. The work of checking up the matter was commenced and discrepancies were found which carried some of the shortage back into last year. Barber is in a very unfortunate position. It is best explained in the few words of District Attorney Snook on the subject. "I want to say," he said, "that County Tax Collector Barber has not been guilty of any offense. He has already been compelled to pay out $600 because of the criminal acts of some person. So far as the $483 deficit is concerned we are getting pretty well at the facts. Whoever stole the money is guilty of forgery, embezzlement and mutilating public records. I do not want to say at this time who I believe is guilty, but we are close on the trail. The grand jury will have no trouble in getting at the facts. Criminal as well as civil proceedings will be commenced in a short time."

The various officials interested in getting at the bottom of the scandal have held several consultations in the matter. When they first came together a week ago today there were present County Tax Collector Barber, who demanded the investigation, Alex Rosborough, Leo Park, his former chief deputy, Myron Whidden, Attorney A. M. Rosborough and Attorney George de Golia. They met with District Attorney Snook in his offices. The interview was decidedly unsatisfactory, as it resolved itself into an out and out denial on the part of Park to Whidden's statement that the auditor had turned over the money he had collected to Park. The latter demanded a warrant for Whidden's arrest, but was urged by Snook to go slowly. The request was withdrawn and Snook agreed that the whole matter should be taken before the next grand jury. There all the evidence at the command of the district attorney will be sifted out and such steps will be taken as are warranted by the testimony presented.

ROSBOROUGH'S REMARKS.

He Gives Some Hard Knocks and Does It Without Gloves.

Alex Rosborough has made the following statment:

"The circumstances point conclusively to one man. The beginning was when my term of office expired in January last. My successor, James Barber, asked the Board of Supervisors to allow him an expert to go over the books. He was refused and then got the grand jury expert, Snow. My accounts were gone over and when Mr. Snow completed his work they told me I was $1,1[illegible] short. That is to say that the figures as tabulated by the auditor Myron Whidden as to the amount charged to me and the amounts which should have been credited did not balance to that extent. Very fortunately I had saved all the tax receipt stubs which belonged to the office. The expert got through his work in the latter part of February, two months after I went out.

"I told them at that time that I would pay the shortage if it existed, but would not dig up until it was shown by my stubs that I owed it. I shall stand by those stubs for they show to a penny every dollar taken in on each day, each month, right through. Now when the expert checked up the books he made a record of every unpaid tax bill on the books. When Barber made his final settlement in July he found that his books did not balance by $1,100. When the discovery was made that the books had been tampered with there had been a number of bills stamped paid in the books which were marked with a date stamp which was different from either mine or Barber's.

"The investigation went on. It was found that the tax accounts stamped with this stamp were dated paid November 26th, the last day of my tax collections. Every one of the entries which were thus feloniously marked were for bills which bore the paid signature of Myron A. Whidden. He says he paid that money to my deputy, Leo Park. Park told him he was a liar to his face. Whidden did not deny it. The false entries were made in those books when they were in the possession of Barber months after I went out of office and when Park was not in Oakland.

A FEW INSTANCES.

"Then there is this that neither Barber nor District Attorney Snook have seen fit to tell. Myron Whidden received the taxes from George Schmidt of Berkeley and not for two months afterward did the receipts go to Schmidt. Whidden sent them to him.

"Another thing. Whidden says he received this money and handed it at once over to Park, who would then date the bills and return them to Whidden to endorse paid. That is absurd on its face. We had a paid stamp in the office. It would have been easier for Park to have used that at once, received the money and turned the paid bills back rather than fuss with a date.

"Why did not Barber tell the story of Myron Whidden's deal on his mother's and brother's tax bills? Neither of these were paid for months after they had been marked paid in that peculiar way on November 26.

"Whidden worked out the taxes for Barber on his mother's or his brother's bill months after the first installment was due. Whidden worked in Barber's office just after Expert Wright got through with my books. He is fighting for time. That is what he wants. Why I can tell a hundred circumstances that fix beyond a question of doubt where the fault of this thing lies. There is another thing; Whidden told Barber the reason his mother's taxes had not been paid before was because I owed him some money. The fact of the matter was that Myron Whidden owed me money and he borrowed $[illegible] from Barber to pay it. Last Thursday, when a detective came to me from the district attorney's office with some tax receipts and asked me about the signature, I told him they were forgeries. I did not know anything about the doctored books at that time. They told me about them later. Myron Whidden admitted his signature to those receipts.

ALL AGREE.

"They tallied with the bills on the books which bore that paid stamp which was unlike anything I had ever used or Barber either. It was necessary for the man who stole that money to get at those books and date the bills paid before the delinquent roll was made up, less the advertised list should discover the fact that they were unpaid and cause immediate exposure when the owners should present their receipts and demand an explanation. Now that every one of these bills so far as found that are dated as paid on November 26 were receipted for by Whidden, the expert's report upon my books also shows that at the last of February every one of these same bills was unpaid and so entered on the books, therefore they were stamped in this peculiar way after February 28, and after Leo Park had left Oakland.

"Now they come back at Park, do they? Yes, after the young man has left Oakland, Myron Whidden has hired an attorney. He never asked me for my stubs. He can have them, though, if he wants them, but they must be examined in the presence of a third party. My stubs will tell the story very quickly as to how this matter stands. I suppose the district attorney will take it to the grand jury. I shall be a witness and every one of those stubs are ready to be presented to that body or to any person authorized to examine them. Whidden was in the office at the time these transactions occurred to help out during the rush in giving out tax bills, but no one but authorized agents received any money. It had been the custom of the boys about the hall for years. I had never for a moment thought of anything wrong until the false entries were exposed. Again, I never kept my books anywhere but in my vault. They were securely locked up at night. As the expert's report shows that the changed entries were made after the books left my possession and I know that Barber allowed the books to remain where one could get at them. With Park in Los Angeles and the receipted bills with Whidden's signature I am satisfied beyond any question of doubt as to the ultimate outcome of this affair."

The $600 which was paid in to the county treasurer by Barbor is a portion of the deficit that was discovered when Barber made his final settlements this year. In order to first make his position with the county safe Barber paid the money. Then he commenced his investigations which have led to the unfolding of as rich a scandal as ever gave the county officials fruitful source of discussion. The entire matter is now in the hands of the district attorney, who will take such steps as he deems best for the protection of the interests of the county. "No matter where the blame lies," said Snook; "there will be no cessation of investigation until the matter is solved."

WHAT WHIDDEN SAYS.

The County Auditor Gives His Position in the Matter.

County Auditor Whidden, through his attorney, George de Golia, has made the following statement for publication:

In the latter part of November last Mr Rosborough, tax collector, came to me and said he was very much rushed with business in his office in the settlement and receipt of taxes, and asked me if I would come over and help him out, as he knew I was familiar with the routine of the office and was a friend of his. I said "Certainly," and went over to his office and assisted him in every way I could in the matter of collection of taxes. Many people came in, and, not desiring to take their place in line, handed me their bills with the money to pay them. I would check up these bills with the list accompanying them with Rosborough's deputy, who was authorized to receive the money, and then, after checking up the list, would turn the money over to such deputy with the bills given me by the taxpayer.

I supposed everybody was honest and very foolishly did not take a receipt for the money I turned over. These bills had attached to them the tax collector's stub as they came to me from the taxpayer. The tax collector would then tear off the stub, put it upon a sticker, and from the stubs would check up upon the assessment roll later on the payments made for taxes against the various pieces of property as shown by the number upon the stub. After the stubs had been torn from the bill then the party who tore off the stubs would receipt the bill and give it or send it to the taxpayer.

I received, during a day or two's services as assistant under Mr Rosborough, several thousand dollars and several hundred bills with stubs attached, which I turned over to the deputy. After the stubs had been torn off a number of bills were turned over to me by the chief deputy, saying that he was very busy and for me to receipt the bills and give them to the taxpayers. This I did, signing in every case "A. J. Rosborough, per W." and delivered these receipted bills to the various taxpayers. I distinctly remember that of the large batch of bills that were turned over to me to sign after the stub was torn off, on a few of them the date of payment was stamped with a peculiar stamp, and on many of them no date of payment was stamped at all. I thought it queer at the time that some should be dated and some should not be dated, but, supposing that everybody was honest in the office, said nothing about it particularly, but receipted the bills as I have said and sent them to the various taxpayers. In those bills on which the date was not stamped I wrote in the date in ink. These particular bills on which appeared this peculiar stamp and for which I receipted "A. J. Rosborough, per W," have formed the basis of the insinuation and the charge against me in this matter.

THE ROLL MARKINGS.

Let me explain how the assessment rolls themselves are marked "paid." The only way under the system followed by Mr. Rosborough of determining what taxes had been paid was from the stubs detached from the bills, which stubs were, as I have said, placed upon a sticker, and then from these stubs entry was made upon the tax rolls by stamping upon a place in the book the date when the tax was paid as shown by the stub. And if no stub for a given number was upon the sticker when the deputy whose duty it was to check, compare and mark paid on the rolls, the particular tax was not marked paid and appeared delinquent upon the assessment rolls.

I took no further concern about these tax bills which I receipted with this particular date stamped upon them, but sent them to the various property owners before Mr. Rosborough's term of office expired and thought no more about it.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr Rosborough, the retiring tax collector, was supposed to make his settlement with the county for taxes received by him. He had been charged as tax collector with the aggregate amount of taxes due, as shown by the assessment rolls, and he was credited with the total amount of payments he made on account thereof to the county treasurer, and then the difference between the amount he was charged with and the amount he turned over ought to represent the amount of unpaid taxes as shown by the assessment rolls.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr. Rosborough turned over to Mr. Barber, the incoming tax collector, the assessment rolls, showing a large amount of unpaid taxes not marked "paid" upon the rolls. The county expert, H. K. Snow, and Mr. Barber, with one or two deputies, went over the assessment rolls so turned over to Mr. Barber, and found that according to the rolls there was a difference between the amount actually turned over by Rosborough to the treasurer and what he ought to have turned over to the treasurer of about $1[illegible]. The expert took off from each page the amount of unpaid taxes shown thereon because not marked "paid" in the proper column. The county expert's report is a public record at the court house.

Subsequently, when Mr. Barber was called upon to make his final statement it was found that the difference between the total amount of taxes that ought to have been collected and the total amount of taxes that were turned over to Rosborough and Barber between them was about $1,083. In other words there ought to have been $1,083 more paid into the treasury as shown by the total assessment roll than was actually paid in from the tax collector's office.

It was my duty as county auditor to investigate the matter, and Mr. Barber and his deputies and my office men went over the assessment rolls, trying to discover where the difference was, checking up from the expert's report. We found upon the assessment roll books, stamped in the column "when paid" with this same peculiar stamp not in use in the tax collector's office, opposite tax statements aggregating about $483 the characters "Nov. 26th, 1894," which were not there when the expert and Mr. Barber and his deputies went over the rolls in January and February, showing that this peculiar stamp must have been put upon these rolls after the expert had finished his inspection. By whom this was done is not yet discovered. We have not been able, however, to locate the balance over the $483 of the $1,083 difference between the rolls as examined by the expert and the rolls as they now appear marked paid.

The parties holding these tax bills, aggregating $483 were sent for and produced their tax receipts, signed, as I said before, "A. J. Rosborough, per W.," which signature I immediately recognized as mine, as I have nothing to conceal in my connection with this matter from beginning to end; but the stubs are missing.

NO OCCASION TO DO IT.

If I had wanted to take or steal the money represented by these certificates in November, 1894, I must have known that it was bound to come back to me; first, because if the tax rolls were not marked paid the property owner would in time find it out and would produce his receipt for his taxes, to which I had signed my name as above. The destruction of the stub by me would not have helped me in any particular, but only tended all the more to show that I had received the money and had not turned it over, because the tax was not marked paid, yet the receipt bore my signature. Yet, if some one else had destroyed these stubs and taken the money they represented it might be difficult to have located the person and suspicion would naturally have pointed to me at once because my name was upon the receipted bill. I do not know who did this, but the production of the stub for these bills to which my name is signed would tend very much to clear up the mystery in this matter.

As I said before, I can have no possible reason for destroying or keeping them, as my name upon the receipt itself would naturally point to me as the party who got the money, and the destruction or keeping of the stub by me would not protect me in the least, but convict me all the more. Where these stubs are I do not know. I have officially asked the District Attorney to investigate this matter thoroughly and to the bottom. I demand the return and inspection of all tax bill stubs, and when they are turned over to the District Attorney or grand jury we may find the stubs for the missing $600 in addition to the stubs representing the $[illegible] worth of stubs that I signed.

I make no charges or insinuations, but most positively declare that I did not take one dollar of any of the money represented by these tax receipts or bills, and as positively state that all the money I received for taxes or bills, and all that I receipted for, was turned over to the proper authorities to receive them.

Because I did not demand and receive a receipt for the thousands of dollars I turned over in each case some people are over eager to come forward and charge me with having taken this money. I have demanded and expect, and am ready to meet, the fullest possible investigation and ask the public to withhold judgment until after such investigation.

LEO PARK'S STATEMENT.

He Throws the Blame Right on Auditor Whidden.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Col., Aug. 8.—J. Leo Park, who was assistant to Alexander Rosborough in collecting the Alameda county taxes, was interviewed this morning upon his return from Oakland regarding the alleged shortage in Rosborough's accounts.

Park also says Whidden was never authorized to collect tax money at that time.

Park also charges that both Whidden's mother and brother paid Whidden money for taxes for which Whidden gave receipts signed with Rosborough's name, but Whidden did not pay the money into the treasury until August 5th, 1895.

DUMPING PROHIBITED.

The Garbage Question Now Brought to a Direct Issue.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health will be held tomorrow evening and at that time an effort will be made to solve the problem which at present confronts the health authorities in reference to the disposal of the garbage.

Today the scavengers of Oakland, numbering nearly 60, were notified that no more dumping of garbage would be permitted within the city limits. The health authorities have been forced to take this step on account of the large number of complaints in reference to dumping lodged with the sanitary department of the city. Each member of the City Council has protested against garbage being dumped in their respective wards and the scavengers were forced to seek new localities, but such a storm of protests arose that the health authorities were compelled to issue their prohibitory mandate. This move will result, no doubt, in forcibly calling the Council's attention to the need of a crematory.

FRESNO FIRE-FIGHTERS.

They Investigate the Workings of the Department Here.

A delegation from Fresno consisting of Chief Engineer Hart of the Fire Department and Councilmen E. L. Austin and Joseph Spinney witnessed the workings of a Hayes fire truck on Fifteenth street opposite the city hall this morning. The three gentlemen have been appointed to purchase fire apparatus for the Fresno department. The fire department of that city, as explained by Chief Hart, consists of the chief, drivers, engineers and about 100 volunteers. The latter are organized, but are not paid for their services. The apparatus consists of three steamers, a hook and ladder truck, and one chemical engine. Chief Lawton acted the part of host as long as the visiting officials remained in town.

The State Equalization Board Gives an Unpleasant Surprise.

MORE TAXATION ANNOUNCED.

Protests Will Be Heard at Sacramento on the 15th Inst.

ASSESSOR DALTON IS IN ARMS

He Says That It Looks Like a Cold-Blooded Revenge.

A bombshell was thrown into the county clerk's office this morning in the shape of a notice from the State Board of Equalization that the assessment of Alameda county was proposed to be raised. No such move has been anticipated and when it became generally known that the State Board had such an idea in view there was consternation expressed on all sides. There was some very vigorous English disbursed among many of the officials when it became known that such action was contemplated.

The announcement to the Board of Supervisors came in the form of a letter to County Clerk Jordan. The document reads as follows:

Office of the State Board of Equalization,
Sacramento, August 7, 1895.

To E. C. Jordan, Esq., Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda: Sir: Please take notice, and inform the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, that the State Board of Equalization, having examined the assessments upon the assessment book or roll for the year 1895 for said county, proposes to increased the entire assessment roll or book of said county for said year, except property exempt from increase for the purpose of making the assessments conform to the true value, in money, of the property contained on said roll, so as to equalize the value of taxable property of the several counties of the State for the purpose of taxation.

The Board will consider all objections which may be made to such increase at its office in the capitol, at Sacramento, on Thursday, the 15th day of August, 1895, between the hours of 9.30 A. M. and 4 P. M.

Respectfully,
Charles M. Coglan,
Clerk State Board of Equalization.

The question was immediately asked whether the State Board had examined the roll and how. It developed that Peter Borein has for some time past been working on Dalton's books as an expert for the State Board. It is surmised that the action of the Board is based upon some report that Borein has furnished.

WHAT DALTON SAYS.

Assessor Dalton was informed this morning by a "Tribune" reporter of the proposed action of the Board.

"This is the most cold-blooded thing I have ever heard of," said Dalton. "The State Board has no right on its own records to touch Alameda county's assessment. Last year they left the assessment untouched when it was $2,000,000 less than the valuations I made, and is still a cool million less than the figures now to be used after the County Board has made its reduction.

"I suppose they want to get me before them and tear me to pieces. Well, I will be there on August 15th and I am fully prepared to meet them. The representative taxpayers of this county should take hold of this matter at once and prepare to give the State Board as hard a tussle as ever they had in their lives. I should not be compelled to fight alone.

"I suppose the State Board proposes to raise us 5 per cent and that means an increase of $6,000,000. I understand that eighteen counties have been notified to make an appearance. This notice means practically that one shall show cause why the assessment should not be raised. Now, I would like to know if the State Board proposes to raise these assessments instead of doing its duty and raising the corporations. The railroad company does not seem to have suffered very much of a raise.

"I made a raise of $3,000,000 in this county over last year. Can the State Board find any great improvements that require an arbitrary advance over my figures. There has not been a single one in the county during the year. This looks to me very much like a piece of revenge."

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to secure a large representation of taxpayers to fight the proposed raise.

A BUSY MAN.

Street Superintendent Miller Has His Hands Full Now.

Street Superintendent Miller is a very busy man these days, as there are a number of improvements in progress that require his careful attention, and besides he is besieged at all hours of the day and night by needy men in search of work. This has become such a nuisance that Mr. Miller has given notice that applicants for employment will hereafter be heard only between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock. Sixty-eight men will be put at work tomorrow cleaning the streets and next week twenty additional men will go to work repairing San Pablo avenue, and four men will be detailed to flush the sewers.

Next Monday work on the boulevard will be resumed. Mr. Miller is giving this his most careful supervision and the foundation so far laid under his directions form an excellent piece of work.

The laying of 600 feet of sewer in East Eighth street, between Fifth and Seventh avenues, has also been inaugurated. This sewer will intercept the Sixth and Seventh avenue sewers. The council has appropriated $900 for the work.

Mayor Davie Says the Position Ought to Be Filled.

Mayor Davie is anything but pleased with the action of the City Council in denying him a clerk, and he believes that body will in time see the error of its ways and grant him the desired assistant.

"No one has any idea of the number of requests I receive for information concerning Oakland from all parts of the country," remarked the Mayor today. "Most of these I am forced to throw into the waste basket, as I have not time to reply. A clerk in this office would earn his salary, and I hope the Council after an investigation into the need of one will grant my request."

Girard Home Again.

F. L. Girard, the piano man, has returned from a pleasure and business outing in Siskiyou county, where he spent three weeks. He says he had an excellent time, although he brings back no game trophies to dissipate the doubts of skeptical friends. He asserts, he says, to note that Portland merchants are cutting into the business of California merchants in the northern part of this State. Mr. Girard says he is heartily in favor of the attempt Mayor Davie is making to secure the location in this city of the gun manufactory in Boston which desires to come to this coast.

WHO IS AT FAULT?

WHAT THOSE INTERESTED SAY.

J. Leo Park Makes a Statement Strongly Against Whidden.

Rosborough Talks Very Plainly Begarding the Affair.

Developments today in the court house scandal were not numerous nor new. There is a great deal of talk and much discussion of the various phases of the shortage and the incidental crimes that were committed in an evident attempt to cover the defalcation. Sides have been taken in the matter and all the parties concerned have their strong adherents who will not believe their friends guilty of any wrong doing.

Not for many months has anything transpired which has awakened so much feeling. While the amount of the deficit is small, the circumstances surrounding it are so peculiar that they have given rise to all manner of conjectures and opinions regarding the guilty party or parties.

It is now more than apparent that Rosborough's deputy, Leo Park, did not doctor the books in Tax Collector Barber's office. The proof is clear that Park could not have done that as he was in Los Angeles during the time the records were tampered with and under no possible circumstances could he have been within reach of the books.

The documentary evidence of Expert Snow and Deputy Frank Smith, who arranged an index of the assessment roll in March shows that the assessments which were stamped as paid on November 26th with the odd rubber stamp were as late as March still recorded as unpaid. The expert's statement and the index agree and tally.

"There has been an injustice done District Attorney Snook in some of the published statements regarding his knowledge of the matter," said Tax Collector Barber today. "He has only known of the existence of the shortage since the first of August or thereabouts. I discovered it shortly after Snook left on his vacation. Whidden and myself worked for a month trying to locate it. I decided that the proper person to be informed was the district attorney and concluded to wait until he returned from his vacation before making any move. Snook has therefore not known of the deficit more than a week."

When Mr. Barber was asked regarding some of the statements made by Rosborough he replied that they were correct. He said: "Well, Alex has told the story has he? I didn't want it to come from me."

Barber's connection with the unfortunate affair is much regretted by his friends. He had absolutely nothing to do with the shortage, but through the fact that the second installment on last year's taxes was paid during his regime he felt morally responsible to the county for a certain amount of the delinquency. He therefore paid $600 into the county treasury and since then has been waiting and watching in the hope of discovering where the entire trouble lies.

Auditor Whidden does not think there is anything to be gained by any one concerned in the mess by discussing it before it reaches the courts.

Replying to a question touching his opinion of Rosborough's statement, he said: "There are some things in it which are untrue. I did not ask him to produce the stubs of his tax receipts months ago. It was only a few days ago that he was requested to give them up and he declined. I think this is a matter for the grand jury and the courts to act upon and that is where I propose to act myself.

BARBER'S POSITION.

County Tax Collector Barber is the only person who at present suffers from the trouble. When the final settlement was made in his accounts this year it was found he was $1,100 short. The work of checking up the matter was commenced and discrepancies were found which carried some of the shortage back into last year. Barber is in a very unfortunate position. It is best explained in the few words of District Attorney Snook on the subject. "I want to say," he said, "that County Tax Collector Barber has not been guilty of any offense. He has already been compelled to pay out $600 because of the criminal acts of some person. So far as the $483 deficit is concerned we are getting pretty well at the facts. Whoever stole the money is guilty of forgery, embezzlement and mutilating public records. I do not want to say at this time who I believe is guilty, but we are close on the trail. The grand jury will have no trouble in getting at the facts. Criminal as well as civil proceedings will be commenced in a short time."

The various officials interested in getting at the bottom of the scandal have held several consultations in the matter. When they first came together a week ago today there were present County Tax Collector Barber, who demanded the investigation, Alex Rosborough, Leo Park, his former chief deputy, Myron Whidden, Attorney A. M. Rosborough and Attorney George de Golia. They met with District Attorney Snook in his offices. The interview was decidedly unsatisfactory, as it resolved itself into an out and out denial on the part of Park to Whidden's statement that the auditor had turned over the money he had collected to Park. The latter demanded a warrant for Whidden's arrest, but was urged by Snook to go slowly. The request was withdrawn and Snook agreed that the whole matter should be taken before the next grand jury. There all the evidence at the command of the district attorney will be sifted out and such steps will be taken as are warranted by the testimony presented.

ROSBOROUGH'S REMARKS.

He Gives Some Hard Knocks and Does It Without Gloves.

Alex Rosborough has made the following statment:

"The circumstances point conclusively to one man. The beginning was when my term of office expired in January last. My successor, James Barber, asked the Board of Supervisors to allow him an expert to go over the books. He was refused and then got the grand jury expert, Snow. My accounts were gone over and when Mr. Snow completed his work they told me I was $123 short. That is to say that the figures as furnished by the auditor, Myron Whidden, as to the amount charged to me and the amounts which should have been credited did not balance to that extent. Very fortunately I had saved all the tax receipt stubs which belonged to the office. The expert got through his work in the latter part of February, two months after I went out.

"I told them at that time that I would pay the shortage if it existed, but would not dig up until it was shown by my stubs that I owed it. I shall stand by those stubs, for they show to a penny every dollar taken in on each day, each month, right through. Now when the expert checked up the books he made a record of every unpaid tax bill on the books. When Barber made his final settlement in July he found that his books did not balance by $1,100. When the discovery was made that the books had been tampered with there had been a number of bills stamped paid in the books which were marked with a date stamp which was different from either mine or Barber's.

"The investigation went on. It was found that the tax accounts stamped with this stamp were dated paid November 26th, the last day of my tax collections. Every one of the entries which were thus feloniously marked were for bills which bore the paid signature of Myron A. Whidden. He says he paid that money to my deputy, Leo Park. Park told him he was a liar to his face. Whidden did not deny it. The false entries were made in those books when they were in the possession of Barber months after I went out of office and when Park was not in Oakland.

A FEW INSTANCES.

"Then there is this that neither Barber nor District Attorney Snook have seen fit to tell. Myron Whidden received the taxes from George Schmidt of Berkeley and not for two months afterward did the receipts go to Schmidt. Whidden sent them to him.

"Another thing. Whidden says he received this money and handed it at once over to Park, who would then date the bills and return them to Whidden to endorse paid. That is absurd on its face. We had a paid stamp in the office. It would have been easier for Park to have used that at once, received the money and turned the paid bills back rather than fuss with a dater.

"Why did not Barber tell the story of Myron Whidden's deal on his mother's and brother's tax bills? Neither of these were paid for months after they had been marked paid in that peculiar way on November 26.

"Whidden worked out the taxes for Barber on his mother's or his brother's bill months after the first installment was due. Whidden worked in Barber's office just after Expert Wright got through with my books. He is fighting for time. That is what he wants. Why I can tell a hundred circumstances that fix beyond a question of doubt where the fault of this thing lies. There is another thing; Whidden told Barber the reason his mother's taxes had not been paid before was because I owed him some money. The fact of the matter was that Myron Whidden owed me money and he borrowed $100 from Barber to pay it. Last Thursday, when a detective came to me from the district attorney's office with some tax receipts and asked me about the signature, I told him they were forgeries. I did not know anything about the doctored books at that time. They told me about them later. Myron Whidden admitted his signature to those receipts.

ALL AGREE.

"They tallied with the bills on the books which bore that paid stamp which was unlike anything I had ever used or Barber either. It was necessary for the man who stole that money to get at those books and date the bills paid before the delinquent roll was made up, less the advertised list should discover the fact that they were unpaid and cause immediate exposure when the owners should present their receipts and demand an explanation. Now that every one of these bills so far as found that are dated as paid on November 26 were receipted for by Whidden, the expert's report upon my books also shows that at the last of February every one of these same bills was unpaid and so entered on the books, therefore they were stamped in this peculiar way after February 28, and after Leo Park had left Oakland.

"Now they come back at Park, do they? Yes, after the young man has left Oakland, Myron Whidden has hired an attorney. He never asked me for my stubs. He can have them, though, if he wants them, but they must be examined in the presence of a third party. My stubs will tell the story very quickly as to how this matter stands. I suppose the district attorney will take it to the grand jury. I shall be a witness and every one of those stubs are ready to be presented to that body or to any person authorized to examine them. Whidden was in the office at the time these transactions occurred to help out during the rush in giving out tax bills, but no one but authorized agents received any money. It had been the custom of the boys about the hall for years. I had never for a moment thought of anything wrong until the false entries were exposed. Again, I never kept my books anywhere but in my vault. They were securely locked up at night. As the expert's report shows that the changed entries were made after the books left my possession and I know that Barber allowed the books to remain where one could get at them. With Park in Los Angeles and the receipted bills with Whidden's signature I am satisfied beyond any question of doubt as to the ultimate outcome of this affair."

The $600 which was paid in to the county treasurer by Barber is a portion of the deficit that was discovered when Barber made his final settlements this year. In order to first make his position with the county safe, Barber paid the money. Then he commenced his investigations which have led to the unfolding of as rich a scandal as ever gave the county officials fruitful source of discussion. The entire matter is now in the hands of the district attorney, who will take such steps as he deems best for the protection of the interests of the county. "No matter where the blame lies," said Snook; "there will be no cessation of investigation until the matter is solved."

WHAT WHIDDEN SAYS.

The County Auditor Gives His Position in the Matter.

County Auditor Whidden, through his attorney, George de Golia, has made the following statement for publication:

In the latter part of November last Mr. Rosborough, tax collector, came to me and said he was very much rushed with business in his office in the settlement and receipt of taxes, and asked me if I would come over and help him out, as he knew I was familiar with the routine of the office and was a friend of his. I said "Certainly," and went over to his office and assisted him in every way I could in the matter of collection of taxes. Many people came in, and, not desiring to take their place in line, handed me their bills with the money to pay them. I would check up these bills with the list accompanying them, with Rosborough's deputy, who was authorized to receive the money, and then, after checking up the list, would turn the money over to such deputy with the bills given me by the taxpayer.

I supposed everybody was honest and very foolishly did not take a receipt for the money I turned over. These bills had attached to them the tax collector's stub as they came to me from the taxpayer. The tax collector would then tear off the stub, put it upon a sticker, and from the stubs would check up upon the assessment roll later on the payments made for taxes against the various pieces of property as shown by the number upon the stub. After the stubs had been torn from the bill then the party who tore off the stubs would receipt the bill and give it or send it to the taxpayer.

I received, during a day or two's services as assistant under Mr. Rosborough, several thousand dollars, and several hundred bills with stubs attached, which I turned over to the deputy. After the stubs had been torn off a number of bills were turned over to me by the chief deputy, saying that he was very busy and for me to receipt the bills and give them to the taxpayers. This I did, signing in every case "A. J. Rosborough, per W." and delivered these receipted bills to the various taxpayers. I distinctly remember that of the large batch of bills that were turned over to me to sign after the stub was torn off, on a few of them the date of payment was stamped with a peculiar stamp, and on many of them no date of payment was stamped at all. I thought it queer at the time that some should be dated and some should not be dated, but, supposing that everybody was honest in the office, said nothing about it particularly, but receipted the bills as I have said and sent them to the various taxpayers. In those bills on which the date was not stamped I wrote in the date in ink. These particular bills on which appeared this peculiar stamp, and for which I receipted "A. J. Rosborough, per W.," have formed the basis of the insinuation and false charge against me in this matter.

THE ROLL MARKINGS.

Let me explain how the assessment rolls themselves are marked "paid." The only way under the system followed by Mr. Rosborough of determining what taxes had been paid was from the stubs detached from the bills, which stubs were, as I have said, placed upon a sticker, and then from these stubs entry was made upon the tax rolls by stamping upon a place in the book the date when the tax was paid as shown by the stub. And if no stub for a given number was upon the sticker when the deputy whose duty it was to check, compare and mark paid on the rolls, the particular tax was not marked paid and appeared delinquent upon the assessment rolls.

I took no further concern about these tax bills which I receipted with this particular date stamped upon them, but sent them to the various property owners before Mr. Rosborough's term of office expired and thought no more about it.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr. Rosborough, the retiring tax collector, was supposed to make his settlement with the county for taxes received by him. He had been charged as tax collector with the aggregate amount of taxes due, as shown by the assessment rolls, and he was credited with the total amount of payments he made on account thereof to the county treasurer, and then the difference between the amount he was charged with and the amount he turned over ought to represent the amount of unpaid taxes as shown by the assessment rolls.

On January 7th, 1895, Mr. Rosborough turned over to Mr. Barber, the incoming tax collector, the assessment rolls, showing a large amount of unpaid taxes not marked "paid" upon the rolls. The county expert, H. K. Snow, and Mr. Barber, with one or two deputies, went over the assessment rolls so turned over to Mr. Barber, and found that according to the rolls there was a difference between the amount actually turned over by Rosborough to the treasurer and what he ought to have turned over to the treasurer of about $133. The expert took off from each page the amount of unpaid taxes shown thereon because not marked "paid" in the proper column. The county expert's report is a public record at the court house.

Subsequently, when Mr. Barber was called upon to make his final statement it was found that the difference between the total amount of taxes that ought to have been collected and the total amount of taxes that were turned over to Rosborough and Barber between them was about $1,083. In other words there ought to have been $1,083 more paid into the treasury as shown by the total assessment roll than was actually paid in from the tax collector's office.

It was my duty as county auditor to investigate the matter, and Mr. Barber and his deputies and my office men went over the assessment rolls, trying to discover where the difference was, checking up from the expert's report. We found upon the assessment roll books, stamped in the column "when paid" with this same peculiar stamp not in use in the tax collector's office, opposite tax statements aggregating about $483 the characters "Nov. 26th, 1894," which were not there when the expert and Mr. Barber and his deputies went over the rolls in January and February, showing that this peculiar stamp must have been put upon these rolls after the expert had finished his inspection. By whom this was done is not yet discovered. We have not been able, however, to locate the balance over the $483 of the $1,083 difference between the rolls as examined by the expert and the rolls as they now appear marked paid.

The parties holding these tax bills, aggregating $483 were sent for and produced their tax receipts, signed, as I said before, "A. J. Rosborough, per W.," which signature I immediately recognized as mine, as I have nothing to conceal in my connection with this matter from beginning to end; but the stubs are missing.

NO OCCASION TO DO IT.

If I had wanted to take or steal the money represented by these certificates in November, 1894, I must have known that it was bound to come back to me; first, because if the tax rolls were not marked paid the property owner would in time find it out and would produce his receipt for his taxes, to which I had signed my name as above. The destruction of the stub by me would not have helped me in any particular, but only tended all the more to show that I had received the money and had not turned it over, because the tax was not marked paid, yet the receipt bore my signature. Yet, if some one else had destroyed these stubs and taken the money they represented it might be difficult to have located the person and suspicion would naturally have pointed to me at once because my name was upon the receipted bill. I do not know who did this, but the production of the stub for these bills to which my name is signed would tend very much to clear up the mystery in this matter.

As I said before, I can have no possible reason for destroying or keeping them, as my name upon the receipt itself would naturally point to me as the party who got the money, and the destruction or keeping of the stub by me would not protect me in the least, but convict me all the more. Where these stubs are I do not know. I have officially asked the District Attorney to investigate this matter thoroughly and to the bottom. I demand the return and inspection of all tax bill stubs, and when they are turned over to the District Attorney or grand jury we may find the stubs for the missing $600 in addition to the stubs representing the $483 worth of stubs that I signed.

I make no charges or insinuations, but most positively declare that I did not take one dollar of any of the money represented by these tax receipts or bills, and as positively state that all the money I received for taxes or bills, and all that I receipted for, was turned over to the proper authorities to receive them.

Because I did not demand and receive a receipt for the thousands of dollars I turned over in each case some people are over eager to come forward and charge me with having taken this money. I have demanded and expect, and am ready to meet, the fullest possible investigation and ask the public to withhold judgment until after such investigation.

LEO PARK'S STATEMENT.

He Throws the Blame Right on Auditor Whidden.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 8.—J. Leo Park, who was assistant to Alexander Rosborough in collecting the Alameda county taxes, was interviewed this morning upon his return from Oakland regarding the alleged shortage in Rosborough's accounts.

Park also says Whidden was never authorized to collect tax money at that time.

Park also charges that both Whidden's mother and brother paid Whidden money for taxes for which Whidden gave receipts signed with Rosborough's name, but Whidden did not pay the money into the treasury until August 5th, 1895.

DUMPING PROHIBITED.

The Garbage Question Now Brought to a Direct Issue.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health will be held tomorrow evening and at that time an effort will be made to solve the problem which at present confronts the health authorities in reference to the disposal of the garbage.

Today the scavengers of Oakland, numbering nearly 60, were notified that no more dumping of garbage would be permitted within the city limits. The health authorities have been forced to take this step on account of the large number of complaints in reference to dumping lodged with the sanitary department of the city. Each member of the City Council has protested against garbage being dumped in their respective wards and the scavengers were forced to seek new localities, but such a storm of protests arose that the health authorities were compelled to issue their prohibitory mandate. This move will result, no doubt, in forcibly calling the Council's attention to the need of a crematory.

FRESNO FIRE-FIGHTERS.

They Investigate the Workings of the Department Here.

A delegation from Fresno consisting of Chief Engineer Hart of the Fire Department and Councilmen E. L. Austin and Joseph Spinney witnessed the workings of a Hayes fire truck on Fifteenth street opposite the city hall this morning. The three gentlemen have been appointed to purchase fire apparatus for the Fresno department. The fire department of that city, as explained by Chief Hart, consists of the chief, drivers, engineers and about 100 volunteers. The latter are organized, but are not paid for their services. The apparatus consists of three steamers, a hook and ladder truck, and one chemical engine. Chief Lawton acted the part of host as long as the visiting officials remained in town.

The State Equalization Board Gives an Unpleasant Surprise.

MORE TAXATION ANNOUNCED.

Protests Will Be Heard at Sacramento on the 15th inst.

ASSESSOR DALTON IS IN ARMS

He Says That It Looks Like a Cold-Blooded Revenge.

A bombshell was thrown into the county clerk's office this morning in the shape of a notice from the State Board of Equalization that the assessment of Alameda county was proposed to be raised. No such move has been anticipated and when it became generally known that the State Board had such an idea in view there was consternation expressed on all sides. There was some very vigorous English disbursed among many of the officials when it became known that such action was contemplated.

The announcement to the Board of Supervisors came in the form of a letter to County Clerk Jordan. The document reads as follows:

Office of the State Board of Equalization,
Sacramento, August 7, 1895.

To F. C. Jordan, Esq., Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda: Sir: Please take notice, and inform the Board of Supervisors of the County of Alameda, that the State Board of Equalization, having examined the assessments upon the assessment book or roll for the year 1895 for said county, proposes to increased the entire assessment roll or book of said county for said year, except property exempt from increase for the purpose of making the assessments conform to the true value, in money, of the property contained on said roll, so as to equalize the value of taxable property of the several counties of the State for the purpose of taxation.

"The Board will consider all objections which may be made to such increase at its office in the capitol, at Sacramento, on Thursday, the 15th day of August, 1895, between the hours of 9:30 A. M. and 1 P. M.

Respectfully,
Charles M. Coglan."
Clerk State Board of Equalization.

The question was immediately asked whether the State Board had examined the roll and how. It developed that Peter Borein has for some time past been working on Dalton's books as an expert for the State Board. It is surmised that the action of the Board is based upon some report that Borein has furnished.

WHAT DALTON SAYS.

Assessor Dalton was informed this morning by a "Tribune" reporter of the proposed action of the Board.

"This is the most cold-blooded thing I have ever heard of," said Dalton. "The State Board has no right on its own records to touch Alameda county's assessment. Last year they left the assessment untouched when it was $3,000,000 less than the valuations I made, and is still a cool million less than the figures now to be used after the County Board has made its reduction.

"I suppose they want to get me before them and tear me to pieces. Well, I will be there on August 15th and I am fully prepared to meet them. The representative taxpayers of this county should take hold of this matter at once and prepare to give the State Board as hard a tussle as ever they had in their lives. I should not be compelled to fight alone.

"I suppose the State Board proposes to raise us 5 per cent and that means an increase of $6,000,000. I understand that eighteen counties have been notified to make an appearance. This notice means practically that one shall show cause why the assessment should not be raised. Now, I would like to know if the State Board proposes to raise these assessments instead of doing its duty and raising the corporations. The railroad company does not seem to have suffered very much of a raise.

"I made a raise of $3,000,000 in this county over last year. Can the State Board find any great improvements that require an arbitrary advance over my figures. There has not been a single one in the county during the year. This looks to me very much like a piece of revenge."

It is understood that steps will be taken at once to secure a large representation of taxpayers to fight the proposed raise.

A BUSY MAN.

Street Superintendent Miller Has His Hands Full Now.

Street Superintendent Miller is a very busy man these days, as there are a number of improvements in progress that require his careful attention, and besides he is besieged at all hours of the day and night by needy men in search of work. This has become such a nuisance that Mr. Miller has given notice that applicants for employment will hereafter be heard only between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock. Sixty-eight men will be put at work tomorrow cleaning the streets and next week twenty additional men will go to work repairing San Pablo avenue, and four men will be detailed to flush the sewers.

Next Monday work on the boulevard will be resumed. Mr. Miller is giving this his most careful supervision and the foundation so far laid under his directions form an excellent piece of work.

The laying of 660 feet of sewer in East Eighth street, between Fifth and Seventh avenues, has also been inaugurated. This sewer will intercept the Sixth and Seventh avenue sewers. The council has appropriated $900 for the work.

WANTS A CLERK.

Mayor Davie Says the Position Ought to Be Filled.

Mayor Davie is anything but pleased with the action of the City Council in denying him a clerk, and he believes that body will in time see the error of its ways and grant him the desired assistant.

"No one has any idea of the number of requests I receive for information concerning Oakland from all parts of the country," remarked the Mayor today. "Most of these I am forced to throw into the waste basket, as I have not time to reply. A clerk in this office would earn his salary, and I hope the Council after an investigation into the need of one will grant my request."

Girard Home Again.

F. R. Girard, the piano man, has returned from a pleasure and business outing in Siskiyou county, where he spent three weeks. He says he had an excellent time, although he brings back no game trophies to dissipate the doubts of skeptical friends. He regrets, he says, to note that Portland merchants are cutting into the business of California merchants in the northern part of this State. Mr. Girard says he is heartily in favor of the attempt Mayor Davie is making to secure the location in this city of the gun manufactory in Boston which desires to come to this coast.

IN A NICE MESS NOW.

A Challenge of the Entire Durrant Panel Deemed Probable.

TALESMEN UNFIT TO SERVE.

POTPOURRI OF COAST NEWS.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—Theodore Durrant may not be tried in San Francisco after all.

The reason for this is the tangle into which the attorneys in the case find themselves with regard to jurors.

After much care and deliberation seven jurors have been selected to try the case only to find two jurors objectionable in more ways than one.

In this respect the prosecution seems to have got the worst of it.

Juror Walter S. Brown is said to have stood for the acquittal of M. D. Howell in the trial for counterfeiting, his reason being that he did not believe in convicting on circumstantial evidence.

Charles P. Nathan, another accepted juror, has a record in Sacramento for objecting to the death penalty in cases of circumstantial evidence.

As the evidence against Durrant is altogether circumstantial, the discovery fills District Attorney Barnes and Detective Lees with dismay.

In view of these matters it is said that when the twelve men shall have been chosen as jurors the district attorney may ask leave to challenge the two jurors.

The defendant's counsel will probably object to this but may consent to the dismissal of the entire jury.

This would clear the way for a renewal of the motion for a change of venue.

Judge Murphy upon mature reflection may find himself impelled to grant this renewed motion if it is made.

The case seems to be almost hopelessly mixed according to the opinions of prominent attorneys.

FORGER LESHON GOES UP.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—J. G. Leshon, was this morning sentenced to five years for forgery.

The complaining witness was widow Clark with whom Leshon boarded two years and whom she considered a good friend.

Mrs. Clark charges Leshon beat her out of all her money.

Her youngest daughter fell in love with Leshon after his arrest and tried to secure his acquittal, while her mother and sister prosecuted him.

SALLIE HART IS DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The Bulletin says:

The death is reported from New Jersey of Sallie Hart, the first new woman who lived in California.

She was born here and educated at the University of California.

She was prominent in politics and as a lecturer and suffragist she led the local fight in Oakland in 1878.

After she went east she became prominent in journalism.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

SEATTLE, Aug. 7.—Proceedings were commenced this morning before Judge Hanford in the United States Court by Brayton Ives, president of the Northern Pacific Company, to have Thomas F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. removal of receivers."

The proceedings are in the nature of an "affidavit and notice of motion for the removal of receivers."

Ives, as president of the company makes an affidavit which forms the basis of the motion.

Judge Hanford made an order allowing the petition and will take up the case next Friday.

On that day he will give the counsel for receivers and counsel for the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company a chance to be heard.

Ives' latest move means that the re-organization plan of the Northern Pacific which is now in progress whereby James J. Hill, the Great Northern Railway magnate hopes to come into control of the much talked-of road is temporarily at least, knocked in the head and if the courts decide in favor of Ives, Hill will never get possession of the road.

DECOYED AND ASSAULTED.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SALINA, Kan., Aug. 7.—E. F. Coswell, a farmer living seven miles northwest of here, was decoyed from his home last night by a stranger who said he had a sick horse and wanted assistance.

When half a mile from home the pair were met by two pals of the stranger who covered Coswell with rifles.

He tried to escape when one of the men fired, the bullet striking him in the head and the other man struck him twice over the head with his rifle, partially stunning him.

The three then bound Coswell's hands, gagged him and forced him to walk a mile and a half, though he was nearly fainting from the loss of blood.

After terrorizing the farmer for some time they finally let him go, first threatening him with death if he told of the occurrence.

Coswell's condition is critical. There is no clue to his assailants and no cause for the commission of the outrage is known.

The Comptroller Is Called on to Give Advice to the Auditor.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7.—The hearing today before Comptroller Bowler upon the question of the constitutionality of the sugar bounty appropriations made by Congress last session for the crops of 1893 and 1894 arises upon the claim of the Oxnard Beet Sugar Company of Nebraska, the first claim settled by the auditor since the passage of the Wilson bill, by which the old sugar bounties of the McKinley act were repealed.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, having adjusted the amount of bounties due the Oxnard Company, referred all the papers to the auditor for the treasury department with a statement of the account thereon.

The auditor allowed the amount fixed by the commissioner of internal revenue and certified a decision to the comptroller for approval, disapproval or modification as required by the provisions of the new accounting system adopted in the act of July 31st, 1894, as a result of the labors of the Dockery commission.

That act requires auditors in making an original construction or modifying an existing construction of a statute to report to the comptroller of the treasury their decisions and suspend action until the comptroller has passed upon the question.

The decision of the comptroller is required to be acted upon by the auditor, whose certificate is made by law final and conclusive upon the executive branch of the government.

The result is that the decision of the comptroller be reviewed by any other executive officer of the government.

Claims rejected by the comptroller, however, may be sued on in the court of claims, or in certain cases in circuit and district courts of the United States, their decisions being binding upon him.

The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in the case of the United States Miles Planting and Manufacturing Company vs. John G. Carlisle and Joseph S. Miller for mandamus proceedings against the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioner of Internal Revenue to compel them to appoint sugar inspectors under the provisions of the McKinley Act, having held that the sugar bounties were unconstitutional, the Comptroller of the Treasury deemed it his duty to be satisfied upon that point before passing the claim of the Oxnard Company and establishing a precedent for the payment of the sugar bounties provided for by the new appropriation.

He, therefore, without making any decision upon the matter whatever, called upon the counsel of the Oxnard Company to be heard upon the question.

The matter gives rise immediately to considerable discussion as to the Comptroller's powers and duties, and the claim has been persistently made that he had no jurisdiction and was compelled to obey the laws passed by Congress, whether constitutional or not.

That question will be argued, as well as the constitutionality of the bounty appropriations.

Over a Hundred Officeholders at the Marshalltown Meeting.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Aug. 7.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by chairman Howard at 10:20 A. M. The Convention contains 1,079 delegates, and every county is fully represented.

Rev. Father Linehan opened the convention with prayer.

Mayor Pierce made an addres of welcome. Pierce is a Republican, but aroused great enthusiasm by telling the convention that the Democratic party was greater than any one sentiment or principle of party.

Judge Nathaniel French, of Davenport, was made temporary chairman, and addressed the convention nearly two hours.

Caucusses this morning, prior to the assembling of convention, by various districts, showed the free silver men to be in a hopeless minority.

The Committee on Resolutions is unanimous for sound money, only two districts having white metal members.

The silver men will introduce a minority report, however, and make a stubborn fight on the floor of the convention.

Judge Babb, of Mount Pleasant, will be nominated for Governor, it is thought, by acclamation.

The platform will denounce mulct law and declare in favor of the manufacture of liquor by the State, reform of the tariff, and the adoption of the Democratic money plank of '92.

There are over a hundred federal office holders in the convention.

The Resolution Committee stalled on financial plank, and will not be ready to report before 4 o'clock. The free coinage plank received but two votes in committee.

When the convention reconvened ex-Senator J. H. Shields, of Dubuque, was elected permanent chairman.

MISSISSIPPI'S MEETING.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 7.—The Convention was called to order at 12:10 today by chairman Booth, who suggested Mr. Longstreet, of Grenada, for temporary chairman. He was elected by acclamation.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

Justin McCarthy Speaks of the Mistakes of His Party.

Home Rule for Ireland Can Never be Unless All Pull Together.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the World from London says:

Justin McCarthy, M. P., has addressed the following manifesto to the Irish people here and in America:

"Fellow Countrymen: The election of a great coercionist and anti-home rule majority to the House of Commons makes it my duty to point out to you that dissension in our ranks is ruinous to the national cause; that the only means by which we can hope to repair the disasters which discord and insubordination have brought upon us are through the restoration of discipline and a genuine observance of the Irish nationalists party pledged to act loyally together.

"With a united party in a united country, even the present situation would afford no ground for despondency in the Irish party. No man can doubt but that for unhappy events in the autumn of 1890 the verdict of 1892 in favor of home rule would have been absolutely decisive.

"Friction alone prevented this result. Unhappily this friction has continued since and outbreaks in discipline in our own ranks have given the enemies of Ireland another lease of power in Great Britain.

"In spite of all discouragements and difficulties the national spirit has once again asserted itself. Ireland voted with unconquerable resolve, but it cannot be doubted that Ireland would have done far better still, and Great Britain would not have done so ill, had it not been for the so-called Irish Nationalists, who have been endeavoring openly to bring back the Coercionists to power, and still more in lamentable blows aimed at the Irish party and the Irish national cause by one of our own colleagues in the most critical moment in the elections.

"It would be almost impossible to overestimate the disastrous effects of Mr. Healy's action at the Omagh convention as disloyal to the Irish party, even setting aside our own special obligations to each other as a breach of ordinary code of honor and discipline essential to the existence of every political organization.

"The Omagh scandal is unhappily only the latest of a series of attacks on the unity and efficiency of the Irish party. Let us endeavor that it shall be the last.

"Convinced as I am of the injury such actions have already inflicted on our great national cause and of the injury their repetition causes, I feel bound on the eve of the meeting of Parliament to address a respectful word of warning to our fellow countrymen and to inform my colleagues frankly of the views I hold—views which, in case I am honored by a reelection to the chair of the party, it will be my duty to my utmost power to enforce.

(Signed) JUSTIN M'CARTHY."

The Jubilee Will Race Against the Defender at Newport.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—The yacht races for today were postponed on account of rain. The regatta committee has decided to formally consider Mr. Willard's letter of protest and take such action upon it as may be deemed necessary. It is hoped arrangements may be arrived at which will allow the racing between the Defender and the Vigilant to be resumed.

This afternoon it is stated the Jubilee will undoubtedly compete with the Defender tomorrow even if the Vigilant does not go into the race.

THE ENGLISH RACES.

COWES, Aug. 7.—The Britannia, Allsa and Hester started today in the race for the big Single Stickers under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Squadron regatta.

In the twenty-raters race the Audrey, Luna, Stephania, Inyoni, Niagara, Ventea and Isolde started.

In the cruiser race for a £20 cup the Zampa, Cetonia, Amphitrite and Water Witch started. The Zampa led at the start, but was overtaken by the Cetonia.

The Britannia won the race for the big cutters.

The following were the times at the finish:

Britannia, 2h 39m .05s; Allsa, 2h 46m 28s.

The race for twenty-raters was stopped at the end of the first round. The times were:

Audrey, 1h 50m 20s; Niagara, 1h 51m 47s; Isolde, 1h 52m 52s; Stephanie, 1h 54m 56s; Luna, 1h 55m 10s.

The Inyoni withdrew and did not finish the first round.

Zampa, 2h 56m 55s; Amphitrite, 3h 10m .04s; Cetnia, 3h 19m 20s.

James White Is Seeking Heavy Damages From George Peterman.

James White brought suit this afternoon against George Peterman of Mount Eden, a young man under age, who, it is claimed, had an altercation with White who demands $25,000 damages.

White says that on the 26th of last month while he was standing in the postoffice at Mount Eden Peterman turned a pistol on him and threatened to shoot him. "This act," related White, "put him in fear of his life and maliciously caused him to flee to a place of safety to avoid being injured by the defendant." For this, White seeks damages as related.

A Challenge of the Entire Durrant Panel Deemed Probable.

TALESMEN UNFIT TO SERVE.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug 7—Theodore Durrant may not be tried in San Francisco after all.

The reason for this is the tangle into which the attorneys in the case find themselves with regard to jurors

After much care and deliberation seven jurors have been selected to try the case only to find two jurors objectionable in more ways than one.

In this respect the prosecution seems to have got the worst of it.

Juror Walter S. Brown is said to have stood for the acquittal of M. D Howell in the trial for counterfeiting, his reason being that he did not believe in convicting on circumstantial evidence.

Charles P. Nathan, another accepted juror, has a record in Sacramento for objecting to the death penalty in cases of circumstantial evidence

As the evidence against Durrant is altogether circumstantial, the discovery fills District Attorney Barnes and Detective Lees with dismay

In view of these matters it is said that when the twelve men shall have been chosen as jurors the district attorney may ask leave to challenge the two jurors.

The defendant's counsel will probably object to this but may consent to the dismissal of the entire jury.

This would clear the way for a renewal of the motion for a change of venue.

Judge Murphy upon mature reflection may find himself impelled to grant this renewed motion if it is made.

The case seems to be almost hopelessly mixed according to the opinions of prominent attorneys.

FORGER LESHON GOES UP.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 7.—J. G. Leshon, was this morning sentenced to five years for forgery.

SALLIE HART IS DEAD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 7.—The Bulletin says:

The death is reported from New Jersey of Sallie Hart, the first new woman who lived in California.

She was prominent in politics and as a lecturer and suffragist she led the local fight in Oakland in 1875.

After she went east she became prominent in journalism.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC.

SEATTLE, Aug. 7.—Proceedings were commenced this morning before Judge Hanford in the United States Court by Brayton Ives, president of the Northern Pacific Company, to have Thomas F. Oakes, Henry C. Payne and Henry C. Removal of receivers."

The proceedings are in the nature of an "affidavit and notice of motion for the removal of receivers'

Ives as president of the company makes an affidavit which forms the basis of the motion.

Judge Hanford made an order allowing the petition and will take up the case next Friday.

On that day he will give the counsel for receivers and counsel for the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company a chance to be heard.

Ives' latest move means that the re-organization plan of the Northern Pacific which is now in progress whereby James J. Hill, the Great Northern Railway magnate hopes to come into control of the much talked-of road is temporarily at least, knocked in the head and if the courts decide in favor of Ives, Hill will never get possession of the road.

DECOYED AND ASSAULTED.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

SALINA, Kan., Aug. 7.—E. F. Coswell, a farmer living seven miles northwest of here was decoyed from his home last night by a stranger who said he had a sick horse and wanted assistance.

When half a mile from home the pair were met by two pals of the stranger who covered Coswell with rifles.

He tried to escape when one of the men fired, the bullet striking him in the head and the other man struck him twice over the head with his rifle, partially stunning him.

The three then bound Coswell's hands, gagged him and forced him to walk a mile and a half, though he was nearly fainting from the loss of blood.

After terrorizing the farmer for some time they finally let him go, first threatening him with death if he told of the occurrence.

A DESPERATE THIEF.

He Shoots and Badly Wounds a Pursuing Officer.

CHICAGO, Aug. 7.—In attempting to steal a coat from a dummy in front of Simon Fisher's clothing store last night John A. Heart, alias Wm. Hughes, colored, shot and severely wounded the proprietor of the store and, probably fatally wounded Policeman Alexander M. Cameron, who tried to arrest him.

Heart ran away and Policeman Cameron fired three shots after him, striking him in both legs.

Heart, after running half a block, was caught by other policemen attracted by the shooting.

The Comptroller Is Called on to Give Advice to the Auditor.

WASHINGTON, Aug 7.—The hearing today before Comptroller Bowler upon the question of the constitutionality of the sugar bounty appropriations made by Congress last session for the crops of 1893 and 1894 arises upon the claim of the Oxnard Beet Sugar Company of Nebraska, the first claim settled by the auditor since the passage of the Wilson bill, by which the old sugar bounties of the McKinley act were repealed.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue, having adjusted the amount of bounties due the Oxnard Company, referred all the papers to the auditor for the treasury department with a statement of the account thereon.

The auditor allowed the amount fixed by the commissioner of internal revenue and certified a decision to the comptroller for approval, disapproval or modification as required by the provisions of the new accounting system adopted in the act of July 31st, 1894, as a result of the labors of the Dockery commission

That act requires auditors in making an original construction or modifying an existing construction of a statute to report to the comptroller of the treasury their decisions and suspend action until the comptroller has passed upon the question.

The decision of the comptroller is required to be acted upon by the auditor, whose certificate is made by law final and conclusive upon the executive branch of the government.

The result is that the decision of the comptroller be reviewed by any other executive officer of the government.

Claims rejected by the comptroller, however, may be sued on in the court of claims, or in certain cases in circuit and district courts of the United States, their decisions being binding upon him.

The Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in the case of the United States Miles Planting and Manufacturing Company vs. John G. Carlisle and Joseph S. Miller for mandamus proceedings against the Secretary of the Treasury and Commissioner of Internal Revenue to compel them to appoint sugar inspectors under the provisions of the McKinley Act, having held that the sugar bounties were unconstitutional, the Comptroller of the Treasury deemed it his duty to be satisfied upon that point before passing the claim of the Oxnard Company and establishing a precedent for the payment of the sugar bounties provided for by the new appropriation.

He, therefore, without making any decision upon the matter whatever, called upon the counsel of the Oxnard Company to be heard upon the question.

The matter gives rise immediately to considerable discussion as to the Comptroller's powers and duties, and the claim has been persistently made that he had no jurisdiction and was compelled to obey the laws passed by Congress, whether constitutional or not.

That question will be argued, as well as the constitutionality of the bounty appropriations.

Over a Hundred Officeholders at the Marshalltown Meeting.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., Aug. 7.—The Democratic State Convention was called to order by chairman Howard at 10 20 A. M The Convention contains 1,079 delegates, and every county is fully represented.

Rev. Father Linehan opened the convention with prayer.

Mayor Pierce made an addres of welcome. Pierce is a Republican, but aroused great enthusiasm by telling the conception that the Democratic party was greater than any one sentiment or principle of party

Judge Nathaniel French, of Davenport, was made temporary chairman, and addressed the convention nearly two hours.

Caucusses this morning, prior to the assembling of convention, by various districts, showed the free silver men to be in a hopeless minority.

The Committee on Resolutions is unanimous for sound money, only two districts having white metal members.

The silver men will introduce a minority report, however, and make a stubborn fight on the floor of the convention.

Judge Babb, of Mount Pleasant, will be nominated for Governor, It is thought, by acclamation.

The platform will denounce mulct law and declare in favor of the manufacture of liquor by the State, reform of the tariff, and the adoption of the Democratic money plank of '92.

There are over a hundred federal office holders in the convention.

The Resolution Committee stalled on financial plank, and will not be ready to report before 4 o'clock. The free coinage plank received but two votes in committee.

When the convention reconvened ex-Senator J. H. Shields, of Dubuque, was elected permanent chairman.

MISSISSIPPI'S MEETING.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 7.—The Convention was called to order at 12:10 today by chairman Booth, who suggested Mr. Longstreet, of Grenada, for temporary chairman. He was elected by acclamation.

The World's Fair Tests showed no baking powder so pure or so great in leavening power as the Royal.

Justin McCarthy Speaks of the Mistakes of His Party.

Home Rule for Ireland Can Never be Unless All Pull Together.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the World from London says:

Justin McCarthy, M. P., has addressed the following manifesto to the Irish people here and in America:

"Fellow Countrymen The election of a great coercionist and anti-home rule majority to the House of Commons makes it my duty to point out to you that dissension in our ranks is ruinous to the national cause, that the only means by which we can hope to repair the disasters which discord and insubordination have brought upon us are through the restoration of discipline and a genuine observance of the Irish nationalists party pledged to act loyally together

"With a united party in a united country, even the present situation would afford no ground for despondency in the Irish party. No man can doubt but that for unhappy events in the autumn of 1890 the verdict of 1892 in favor of home rule would have been absolutely decisive.

"Friction alone prevented this result. Unhappily this friction has continued since and outbreaks in discipline in our own ranks have given the enemies of Ireland another lease of power in Great Britain.

"In spite of all discouragements and difficulties the national spirit has once again asserted itself. Ireland voted with unconquerable resolve, but it cannot be doubted that Ireland would have done far better still, and Great Britain would not have done so ill, had it not been for the so-called Irish Nationalists, who have been endeavoring openly to bring back the Coercionists to power, and still more in lamentable blows aimed at the Irish party and the Irish national cause by one of our own colleagues in the most critical moment in the elections.

"It would be almost impossible to overestimate the disastrous effects of Mr. Healy's action at the Omagh convention as disloyal to the Irish party, even setting aside our own special obligations to each other as a breach of ordinary code of honor and discipline essential to the existence of every political organization.

"The Omagh scandal is unhappily only the latest of a series of attacks on the unity and efficiency of the Irish party. Let us endeavor that it shall be the last.

"Convinced as I am of the injury such actions have already inflicted on our great national cause and of the injury their repetition causes, I feel bound on the eve of the meeting of Parliament to address a respectful word of warning to our fellow countrymen and to inform my colleagues frankly of the views I hold—views which, in case I am honored by a reelection to the chair of the party, it will be my duty to my utmost power to enforce

(Signed) JUSTIN M'CARTHY."

Fine Exhibitions of Sailing at the Cowes Regatta.

The Jubilee Will Race Against the Defender at Newport.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7.—The yacht races for today were postponed on account of rain. The regatta committee has decided to formally consider Mr Willard's letter of protest and take such action upon it as may be deemed necessary. It is hoped arrangements may be arrived at which will allow the racing between the Defender and the Vigilant to be resumed.

This afternoon it is stated the Jubilee will undoubtedly compete with the Defender tomorrow even if the Vigilant does not go into the race.

THE ENGLISH RACES.

COWES, Aug. 7.—The Britannia, Ailsa and Hester started today in the race for the big Single Stickers under the auspices of the Royal Yacht Squadron regatta.

The Prince of Wales' yacht had a long way the best of the start. The Hester was recalled and she crossed the line on the wrong side of the mark boat.

In the twenty-raters race the Audrey, Luna, Stephania, Inyoni, Niagara, Ventea and Isolde started.

In the cruiser race for a £20 cup the Zampa, Cetonia, Amphitrite and Water Witch started. The Zampa led at the start, but was overtaken by the Cetonia.

The Britannia won the race for the big cutters.

The following were the times at the finish:

Britannia, 2h 39m 05s; Ailsa, 2h 46m 28s.

The race for twenty-raters was stopped at the end of the first round. The times were:

Audrey, 1h 50m 20s; Niagara, 1h 51m 47s; Isolde, 1h 52m 52s; Stephanie, 1h 54m 56s; Luna, 1h 55m 10s.

The Inyoni withdrew and did not finish the first round.

Zampa, 2h 56m 55s; Amphitrite, 3h 10m .04s; Cetnia, 3h 19m 20s.

The Amphitrite lodged a protest against the Zampa on the ground that the latter had not sailed the race in the proper cruising trim.

The entire estate is bequeathed to the widow, Mrs. Mary J. Pinkerton.

The value of the estate as set forth in the petition for probate of the will is fixed at $50, exclusive of promissory notes and accounts of little or no value.

HE HAD TO FLEE.

James White Is Seeking Heavy Damages From George Peterman.

James White brought suit this afternoon against George Peterman of Mount Eden, a young man under age, who, it is claimed, had an altercation with White who demands $25,000 damages.

White says that on the 26th of last month while he was standing in the postoffice at Mount Eden Peterman turned a pistol on him and threatened to shoot him. "This act," related White, "put him in fear of his life and maliciously caused him to flee to a place of safety to avoid being injured by the defendant." For this, White seeks damages as related.

By Associated Press to The Tribune.

MILITARY MATTERS.

An Election Coming for First Lieutenant of the Guard.

L. N. Cobbledick, battalion adjutant, Fifth Infantry, has had experience in all the camps of his command, and especially during the stirring times of the strike on the railroad a year ago.

But in all his warlike career he never realized what guerilla warfare meant until a few nights ago.

He was in camp with a number of friends in the hills beyond Trestle Glen and, in the morning, he awoke and discovered that his tent had been raided during the night and that he was left sans shoes, sans vest, sans almost everything save a well developed desire to cultivate an acquaintance with the unknown guerilla. Among the appendages of Cobbledick's habiliments was a valuable glazier's diamond, which the owner greatly appreciated.

Next Monday night there will be an election to fill the position of first lieutenant of A Company, Fifth Regiment of Infantry, National Guards of California, made vacant by the resignation of J. L. Cavasso.

It is thought that Second Lieutenant W. T. Peterson will be raised to the vacant place. There are understood to be several dark horses ready to succeed Peterson as second lieutenant but their names have not come to the surface.

There will be a battalion drill of Companies A and F, tomorrow night.

MILITARY MATTERS.

An Election Coming for First Lieutenant of the Guard.

L. N. Cobbledick, battalion adjutant, Fifth Infantry, has had experience in all the camps of his command, and especially during the stirring times of the strike on the railroad a year ago.

But in all his warlike career he never realized what guerilla warfare meant until a few nights ago.

He was in camp with a number of friends in the hills beyond Trestle Glen and, in the morning, he awoke and discovered that his tent had been raided during the night and that he was left sans shoes, sans vest, sans almost everything save a well developed desire to cultivate an acquaintance with the unknown guerilla. Among the appendages of Cobbledick's habiliments was a valuable glazier's diamond, which the owner greatly appreciated.

Next Monday night there will be an election to fill the position of first lieutenant of A Company, Fifth Regiment of Infantry, National Guards of California, made vacant by the resignation of J. L. Cavasso.

It is thought that Second Lieutenant W. T. Peterson will be raised to the vacant place. There are understood to be several dark horses ready to succeed Peterson as second lieutenant but their names have not come to the surface.

There will be a battalion drill of Companies A and F, tomorrow night.

COTTOLENE.

How to Fry with Cottolene

Fry everything from potato chips to doughnuts in Cottolene. Put Cottolene in a cold pan—heat it slowly until it will delicately brown a bit of bread in half a minute. Then put in your food. It will pay you to try Cottolene just this way—see how delicious and wholesome it makes the food.

Get the genuine, sold everywhere in one, three, and five pound tins, with trade-marks—"Cottolene" and steer's head in cotton-plant wreath—on every tin.

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 8, 1895.

The Postmaster-General has published a list of thirty leading cities in which there has been a substantial increase of postal receipts during the last quarter. The two cities in which there has been a notable decrease are Washington and San Francisco; in the former the falling off is explained by the absence of Congress But how is the decrease in the receipts of the postoffice at San Francisco to be explained? This shrinkage of receipts is not large, but it suggests that there must be something wrong when it is seen that all other commercial cities made substantial gains.

At the Camp Roache summer school A. P. Hayne, one of the lecturers, got hold of a live subject. The phylloxera had already destroyed thousands of acres of the best vineyards in the State.

"The apathy of the wine growers was dwelt upon, showing how they could have given their vineyards a twenty years' lease of life had they had the courage to face the truth and deal with the pest with the energy that the Swiss nation did. After four years of personal observation and study in Europe the gentleman announced it as his opinion that every vine of the Vitis vinifera on its own roots was doomed to ultimate destruction from this pest.

"This," he said, "is no idea of my own, but is the lesson that has been learned from a thirty years' struggle with this insect in the Old World, where it has devastated millions of acres. It has been found possible to postpone the destruction of vineyards, but no one expects to be able to keep it down for all time The day will come—and is not far off—when every vine in the world will be grown on resistant American roots."

The Sick Governor.

For the last six weeks or more the report has gone out that "Governor Budd is a sick man." That report has been confirmed by the later news of an attack of meningitis. That is a brain disease from which if there is a recovery, a long period of rest is required. It would be unfortunate at this juncture if the Governor should be laid aside by a long illness. He has been a very active executive. From the day he took office he has given an amount of personal attention to public affairs that has had few precedents in that office. He has made his influence felt. If there was a suspicion that anything was wrong in any office or institution in which the State had an interest, the Governor was sure to drop down at that particular point and look into matters. He would come and go without warning.

He made a personal inspection of the foundation for the ferry depot in San Francisco. He visited the San Quentin prison and made a thorough examination of matters that had been called in question there. It is true he did not find any abuses at either point, but as an executive he knew exactly what had been done. He dropped down at other institutions in the most informal way It had come to be understood that the State had a live Governor and no mere stick. No doubt he has carried too much weight. The politicians and office hunters have vexed him sorely. He has had a laudable ambition to make a faithful and efficient executive. His official career thus far has won for him praise from all parties.

The last Democratic Governor of California died in office. He also had by his initial work given promise of a satisfactory public career. The vacancy was filled by the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, who was something of an accident. He was a well-meaning man, whose negative virtues hardly made amends for his incapacity in office. The present Lieutenant-Governor is also a Republican, who has been laid aside by illness ever since his election. That circumstance would add greatly to the public misfortune if Governor Budd should be permanently disabled. The public without respect to party lines will hope for his speedy recovery and that the executive work so well begun may be rounded up for a full term of honorable public service.

One Bridge Across the Estuary.

Colonel G. H. Mendell, the Government engineer, in his communication to the Supervisors of Alameda county, has voiced public opinion as it has been expressed during the past five years. There are two poor draw bridges across the estuary where there should be one good one, with a greater width for the passage of vessels. There can be no doubt that these bridges are an unnecessary obstruction to navigation. The Government has spent a very large sum in improving the water way and will probably continue such expenditures until a perfect ship channel has been made. A great deal of work has been done by way of deepening the estuary above these draw bridges. It is now all navigable water for craft of moderate size

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company owns one of these bridges and has an interest in the one crossed by the narrow gauge track. It is hoped that the company will fall in with the views expressed by Colonel Mendell. It is not known to the public that there is any difference of opinion. The Webster street bridge is in poor condition. It has long been an obstruction to the free navigation of the estuary. Two narrow draw bridges close together have about had their day. One bridge with a wide water way and tracks for all trains, with an ample roadway for cars and carriages is what the public convenience demands and substantially what a government engineer recommends.

The Failure of a Colony.

Some time ago many handsome things were said about a colony enterprise undertaken by negroes from this country in Mexico. They were to have land practically free and some other important concessions. There would be no color line in that country. The climate also would be favorable. There would be an abundance with very few privations Several hundred negroes preferred these advantages with Mexican citizenship to American citizenship and more work. Now the negro colony in Mexico has been a flat failure if their own testimony is to be credited. Two hundred or more of these colonists have been working their way back to the United States. They tell a pitiful story of starvation and sickness. The war department has sent 1,500 rations to these depressed blacks. Possibly the most unfortunate side of the picture has been presented But colonists reduced to starvation and struggling back to their old homes, hardly need any extra coloring.

A short time ago an effort was made among the colored men of the Southern states to increase emigration to Liberia. Small farms were offered to colonists The inducements were so strong that numbers of negroes set out for Liberia The first of the disappointed colonists have already returned. They tell the same pitiful story of sickness and privations. They were reduced to starvation or so nearly that they were willing to eat snakes or any other repulsive food to preserve life.

Now the difficulty in these instances was not in the countries sought. Mexico is a good country. It has a good climate, and is wonderfully productive. Liberia, in Western Africa, is a negro Republic. But it never would have been founded had it not been for the assistance rendered by white men. In fact, they founded that state for the benefit of colored men sent out from the United States The scheme of colonization embraced the transportation of manumitted slaves and as many free colored people as could be induced to go there. But the colony never attained more than a moderate degree of prosperity; and it probably would not be in existence today had it not been sustained by the liberal appropriation of money by white men.

The moral of all this, if there is any, is that the negro is not anywhere a good colonist. He has none of the aggressive strength and the sturdy persistence in overcoming difficulties that are requisite for successful colonists. He could not find a country made for him in Mexico Plantains and bananas would not grow without labor. Long days of self-denial necessary in the construction of new homes did not suit this soft tropical man. The bounty of earth and sky and sea in Liberia would not compensate for the disadvantage of a little coast fever, and some hard work to get firmly established. The black man is nowhere a successful colonist. He would lie down and die where an energetic white man would be glad to have a chance to rustle for a living.

The New Fuel Experiments.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will soon make experiments with petroleum as fuel on the ferry trains of Oakland. It is hoped that these experiments will be more successful than those tried three or four years ago on the Piedmont steamer. As near as could be ascertained by outsiders, the fuel cost about as much as coal. At all events the experiments were not satisfactory. If there had been an essential saving it is not at all likely that the experiment would have been suddenly dropped. At that time there was no great amount of petroleum taken from the wells in this State; and none probably that could have been bought at 75 cents a barrel.

The fact that six or eight locomotives are now driven on Southern California roads by crude petroleum goes some way to show that experiments with this fuel for locomotives are successful The whole question is an economical one. If it can be shown that the use of petroleum would effect a saving of a dollar a ton, or even half that money measured by the coal standard, the change would follow quick enough. No railway company in this vicinity is going to lose the advantage of a dollar, or even half a dollar a ton for coal through any conservative opposition to a change. The Piedmont experiment was a very clumsy one. There are experts now and patents that may go far to make the change a success.

An Illustration of Anarchy.

Illinois has had more trouble with anarchists than any other State in the Union. At the Spring Valley coal mines the Italians, the greater part of whom are foreigners, undertook to drive out all the colored miners, who are American born citizens. The colored men were peaceable laborers. They engaged in no strike. They had been introduced as miners because they made no trouble. But the Italians, who are mostly anarchists, determined to drive them out. They began to slaughter colored men and their helpless families. It is the old devilry at New Orleans repeated in a worse form in Illinois. All negro workers had been ordered to leave the town. These anarchists held mass meetings and resolved that all colored men must leave the place and take their property with them. If they left any behind it would be destroyed. These Italians proposed to govern a part of the country in their own way. Men of that class invited extermination at New Orleans. They are now inviting it in Illinois. Governor Altgeld has shown so much sympathy with the lawless element that no aid in stopping the slaughter of American citizens can be expected from him. After a settlement has been made with Italian anarchists it might be worth while to make a settlement with Altgeld.

A Specimen English Election.

Rider Haggard knows how it is now. He ran in a district for Parliament against a young English lord, the son of the Earl of Kimberley. The young fellow not only used foul language, but led a gang of ruffians to break up a Unionist meeting. Haggard himself was buffeted and mobbed. The election was carried against him by violence on the part of this young sprig of aristocracy, and by the aid also of his father's money. The old Earl was on his metal. He had been roughly handled for his administration in South Africa in one of Haggard's novels. He went for the latter's political scalp and got it.

A great deal has been said and written about British fair play. But it can be about as brutally foul in England as in any country in the world. Meetings held by one political party are frequently broken up by the opposition party. Sticks are freely used. After one of these scrimmages broken heads are patched up, free speech is tolerated until the next meeting is held, and "fair play" is the same jewel as before.

It is a rare circumstance that a political meeting is broken up anywhere in the United States. Americans reverence free speech. If they sometimes are a little disorderly they are quick to make the reparation They don't consider it fair play to hustle an opponent off the platform. He must have his free speech, even if it is very offensive. There is a great deal of brutality at English elections. The one redeeming fact is that if a candidate has been elected by foul play he is pretty sure to be unseated when a Parliamentary committee sits on his case Rider Haggard ought to have been beaten by honest means.

The hitch in the payment of the sugar bounty, payment of which had been provided by the last Congress, will work a great deal of hardship where, as in Louisiana, loans had been made on the faith of these bounty payments. Controller Bowler stopped the payments, in accordance, probably, with the advice of his superiors. The money has been appropriated. The last act of hostility of the present administration towards the sugar men is consistent with all preceding ones in that direction.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

At Rochester, New York, a peculiar action is about to be commenced in the Supreme Court as to the result of the bursting of a pneumatic tire on a bicycle riden by a Buffalo man, who gave his name as Francis Lauer. The tire, it appeared had been punctured some time before, and Lauer inserted a rubber plug in the hole. The plug blew out and hit one Adams in the eye as he was riding in one of the parks May 13th last. Adams asks for $5,000 damages. At Birmingham, N. Y., a rider who was seriously hurt by the front forks of his machine breaking, has threatened to bring suit against the maker of the wheel.

A novel and sensible dressmaking establishment has been started in London by a company of young women. They take last season's dresses and make them over in the prevailing fashion. No entirely new materials are taken. The scheme pays the persons who have undertaken it, and it is a godsend to women who want to keep in style without impoverishing themselves and their families.

One of the most remarkable exports of the gold coast is that of monkey skins. During the last five years an average of 175,000 skins, valued at $160,000, have been annually exported. Only skins in good condition and with few shot holes are taken.

Dr. F. J. Furnival has come to the conclusion that we have been mispronouncing Shakespeare's name. He called himself Shahkspair, as though he were a Frenchman

Nearly $400,000 is the amount obtained from the bicycle tax this year by the French Government, the number of machines declared being just under 200,000 They are well spread over the whole country, since Paris and the Department of the Seine return 38,000, less than a fifth of the total.

Max Muller insists that the oldest book in the world is the Rig Veda, which was in existence, complete as we now have it, 1,500 years before Christ, and not the so-called "Book of the Dead" from Egypt, consisting of disjointed fragments, collected from many sources, the earliest of which may possibly be dated as early as 6000 B. C.

Paris, through its Municipal Council, has voted the 20,000,000 francs apportioned by the State as the city's share of the cost of the 1900 Exhibition. The city will pay the money to the State in five yearly payments, beginning with 1896. Whatever profits are made will be divided between the city and the State. The cost of the Exhibition is estimated at 100,000,000 francs.

Liberal newspapers are trying to derive comfort for their defeat from the fact that coalition Ministries have never lasted long. That of Lord North and Fox in 1782 lasted only eight months a half, "All the Talents" only thirteen months, from February, 1806, to March, 1807, and that of the Whigs and Peelites, under Lord Aberdeen, a little over two years, from December, 1852, to February, 1855. It is an unfortunate analogy for them, as the first two coalitions were followed each by eighteen years of unbroken Tory rule, while the Liberal Government that followed the last was only three years in office.

The United States Court in Chicago has played matador to the bull of the old Whiskey Trust by declaring the receivership of General McNulta permanent, and ordering him to sell all his property not heretofore sold by him, and distribute the proceeds and all other assets among the stockholders by September 1st next This disposes—probably—of the old book-snake maker and opens the way for a campaign by a new one.—Traveler.

At a general court of the Hudson Bay Company, held in London lately, the profits for the year were declared to be $300,000, almost exclusively from furs, giving a dividend of $6 per share.

Mr. Navroji, the Radical Hindu, has been defeated for Parliament in Finsbury, but Mr. Mancherjee Merwangee Bhownaggree, a Conservative Parsee from Bombay, has been elected in Bethnal Green.

The new woman is thus properly sized up by the veteran editor, Chas. A. Dana, of the New York Sun: "The new woman? Nonsense! Let her rig herself up as she pleases. Let her talk as she will, she is and always will be the same dear old girl."

According to official statistics our petroleum exports for the fiscal year fell off in quantity but increased in gross value, so that we got $5,169,000 more for 23,000,000 less barrels than we shipped last year. This is accounted for by the fact that between December 30, 1894, and April 17, 1895, the price of petroleum was forced up 300 per cent. Prices have reacted from $2.70 to $1.50 a barrel, but this is probably due to the falling off in consumption incident to the higher price. It is believed that the international combination still holds.—World

Guerrita, "the famous Spanish bullfighter" who wishes to give an exhibition at Atlanta, is not wanted in the United States It is explained by some that he "would not be allowed to hurt the bull," but if he were not the alleged "fight" would be a humbug—a catchpenny fraud of the worst kind. If we are to have any sort of bull-fight let us have a genuine one for our money. But we want none at all. This is the United States of America, and the people of Georgia are Americans, not bull-fighting barbarians.—World.

Sarah Bernhardt has decided to write her memoirs but not until she has definitely retired from the stage. Many publishers have asked her to prepare an autobiography for them; and one offer, made by an American house, was based on the idea that 5,000 subscribers would pay $40 for a copy of the work in an addition de luxe.

Guiseppe Ferrari, professor of wood carving in the Philadelphia School of Design for Women, has been knighted by the Italian King for his work at the World's Fair He had previously been decorated by the Queen Regent of Spain for a similar reason.

A case of prolonged hiccoughing in an old man of 78, which had lasted twelve days, was cured by an Irish doctor lately after he had exhausted every remedy he could find, by giving the patient some strong snuff. This set him to sneezing and stopped the hiccoughs at once This remedy seems to have been administered upon the theory that the hair of the dog is good for the bite

Persons who are disposed to complain of the bad music and the eccentric practices of the Salvation army are asked to remember that in sixteen of the large cities of America there are 800,000 people of the slum class.

Minneapolis recently imposed a tax on bicycles owned in the city, but omitted to provide means for collecting it. In the hope of landing a few conscientious citizens, public notice has been given of the tax, with the suggestion that although not provided for in the assessment blanks, owners of wheels may return them under personal property if they want to do their whole duty. It is seriously proposed to impose a State tax on typewriting machines in Minnesota next year, and the State expects to raise something like a half million dollars from this source

Joseph Shannor, the oldest messenger of the Adams Express Company, has killed two robbers, was once desperately wounded in a fight with thieves, and on one other occasion was tortured at intervals for five days without revealing the combination of a safe lock.

THURSDAY.....AUGUST 8, 1895.

The Postmaster-General has published a list of thirty leading cities in which there has been a substantial increase of postal receipts during the last quarter. The two cities in which there has been a notable decrease are Washington and San Francisco; in the former the falling off is explained by the absence of Congress. But how is the decrease in the receipts of the postoffice at San Francisco to be explained? This shrinkage of receipts is not large, but it suggests that there must be something wrong when it is seen that all other commercial cities made substantial gains.

At the Camp Roache summer school A. P. Hayne, one of the lecturers, got hold of a live subject. The phylloxera had already destroyed thousands of acres of the best vineyards in the State.

"The apathy of the wine growers was dwelt upon, showing how they could have given their vineyards a twenty years' lease of life had they had the courage to face the truth and deal with the pest with the energy that the Swiss nation did. After four years of personal observation and study in Europe the gentleman announced it as his opinion that every vine of the Vitis vinifera on its own roots was doomed to ultimate destruction from this pest.

"This," he said, "is no idea of my own, but is the lesson that has been learned from a thirty years' struggle with this insect in the Old World, where it has devastated millions of acres. It has been found possible to postpone the destruction of vineyards, but no one expects to be able to keep it down for all time. The day will come—and is not far off—when every vine in the world will be grown on resistant American roots."

The Sick Governor.

For the last six weeks or more the report has gone out that "Governor Budd is a sick man." That report has been confirmed by the later news of an attack of meningitis. That is a brain disease from which, if there is a recovery, a long period of rest is required. It would be unfortunate at this juncture if the Governor should be laid aside by a long illness. He has been a very active executive. From the day he took office he has given an amount of personal attention to public affairs that has had few precedents in that office. He has made his influence felt. If there was a suspicion that anything was wrong in any office or institution in which the State had an interest, the Governor was sure to drop down at that particular point and look into matters. He would come and go without warning.

He made a personal inspection of the foundation for the ferry depot in San Francisco. He visited the San Quentin prison and made a thorough examination of matters that had been called in question there. It is true he did not find any abuses at either point, but as an executive he knew exactly what had been done. He dropped down at other institutions in the most informal way. It had come to be understood that the State had a live Governor and no mere stick. No doubt he has carried too much weight. The politicians and office hunters have vexed him sorely. He has had a laudable ambition to make a faithful and efficient executive. His official career thus far has won for him praise from all parties.

The last Democratic Governor of California died in office. He also had by his initial work given promise of a satisfactory public career. The vacancy was filled by the Republican Lieutenant-Governor, who was something of an accident. He was a well-meaning man, whose negative virtues hardly made amends for his incapacity in office. The present Lieutenant-Governor is also a Republican, who has been laid aside by illness ever since his election. That circumstance would add greatly to the public misfortune if Governor Budd should be permanently disabled. The public without respect to party lines will hope for his speedy recovery and that the executive work so well begun may be rounded up for a full term of honorable public service.

One Bridge Across the Estuary.

Colonel G. H. Mendell, the Government engineer, in his communication to the Supervisors of Alameda county, has voiced public opinion as it has been expressed during the past five years. There are two poor draw bridges across the estuary where there should be one good one, with a greater width for the passage of vessels. There can be no doubt that these bridges are an unnecessary obstruction to navigation. The Government has spent a very large sum in improving the water way and will probably continue such expenditures until a perfect ship channel has been made. A great deal of work has been done by way of deepening the estuary above these draw bridges. It is now all navigable water for craft of moderate size.

The Southern Pacific Railroad Company owns one of these bridges and has an interest in the one crossed by the narrow gauge track. It is hoped that the company will fall in with the views expressed by Colonel Mendell. It is not known to the public that there is any difference of opinion. The Webster street bridge is in poor condition. It has long been an obstruction to the free navigation of the estuary. Two narrow draw bridges close together have about had their day. One bridge with a wide water way and tracks for all trains, with an ample roadway for cars and carriages is what the public convenience demands and substantially what a government engineer recommends.

The Failure of a Colony.

Some time ago many handsome things were said about a colony enterprise undertaken by negroes from this country in Mexico. They were to have land practically free and some other important concessions. There would be no color line in that country. The climate also would be favorable. There would be an abundance with very few privations. Several hundred negroes preferred these advantages with Mexican citizenship to American citizenship and more work. Now the negro colony in Mexico has been a flat failure if their own testimony is to be credited. Two hundred or more of these colonists have been working their way back to the United States. They tell a pitiful story of starvation and sickness. The war department has sent 1,500 rations to these depressed blacks. Possibly the most unfortunate side of the picture has been presented. But colonists reduced to starvation and struggling back to their old homes, hardly need any extra coloring.

A short time ago an effort was made among the colored men of the Southern states to increase emigration to Liberia. Small farms were offered to colonists. The inducements were so strong that numbers of negroes set out for Liberia. The first of the disappointed colonists have already returned. They tell the same pitiful story of sickness and privations. They were reduced to starvation or so nearly that they were willing to eat snakes or any other repulsive food to preserve life.

Now the difficulty in these instances was not in the countries sought. Mexico is a good country. It has a good climate, and is wonderfully productive. Liberia, in Western Africa, is a negro Republic. But it never would have been founded had it not been for the assistance rendered by white men. In fact, they founded that state for the benefit of colored men sent out from the United States. The scheme of colonization embraced the transportation of manumitted slaves and as many free colored people as could be induced to go there. But the colony never attained more than a moderate degree of prosperity; and it probably would not be in existence today had it not been sustained by the liberal appropriation of money by white men.

The moral of all this, if there is any, is that the negro is not anywhere a good colonist. He has none of the aggressive strength and the sturdy persistence in overcoming difficulties that are requisite for successful colonists. He could not find a country made for him in Mexico. Plantains and bananas would not grow without labor. Long days of self-denial necessary in the construction of new homes did not suit this soft tropical man. The bounty of earth and sky and sea in Liberia would not compensate for the disadvantage of a little coast fever, and some hard work to get firmly established. The black man is nowhere a successful colonist. He would lie down and die where an energetic white man would be glad to have a chance to rustle for a living.

The New Fuel Experiments.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific Railroad Company will soon make experiments with petroleum as fuel on the ferry trains of Oakland. It is hoped that these experiments will be more successful than those tried three or four years ago on the Piedmont steamer. As near as could be ascertained by outsiders, the fuel cost about as much as coal. At all events the experiments were not satisfactory. If there had been an essential saving it is not at all likely that the experiment would have been suddenly dropped. At that time there was no great amount of petroleum taken from the wells in this State; and none probably that could have been bought at 75 cents a barrel.

The fact that six or eight locomotives are now driven on Southern California roads by crude petroleum goes some way to show that experiments with this fuel for locomotives are successful. The whole question is an economical one. If it can be shown that the use of petroleum would effect a saving of a dollar a ton, or even half that money measured by the coal standard, the change would follow quick enough. No railway company in this vicinity is going to lose the advantage of a dollar, or even half a dollar a ton for coal through any conservative opposition to a change. The Piedmont experiment was a very clumsy one. There are experts now and patents that may go far to make the change a success.

An Illustration of Anarchy.

Illinois has had more trouble with anarchists than any other State in the Union. At the Spring Valley coal mines the Italians, the greater part of whom are foreigners, undertook to drive out all the colored miners, who are American born citizens. The colored men were peaceable laborers. They engaged in no strike. They had been introduced as miners because they made no trouble. But the Italians, who are mostly anarchists, determined to drive them out. They began to slaughter colored men and their helpless families. It is the old deviltry at New Orleans repeated in a worse form in Illinois. All negro workers had been ordered to leave the town. These anarchists held mass meetings and resolved that all colored men must leave the place and take their property with them. If they left any behind it would be destroyed. These Italians proposed to govern a part of the country in their own way. Men of that class invited extermination at New Orleans. They are now inviting it in Illinois. Governor Altgeld has shown so much sympathy with the lawless element that no aid in stopping the slaughter of American citizens can be expected from him. After a settlement has been made with Italian anarchists it might be worth while to make a settlement with Altgeld.

A Specimen English Election.

Rider Haggard knows how it is now. He ran in a district for Parliament against a young English lord, the son of the Earl of Kimberley. The young fellow not only used foul language, but led a gang of ruffians to break up a Unionist meeting. Haggard himself was buffeted and mobbed. The election was carried against him by violence on the part of this young sprig of aristocracy, and by the aid also of his father's money. The old Earl was on his metal. He had been roughly handled for his administration in South Africa in one of Haggard's novels. He went for the latter's political scalp and got it.

A great deal has been said and written about British fair play. But it can be about as brutally foul in England as in any country in the world. Meetings held by one political party are frequently broken up by the opposition party. Sticks are freely used. After one of these scrimmages broken heads are patched up, free speech is tolerated until the next meeting is held, and "fair play" is the same jewel as before.

It is a rare circumstance that a political meeting is broken up anywhere in the United States. Americans reverence free speech. If they sometimes are a little disorderly they are quick to make the reparation. They don't consider it fair play to hustle an opponent off the platform. He must have his free speech, even if it is very offensive. There is a great deal of brutality at English elections. The one redeeming fact is that if a candidate has been elected by foul play he is pretty sure to be unseated when a Parliamentary committee sits on his case. Rider Haggard ought to have been beaten by honest means.

The hitch in the payment of the sugar bounty, payment of which had been provided by the last Congress, will work a great deal of hardship where, as in Louisiana, loans had been made on the faith of these bounty payments. Controller Bowler stopped the payments, in accordance, probably, with the advice of his superiors. The money has been appropriated. The last act of hostility of the present administration towards the sugar men is consistent with all preceding ones in that direction.

NOTES AND EXCERPTS.

At Rochester, New York, a peculiar action is about to be commenced in the Supreme Court as to the result of the bursting of a pneumatic tire on a bicycle riden by a Buffalo man, who gave his name as Francis Lauer. The tire, it appeared, had been punctured some time before, and Lauer inserted a rubber plug in the hole. The plug blew out and hit one Adams in the eye as he was riding in one of the parks May 13th last. Adams asks for $5,000 damages. At Birmingham, N. Y., a rider who was seriously hurt by the front forks of his machine breaking, has threatened to bring suit against the maker of the wheel.

A novel and sensible dressmaking establishment has been started in London by a company of young women. They take last season's dresses and make them over in the prevailing fashion. No entirely new materials are taken. The scheme pays the persons who have undertaken it, and it is a godsend to women who want to keep in style without impoverishing themselves and their families.

One of the most remarkable exports of the gold coast is that of monkey skins. During the last five years an average of 175,000 skins, valued at $150,000, have been annually exported. Only skins in good condition and with few shot holes are taken.

Dr. F. J. Furnival has come to the conclusion that we have been mispronouncing Shakespeare's name. He called himself Shahkspair, as though he were a Frenchman.

Nearly $400,000 is the amount obtained from the bicycle tax this year by the French Government, the number of machines declared being just under 200,000. They are well spread over the whole country, since Paris and the Department of the Seine return 38,000, less than a fifth of the total.

Max Muller insists that the oldest book in the world is the Rig Veda, which was in existence, complete as we now have it, 1,500 years before Christ, and not the so-called "Book of the Dead" from Egypt, consisting of disjointed fragments, collected from many sources, the earliest of which may possibly be dated as early as 6000 B. C.

Paris, through its Municipal Council, has voted the 20,000,000 francs apportioned by the State as the city's share of the cost of the 1900 Exhibition. The city will pay the money to the State in five yearly payments, beginning with 1896. Whatever profits are made will be divided between the city and the State. The cost of the Exhibition is estimated at 100,000,000 francs.

Liberal newspapers are trying to derive comfort for their defeat from the fact that coalition Ministries have never lasted long. That of Lord North and Fox in 1782 lasted only eight months a half, "All the Talents" only thirteen months, from February, 1806, to March, 1807, and that of the Whigs and Peelites, under Lord Aberdeen, a little over two years, from December, 1852, to February, 1855. It is an unfortunate analogy for them, as the first two coalitions were followed each by eighteen years of unbroken Tory rule, while the Liberal Government that followed the last was only three years in office.

The United States Court in Chicago has played matador to the bull of the old Whiskey Trust by declaring the receivership of General McNulta permanent, and ordering him to sell all his property not heretofore sold by him, and distribute the proceeds and all other assets among the stockholders by September 1st next. This disposes—probably—of the old book-snake maker, and opens the way for a campaign by a new one.—Traveler.

At a general court of the Hudson Bay Company, held in London lately, the profits for the year were declared to be $300,000, almost exclusively from furs, giving a dividend of $3 per share.

Mr. Navroji, the Radical Hindu, has been defeated for Parliament in Finsbury, but Mr. Mancherjee Merwangee Rhownaggree, a Conservative Parsee from Bombay, has been elected in Bethnal Green.

The new woman is thus properly sized up by the veteran editor, Chas. A. Dana, of the New York Sun: "The new woman? Nonsense! Let her rig herself up as she pleases. Let her talk as she will, she is and always will be the same dear old girl."

According to official statistics our petroleum exports for the fiscal year fell off in quantity but increased in gross value, so that we got $5,169,000 more for 23,000,000 less barrels than we shipped last year. This is accounted for by the fact that between December 30, 1894, and April 17, 1895, the price of petroleum was forced up 300 per cent. Prices have reacted from $2.70 to $1.50 a barrel, but this is probably due to the falling off in consumption incident to the higher price. It is believed that the international combination still holds.—World.

Guerrita, "the famous Spanish bullfighter" who wishes to give an exhibition at Atlanta, is not wanted in the United States. It is explained by some that he "would not be allowed to hurt the bull," but if he were not the alleged "fight" would be a humbug—a catchpenny fraud of the worst kind. If we are to have any sort of bull-fight let us have a genuine one for our money. But we want none at all. This is the United States of America, and the people of Georgia are Americans, not bull-fighting barbarians.—World.

Sarah Bernhardt has decided to write her memoirs, but not until she has definitely retired from the stage. Many publishers have asked her to prepare an autobiography for them; and one offer, made by an American house, was based on the idea that 5,000 subscribers would pay $40 for a copy of the work in an addition de luxe.

Guiseppe Ferrari, professor of wood carving in the Philadelphia School of Design for Women has been knighted by the Italian King for his work at the World's Fair. He had previously been decorated by the Queen Regent of Spain for a similar reason.

A case of prolonged hiccoughing in an old man of 78, which had lasted twelve days, was cured by an Irish doctor lately, after he had exhausted every remedy he could find, by giving the patient some strong snuff. This set him to sneezing and stopped the hiccoughs at once. This remedy seems to have been administered upon the theory that the hair of the dog is good for the bite.

Persons who are disposed to complain of the bad music and the eccentric practices of the Salvation army are asked to remember that in sixteen of the large cities of America there are 800,000 people of the slum class.

Minneapolis recently imposed a tax on bicycles owned in the city, but omitted to provide means for collecting it. In the hope of landing a few conscientious citizens, public notice has been given of the tax, with the suggestion that although not provided for in the assessment blanks, owners of wheels may return them under personal property if they want to do their whole duty. It is seriously proposed to impose a State tax on typewriting machines in Minnesota next year, and the State expects to raise something like a half million dollars from this source.

Joseph Shannon, the oldest messenger of the Adams Express Company, has killed two robbers, was once desperately wounded in a fight with thieves, and on one other occasion was tortured at intervals for five days without revealing the combination of a safe lock.

FRATERNAL NEWS

GREAT PROGRESS OF RED MEN.

GOSSIP OF THE LOCAL ORDERS.

Social Entertainments Happily Blended With Work.

The present week has been remarkable for the number of grand lodges of fraternal orders which have met in annual session in this State, among them being noticed those of the Redmen in Redwood City, the Colored Odd Fellows and Young Men's Catholic Union in San Francisco; the Grand Council of the Degree of Pocahontas, and the encampment of G. A. R. veterans of Southern California in Santa Monica. The last mentioned assemblage, however, is not a delegate gathering. To it are admitted any veterans who enjoy the honor of having fought for their country, either in the late rebellion or in any of the earlier wars of the nation.

The telegraphic columns of the daily press have been filled with reports of these gatherings, and the stories told of them may not be read by veterans in this part of the State without a feeling of regret that they are denied the pleasure which their brothers in the South would thoroughly enjoy. It is somewhat remarkable that there is in this State only one district encampment and that it is confined to the extreme southern part of the State. This is all the more strange when it is considered that there are a great many more veterans in the northern section than there are in the other extremity of California.

There is absolutely no good reason why the veteran encampment of California should be confined to the south, even admitting that many of the old soldiers in that section have come at more recent periods from the East and still enjoy eastern customs. They are not more reminiscent than their northern brothers. They are not more liberally endowed with the good things of this world, neither can they more thoroughly enjoy an outing than the veterans in this section. It may, therefore, be asked why the veterans of the northern part of California have no such gathering, and the answer is because, thus far, no person desires to take the initiative in establishing a reunion here.

In the east, in many of the States, the location of the encampment is determined by the departmental encampment of the G. A. R. Towns put in bids for it through the delegates of their G. A. R. posts. It is always a source of revenue to the town to which it is awarded.

In return for this advantage, and also by way of showing its appreciation of the defenders of the country, the town designated for the encampment, furnishes, free for all, the tents, wood, hay, straw, and water required to make the encampment a success. The departmental commander of the G. A. R. assumes command of the camp and appoints the usual officers, though the heaviest part of the actual camp work is looked after by the town committee of citizens.

At some of those encampments, thousands of veterans assemble. They are furnished reduced rates on the railroads and hundreds of them take their families into encampment with them. Others drive to the camp in their wagons or ride thither on their farm horses, twenty, thirty, fifty miles. Some of them carry their cows with them so that they can live at absolutely first cost, having to pay for nothing save the few luxuries which they may want while in camp and which they may not have brought with them.

As a great family gathering of the nation's devoted sons, rich and poor, learned and illiterate, humble and distinguished, the counterpart can be found in no other gathering in the Union. The indescribable pleasures of camp life in war days are recalled; songs are sung; stories are told; sham-battles are fought; brass bands from various sections in gorgeous array, parade for the edification of the beholder; and then, on one day, there is a great triumphal march, which is carried out to recall the great review in Washington. If there are twenty bands in the camp they are merged in one, and, under one drum major they play their marches in unison. This is a spectacle that is most inspiring. It is a living lesson in patriotism that cannot be forgotten.

At night, in a large central tent, there are held the camp fires, and there is no veteran so humble that his comrades will not listen to his "experience," and, in those gatherings, the writer has heard United States senators telling modest soldiers to "Go on, go on with your story."

There are also reunions of regiments by States, the names of the States which sent soldiers to the field being called on the great parade ground in alphabetical order. As each State is called the veterans who enlisted in it assemble in a circle, and this meeting frequently brings together soldiers who have not met since they were mustered out of the service.

Many of the States so represented have organizations which publish rosters annually, showing, for instance, if the reunion should be held in California, how many soldiers of Massachusetts, New York or any other State as the case may be reside in California. There are dozens of other features connected with these reunions which need not be enumerated here for the purpose of showing how greatly they cater to a soldier's pleasure. In some places the State reunions are "located" in one place for five consecutive years. This plan has many friends, as has also that of changing the location every year.

In places where district reunions obtain the management is exclusively in the hands of the local committees. The desire for the introduction of this system of encampment is being felt in this section. The Tribune is glad to note, on the authority of Capt. C. K. King of this city, to whom the matter was referred today.

"I am sorry," said he, "we have no soldiers' reunions in this section; but I understand that the veterans in San Francisco have at length concluded to do something in that direction. There are a number of places around here where veterans could go into camp, and I know there are plenty of soldiers who would be willing to go if the opportunity were afforded them. I am willing to do all I can to help in the matter."

Major E. W. Woodward said: "The veterans of this part of the State do not attend the reunion in the South because the distance is too great for many of them, although they have all been invited and all of them are welcome. We should have a reunion of our own nearer home. The soldiers in this county never meet those in Santa Clara county and vice versa. They need an outing as well as anybody and are practically about the only people, considering their numbers, who do not have a grand reunion. I mean something outside of their department encampment, which is convened mainly for business. I am heartily in favor of a move for a soldiers' reunion. The association could include a number of the counties in this section and I am sure it could be made a success. If The Tribune will take the initiative I am sure that a plan will be devised that will make the undertaking a success."

NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

The national encampment G. A. R. will be held in Louisville early next month. Among the well-known members of the order in this State who will attend are Charles E. Wilson, department commander; T. C. Masteller, assistant adjutant-general; A. J. Buckles, William R. Smedberg, R. H. Warfield, C. Mason Kinne, A. W. Barrett, L. H. Burbeck, J. B. Lauck and Dr. S. American. They will leave for Louisville Sept. 6th.

The leading candidates for commander-in-chief are Col. I. N. Walker of Indiana and Major Thaddeus Clarkson of Omaha, Neb. St. Paul is slated for the next national encampment in 1896, and Baltimore for 1897. San Francisco will not make a move to secure the encampment until probably 1899 or 1900. She held the encampment in 1886.

Improved Order Red Men.

The most successful gathering of Red Men ever held in this State is now in progress in Redwood City, where the grand council of the order is in session. There are forty tribes represented by about two hundred braves. The meetings of the great council are held in Turner hall, but in the public square there is an Indian village with tepees belonging to each tribe. In the middle of the village there is a "long house," or in the technical language of the order a "Houdano Suanee," which has been provided for the entertainment and reception of the great chiefs.

This has been thronged during the intervals of rest after the labors of the council sessions. Small council fires have been maintained in various parts of the village since the opening of the gathering, while near the "long house" a brilliant council fire of large dimensions has been kept liberally supplied with fuel.

Last Monday Mineola council, Pocahontas degree, received the visiting chiefs and braves, and, after the reception, the vistors called in a body at the lodge of the Metamora tribe, the local organiation. On Tuesday the braves were welcomed by Mayor Gordon and a number of interesting addresses were delivered, interspersed with musical features.

The reports show that the order has prospered greatly during the past year. The membership in this State is 2,000, distributed among 39 tribes and 11 councils of the degree of Pocahontas. During the past year there was an increase of four new tribes, three councils and 639 members. The interior tribes have property valued at $101,365. The Red Men's Hall Association has a building in San Francisco valued at $100,000. The money distributed in relief work the past year amounted to $18,659, and there is now available for the same purposes $30,976.33. The receipts during the year were $61,352.

In the grand council Alameda county is represented as follows:

Tecumseh, No. 62—William Britt, Geo. A. Young.

Grey Eagle, No. 65—J. G. Hanks, E. E. Fall, J. E. McElrath, W. H. H. Hussey.

Pawnee, No. 67—G. H. Noble, C. Fischer, W. J. Robinson, H. C. Steward.

Comanche, No. 79—H. W. Whipple, E. J. Leonard.

Masonic.

A legal question of some interest to Masons at large is now the subject of attention on the part of Masons in Stockton and is set forth as follows in the Independent of that city:

"All the members of Stockton chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who could be found yesterday were served with summons to answer the suit of Powell S. Lawson in Sacramento to prevent his expulsion from that branch of Masonry.

"The suit is one of the many phases of a conflict that has arisen, been fought over, healed and broken out again in many Masonic jurisdictions for many years over the so-called Scottish rite.

"Lawson is a member of a "consistory" of that rite in Sacramento, a body that is looked upon by the Knights Templar as clandestine, inasmuch as it confers twenty-six degrees, including those of the Templars, without asking the authority of the local commandery of that order. In some places these consistories confer the twenty-nine degrees from "ancient craft" or "blue lodge" Masonry to the thirty-second degree.

"The charge against Lawson in the Royal Arch chapter to which he belongs is the violation of an unwritten but well understood law against soliciting persons to enter Masonic bodies. The specific charge is that he solicited a Royal Arch Mason to enter the Scottish rite consistory of which he is a member.

"It seems plain enough to a non-Mason that he should seek to obtain members of the body to which he belongs from acting, but it is not made clear why members of Stockton chapter should be joined as defendants.

"The meat of the conflict in most cases is the reaching out of consistories working in the Scottish rite below the Knights Templars, instead or requiring candidates to be Knights as a pre requisite to admission to the higher degrees, sometimes called "ineffable."

The "short cut" was once so cheap in Chicago that a Master Mason could get the twenty-nine extra degrees at an expense of from $10 to $20, while to go through the intermediate bodies would cost $100. After a conflict like that going on in Sacramento, lasting for a year or more, the matter was settled and the so-called clandestine consistory was recognized as regular without a resort to the courts.

"This will probably be the ultimate result in Sacramento when roused passion has subsided and the new consistory feels strong enough.

"Interest in the present suit is increased by the fact that Lawson, the plaintiff, is a forty-niner, an ex-president of the Sacramento Society of California Pioneers, a man of some wealth and standing, and has for more than thirty years been a member of the chapter from which it is sought to expel him, and for more than a quarter of a century a Knight Templar."

Young Men's Catholic Union.

The eighth grand council of the Young Men's Catholic Union is in session in San Francisco. The sessions are attended by about fifty delegates.

The grand president is P. N. Hanrahan of De Sales Assembly of this city, who occupied the chair at the first session Monday night and at all the succeeding meetings. In his opening address Mr. Hanrahan congratulated the members on the progress which had been made by the organization during the past year.

The report of the grand treasurer, James English, showed that $8,000.75 had been expended during the past year among the families of ten deceased members.

The report of the grand secretary showed that the order has eleven assemblies throughout the State with a membership of 1,250, of whom 100 had joined since the meeting of the last grand council.

The election of grand officers will take place tonight.

An effort to abolish death benefits was defeated yesterday.

A proposition to reduce the initiation fee in subordinate assemblies was also defeated.

Foresters of America.

The meeting of Court United States of America, No. 7741, A. O. F. of A., was well attended last Tuesday evening. The members are taking an active interest in the court and, with the able assistance of Chief Ranger R. Rosenberg and the other officers, the time is not far distant when the court will become the banner one of the order.

Chief Ranger Rosenberg will present a member's certificate framed and mounted on an easel to the brother bringing in the largest number of members during his term of office.

The A. O. F. of A. and Companions of the Forest are to have a hall of their own. Court United States has appointed a committe of two to act in conjunction with a like committee to be appointed by the various courts and circles in Oakland to either lease or build a hall for the use of the various organizations of the order in this city.

Brother A. H. Rhlen, a past chief ranger of Court Justice, No. 7182, of San Francisco now a resident of Oakland, has received the appointment of deputy grand chief ranger for Court United States of America, No. 7741.

Court United States will pay a fraternal visit to Court Alisal, No. 8279, of Pleasanton soon. It intends also to visit all the courts in Alameda county. The different courts will be informed when they will be called upon.

Companions of the Forest.

United States of America Circle, No. 260, held one of its interesting meetings last Monday evening. One application was received.

There were visitors present from Excelsior circle of San Francisco and Oakland circle of this city. Deputy Mrs. Worms, assisted by Mrs. Ray Cohen, installed R. Rosenberg as financial secretary and Miss Fanny Lewis as treasurer. Under "good and welfare, etc.," remarks were made by all the visitors.

United States circle will pay a fraternal visit to Excelsior circle of San Francisco this evening. All those desiring to go will meet at Seventh and Washington streets in time to take the 8 o'clock train.

Companion Mrs. Freda Jacobs, chairman of the social committee, has arranged a splendid programme for the entertainment and social to be given Monday evening, August 12th. The programme will consist of club swinging, recitations, songs and fancy dancing.

Odd Fellows.

Brooklyn Lodge, No. 2, gave a social at I. O. O. F. hall last Monday evening. Quite a large delegation of members of sister lodges was present. On August 15th Haywards Rebekah lodge of Haywards will have an initiation and Brooklyn lodge has been invited to do the work.

Rebekah Degree.

Abset Invidia Lodge, No. 11, will give a social and dance at Enterprise hall, Twenty-second and Grove streets, on Tuesday evening, August 20th, to which the public will be welcome.

Sunset Rebekah Lodge, No. 109, will initiate three candidates Friday evening, August 16th. Sister lodges are cordially invited to be present and are welcome at Bartlett hall, corner of Seventh and Pine street, every Friday evening.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge, No. 16, will give a dime social next Saturday evening at Fraternal hall, corner Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Order Star of Bethlehem.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 16, Order Star of Bethlehem, will give a social and dance next Wednesday evening at California hall, on Clay, near Eleventh street.

Knights Templar.

Preparations are now nearly completed for the pilgrimage of the three California commanderies of Knights Templar who will attend the great triennial conclave which opens the latter part of this month at Boston. California Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco will leave at 8 A. M. on the 13th, Golden Gate, No. 16, will leave at 8 P. M. on the same day and Oakland, No. 11, will leave at 8 P. M. on the 19th. Each will have a special train, and about sixty Knights from each commandery will make the journey. Including the families and friends of the Knights, about 600 people will journey across the continent to the Hub.

Last Monday evening Past Master Workman Charles Snook gave an address upon the "Thousand Membership Club" before Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 35, A. O. U. W., in Syndicate hall. The address was one of the most eloquent dissertations ever delivered before the order in this city. At its conclusion Brother Snook received the highest compliments on all sides for his effort.

Knights of Pythias.

Twenty-five years is a long time, where one considers it as a fraction of a century, but it seems a great deal longer when it is considered as the age, in a new country, of a benevolent organization.

On next Wednesday evening Live Oak Lodge, No. 17, K. of P., will attain to its twenty-fifth year and on that evening will celebrate its silver jubilee in a very enjoyable manner. Grand Chancellor Samuels of this city is a member of this lodge. He is now making his official visit to lodges throughout the jurisdiction, but he will be present at this gathering. So will several other grand officers.

H. A. Holland, secretary of the lodge, has issued a circular to the members, which will give an idea of the manner in which the anniversary will be celebrated. It runs as follows:

"On Wednesday evening, Aug. 14, this lodge will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary by an 'at home' social, consisting of a literary and musical entertainment, followed by light refreshments.

"The evening will be devoted exclusively to the members of this lodge and their immediate families.

"You are, therefore, earnestly requested to come, bringing your family with you.

"As no money can be taken from the lodge fund for socials of this character, the committee has decided to ask donations of cake, fruit and ice cream from the members—in this way: Those having wives to furnish cakes, and those not so fortunate to give fruit or cash for the ice cream.

"The committee also desires to state that large donations are not expected, leaving that matter entirely to your own good judgment.

"We ask you to be sure and come. Let us meet and have a good social time together—the cost will be light and the pleasure great."

THE GRAND CHANCELLOR.

Grand Chancellor Samuels paid an official visit to Washington lodge in Vallejo last night. He was very hospitably entertained. The new officers of the lodge were installed, the grand chancellor being assisted in his work by Deputy Grand Chancellor Rawleigh Barcar of Vacaville.

OAKLAND LODGE.

At the last meeting of Oakland Lodge, No. 103, Brother O'Neill initiated the following brothers into the new degree of the Grand Orient: A. C. Aldrich, Solly Conn, Caesar Isaacs, Manny Cohn, Samuel Ferris, Benjamin Gans, M. T. Conway, S. Grush and E. W. Griffin.

After taking the degree the members organized as Oakland Council, No. 1, and elected the following officers: grand orient, A. V. O'Neill; grand vice orient, A. C. Aldrich; grand past orient, Solly Cohn; grand prophet, Caesar Isaacs; grand herald, Manny Cohn; grand secretary, Sam Ferris; grand treasurer, Ben Gans; grand wardsman, M. T. Conway; grand vidette, S. Grush; grand G. A. P., E. W. Griffin.

All Knights members in good standing are eligible. It is hoped that the brothers of all the Oakland lodges will join the new rank.

It is the intention of Oakland council to spread the new work by organizing several new councils throughout the county, thereby creating new interest in all the lodges.

PYTHIAN JEWELS.

The Fresno Republican details the following as an incident of the late destruction by fire of the court house at that place:

"Some time ago the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias presented Judge Stanton L. Carter with a fine jewel, set with jems. It had an intrinsic value of $100, but its possessor valued it much more than its gold and gems were worth.

"It was in his chambers of the court house when the fire occurred, and in the confusion he failed to get it out, and today he made a diligent search and found it in the ashes. It was not much damaged. A leather case protected it from the fire."

Degree of Honor.

The lodge room of Dawn of Hope Lodge, No. 1, Degree of Honor, presented a very animated and interesting appearance last Saturday evening. It was crowded with delegations from Ivy, Silver Star, Minerva and Golden Dawn lodges, who were imbued with the enthusiastic spirit of the occasion.

The interest was heightened considerably by the presence of a number of grand lodge officers, both of the Degree of Honor and A. O. U. W.

D. D. P. C. of H. Cogan of Ivy lodge faultlessly led the ceremonies, ably assisted by prominent workers of the degree.

The officers installed for the ensuing term were as follows: Past chief of honor, Miss M. Dolan; chief of honor, Miss Nellie Welch; lady of honor, Mrs. E. Murphy; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. A. Musser; sister usher, Mrs. S. Sjoberg; inside warden, Mr. L. Morten; outside warden, Mr. A. Fiske.

The remainder of the evening was given up to amusement of various kinds.

Sister Cogan and Sam Booth shared the applause of the audience for their creditable singing and P. G. C. of H. Stewart of San Francisco enlisted much sympathy in her address to the members when she reviewed the work and progression of the order in this State.

Sister Stewart concluded by presenting retiring Chief of Honor Dolan with a richly-jeweled badge, emblematic of the degree and a reminder of her efficient administration. The recipient, in a few words, warmly responded.

After being entertained by pithy addresses by prominent workers and grand officers, the lodge adjourned and all marched to the banquet hall, where the evening was closed in a festive manner over heavily-laden tables.

Order United Workmen.

IVY LODGE, NO 4.

Ivy Lodge, No. 4, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., had a very large number of members present at its last meeting Monday evening, the occasion being the monthly social.

The lodge room was artistically decorated with evergreens and beautiful flowers, which were enhanced by the pretty summer costumes of the ladies.

Delegations were present from Silver Star and Dawn of Hope lodges. One new member was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan read an elaborate report on an important question pertinent to lodge affairs. The subject will be fully discussed next Monday evening. Chief of Honor Mrs. Marks appointed as members of the new attraction committee for the next meeting Sisters Carr, Donaldson and Parkinson.

After the lodge adjourned an excellent programme was rendered. One of the features was guessing how many letters are in the word "boomerangderang chang." Brother Cohen, the linguist of the lodge, said the word was Australian for "osculation." No one disputed such excellent authority. Sisters Wilkinson and Mayon tied their guesses, but in drawing for the prize Sister Wilkinson won. The prize was a beautiful silver souvenir spoon. Sister Carr won the booby prize, a pretty watch charm. The presents were donated by Brother San Samuels.

"The Beautiful Mule," was recited by Brother Isaacs and the animal apostrophised was so realistically represented that Sisters Mayon and Parkinson in great trepidation vacated their chairs.

"I Cannot Leave the Old Folks Now," by Sister Fulcher and her daughter was very sweetly rendered and loudly encored.

The recitation "A Helpmate" by Lady of Honor Mrs. Oakes was splendidly recited.

The song, "You Can't Play in My Back Yard," with guitar accompaniment, by District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan, was sung with that lady's usual sweetness, and in response to an encore she recited "My Josiah."

Another recitation, "Two Little Heads With Curls," by Sister Donaldson, was the gem of the evening, and in response to a hearty encore Mrs. Donaldson recited the humorous piece, "Look Out for the Engine."

Brother Ingersoll convulsed all present with his "Parrot Story," the truth of which he vouches for.

After the musical and literary entertainment all present adjourned to the banquet hall, where justice was done to the spread.

The committee on entertainment, Sisters Samuels, Van Court and Juds, deserve great praise for their splendid efforts in getting up one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given under the auspices of the lodge.

Ivy lodge dramatic corps shortly intends to bring out a play on a grand scale.

Chosen Friends.

Unity Council, No. 179, Order of Chosen Friends, held a very interesting meeting Thursday last. Many visitors from this city and San Francisco were present to witness the installation of officers. The ceremony was performed by Past Councillor C. M. Havens and F. Welch from San Francisco council. A fine social followed. Several speeches and recitations were delivered and music was rendered till a late hour.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The usual meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will take place at their hall this evening. The members are making great preparations to have their picnic and reunion, a grand affair, on Admission Day at Trestle Glen.

Ancient Order of Foresters.

Since the last meeting of the High Court, A. O. F., ten courts have been organized, two of which are in Oregon.

At the last regular meeting of the executive council, held in San Francisco last Saturday night, a resolution of thanks was adopted, setting forth the appreciation of the committee of the attention paid to the A. O. F. by this department of the Tribune.

Court Advocate a few nights ago paid a fraternal visit to Court Sunset and partook of the Oriental degree, which was conferred by a team of the A. O. U. W.

Court University is regaining strength. It had three propositions at its last meeting. A committee is making arrangements for a "bloomer" ball.

Court Advocate intends to make use of all its entertainment fund for the purpose of extending its membership.

Native Sons.

The celebration of Admission Day at Sacramento on September 9th is now beginning to attract attention among the parlors of Native Sons, all of which will attend in uniforms specially designed for the occasion. The first uniform announced is that of Stockton parlor, which comprises white caps, black coats, white trousers, belts of the same color and black shoes. White umbrellas will be carried to protect the Stockton boys from the Sacramento sun. Two cream-colored badges will be worn by each member. On the free end of one of the ribbons will be two lithographs of Stockton as it appeared in 1894 and as it looks in 1895.

EDEN PARLOR.

Tuesday evening, August 13th, Eden parlor of Haywards will celebrate the eighth anniversary of its organization by a social party in its beautiful hall at that place.

FRATERNAL NEWS

GREAT PROGRESS OF RED MEN.

Why Not Have a Reunion of the Grand Army Veterans.

Social Entertainments Happily Blended With Work.

The present week has been remarkable for the number of grand lodges of fraternal orders which have met in annual session in this State, among them being noticed those of the Redmen in Redwood City, the Colored Odd Fellows and Young Men's Catholic Union in San Francisco; the Grand Council of the Degree of Pocahontas, and the encampment of G. A. R. veterans of Southern California in Santa Monica. The last mentioned assemblage, however, is not a delegate gathering. To it are admitted any veterans who enjoy the honor of having fought for their country, either in the late rebellion or in any of the earlier wars of the nation.

The telegraphic columns of the daily press have been filled with reports of these gatherings, and the stories told of them may not be read by veterans in this part of the State without a feeling of regret that they are denied the pleasure which their brothers in the South would thoroughly enjoy. It is somewhat remarkable that there is in this State only one district encampment and that it is confined to the extreme southern part of the State. This is all the more strange when it is considered that there are a great many more veterans in the northern section than there are in the other extremity of California.

There is absolutely no good reason why the veteran encampment of California should be confined to the south, even admitting that many of the old soldiers in that section have come at more recent periods from the East and still enjoy eastern customs. They are not more reminiscent than their northern brothers. They are not more liberally endowed with the good things of this world, neither can they more thoroughly enjoy an outing than the veterans in this section. It may, therefore, be asked why the veterans of the northern part of California have no such gathering, and the answer is because, thus far, no person desires to take the initiative in establishing a reunion here.

In the east, in many of the States, the location of the encampment is determined by the departmental encampment of the G. A. R. Towns put in bids for it through the delegates of their G. A. R. posts. It is always a source of revenue to the town to which it is awarded.

In return for this advantage, and also by way of showing its appreciation of the defenders of the country, the town designated for the encampment, furnishes, free for all, the tents, wood, hay, straw, and water required to make the encampment a success. The departmental commander of the G. A. R. assumes command of the camp and appoints the usual officers, though the heaviest part of the actual camp work is looked after by the town committee of citizens.

At some of those encampments, thousands of veterans assemble. They are furnished reduced rates on the railroads and hundreds of them take their families into encampment with them. Others drive to the camp in their wagons or ride thither on their farm horses, twenty, thirty, fifty miles. Some of them carry their cows with them so that they can live at absolutely first cost, having to pay for nothing save the few luxuries which they may want while in camp and which they may not have brought with them.

As a great family gathering of the nation's devoted sons, rich and poor, learned and illiterate, humble and distinguished, the counterpart can be found in no other gathering in the Union. The indescribable pleasures of camp life in war days are recalled, songs are sung; stories are told; sham-battles are fought; brass bands from various sections in gorgeous array, parade for the edification of the beholder; and then, on one day, there is a great triumphal march, which is carried out to recall the great review in Washington. If there are twenty bands in the camp they are merged in one, and, under one drum major they play their marches in unison. This is a spectacle that is most inspiring. It is a living lesson in patriotism that cannot be forgotten.

At night, in a large central tent, there are held the camp fires, and there is no veteran so humble that his comrades will not listen to his "experience," and, in those gatherings, the writer has heard United States senators telling modest soldiers to "Go on, go on with your story."

There are also reunions of regiments by States, the names of the States which sent soldiers to the field being called on the great parade ground in alphabetical order. As each State is called the veterans who enlisted in it assemble in a circle, and this meeting frequently brings together soldiers who have not met since they were mustered out of the service.

Many of the States so represented have organizations which publish rosters annually, showing, for instance, if the reunion should be held in California, how many soldiers of Massachusetts, New York or any other State as the case may be reside in California. There are dozens of other features connected with these reunions which need not be enumerated here for the purpose of showing how greatly they cater to a soldier's pleasure. In some places the State reunions are "located" in one place for five consecutive years. This plan has many friends, as has also that of changing the location every year.

In places where district reunions obtain the management is exclusively in the hands of the local committees. The desire for the introduction of this system of encampment is being felt in this section. The Tribune is glad to note, on the authority of Capt. C. K. King of this city, to whom the matter was referred today.

"I am sorry," said he, "we have no soldiers' reunions in this section; but I understand that the veterans in San Francisco have at length concluded to do something in that direction. There are a number of places around here where veterans could go into camp and I know there are plenty of soldiers who would be willing to go if the opportunity were afforded them. I am willing to do all I can to help in the matter."

Major E. W. Woodward said: "The veterans of this part of the State do not attend the reunion in the South because the distance is too great for many of them, although they have all been invited and all of them are welcome. We should have a reunion of our own nearer home. The soldiers in this county never meet those in Santa Clara county and vice versa. They need an outing as well as anybody and are practically about the only people, considering their numbers, who do not have a grand reunion. I mean something outside of their department encampment, which is convened mainly for business. I am heartily in favor of a move for a soldiers' reunion. The association could include a number of the counties in this section and I am sure it could be made a success. If The Tribune will take the initiative I am sure that a plan will be devised that will make the undertaking a success."

NATIONAL ENCAMPMENT.

The national encampment G. A. R. will be held in Louisville early next month. Among the well-known members of the order in this State who will attend are Charles E. Wilson, department commander; T. C. Masteller, assistant adjutant-general; A. J. Buckles, William R. Smedberg, R. H. Warfield, C. Mason Kinne, A. W. Barrett, L. H. Burbeck, J. B. Lauck and Dr. S. American. They will leave for Louisville Sept. 6th.

The leading candidates for commander-in-chief are Col. I. N. Walker of Indiana and Major Thaddeus Clarkson of Omaha, Neb. St. Paul is slated for the next national encampment in 1896, and Baltimore for 1897. San Francisco will not make a move to secure the encampment until probably 1899 or 1900. She held the encampment in 1886.

Improved Order Red Men.

The most successful gathering of Red Men ever held in this State is now in progress in Redwood City, where the grand council of the order is in session. There are forty tribes represented by about two hundred braves. The meetings of the great council are held in Turner hall, but in the public square there is an Indian village with tepees belonging to each tribe. In the middle of the village there is a "long house," or in the technical language of the order a "Houdeno Suance," which has been provided for the entertainment and reception of the great chiefs.

This has been thronged during the intervals of rest after the labors of the council sessions. Small council fires have been maintained in various parts of the village since the opening of the gathering, while near the "long house" a brilliant council fire of large dimensions has been kept liberally supplied with fuel.

Last Monday Minerva council, Pocahontas degree, received the visiting chiefs and braves, and, after the reception, the visitors called in a body at the lodge of the Metamora tribe, the local organization. On Tuesday the braves were welcomed by Mayor Gordon and a number of interesting addresses were delivered, interspersed with musical features.

The reports show that the order has prospered greatly during the past year. The membership in this State is 2,900, distributed among 39 tribes and 11 councils of the degree of Pocahontas. During the past year there was an increase of four new tribes, three councils and 639 members. The interior tribes have property valued at $101,365. The Red Men's Hall Association has a building in San Francisco valued at $100,000. The money distributed in relief work the past year amounted to $18,650, and there is now available for the same purposes $30,976 33. The receipts during the year were $61,352.

In the grand council Alameda county is represented as follows:

Tecumseh, No. 62—William Britt, Geo. A. Young.

Grey Eagle, No. 65—J. G. Hanks, E. E. Fall, J. E. McElrath, W. H. H. Hussey.

Pawnee, No. 67—G. H. Noble, C. Fischer, W. J. Robinson, H. C. Steward.

Comanche, No. 79—H. W. Whipple, E. J. Leonard.

Masonic.

A legal question of some interest to Masons at large is now the subject of attention on the part of Masons in Stockton and is set forth as follows in the Independent of that city:

"All the members of Stockton chapter, Royal Arch Masons, who could be found yesterday were served with summons to answer the suit of Powell S. Lawson in Sacramento to prevent his expulsion from that branch of Masonry.

"The suit is one of the many phases of a conflict that has arisen, been fought over, healed and broken out again in many Masonic jurisdictions for many years over the so-called Scottish rite.

"Lawson is a member of a "consistory" of that rite in Sacramento, a body that is looked upon by the Knights Templar as clandestine, inasmuch as it confers twenty-six degrees, including those of the Templars, without asking the authority of the local commandery of that order. In some places these consistories confer the twenty-nine degrees from "ancient craft" or "blue lodge" Masonry to the thirty-second degree.

"The charge against Lawson in the Royal Arch chapter to which he belongs is the violation of an unwritten but well understood law against soliciting persons to enter Masonic bodies. The specific charge is that he solicited a Royal Arch Mason to enter the Scottish rite consistory of which he is a member.

"It seems plain enough to a non-Mason why he should seek to obtain members of the body to which he belongs from getting, but it is not made clear why members of Stockton chapter should be joined as defendants.

"The meat of the conflict in most cases is the reaching out of consistories working in the Scottish rite below the Knights Templars, instead of requiring candidates to be Knights as a pre-requisite to admission to the higher degrees, sometimes called 'ineffable.'

"The 'short cut' was once so cheap in Chicago that a Master Mason could get the twenty-nine extra degrees at an expense of from $10 to $20, while to go through the intermediate bodies would cost $100. After a conflict like that going on in Sacramento, lasting for a year or more, the matter was settled and the so-called clandestine consistory was recognized as regular without a resort to the courts.

"This will probably be the ultimate result in Sacramento when roused passion has subsided and the new consistory feels strong enough.

"Interest in the present suit is increased by the fact that Lawson, the plaintiff, is a forty-niner, an ex-president of the Sacramento Society of California Pioneers, a man of some wealth and standing, and has for more than thirty years been a member of the chapter from which it is sought to expel him, and for more than a quarter of a century a Knight Templar."

Young Men's Catholic Union.

The eighth grand council of the Young Men's Catholic Union is in session in San Francisco. The sessions are attended by about fifty delegates.

The grand president is P. N. Hanrahan of De Sales Assembly of this city, who occupied the chair at the first session Monday night and at all the succeeding meetings. In his opening address Mr. Hanrahan congratulated the members on the progress which had been made by the organization during the past year.

The report of the grand treasurer, James English, showed that $3,000.75 had been expended during the past year among the families of ten deceased members.

The report of the grand secretary showed that the order has eleven assemblies throughout the State with a membership of 1,250, of whom 100 had joined since the meeting of the last grand council.

The election of grand officers will take place tonight.

An effort to abolish death benefits was defeated yesterday.

A proposition to reduce the initiation fee in subordinate assemblies was also defeated.

Foresters of America.

The meeting of Court United States of America, No. 7741, A. O. F. of A., was well attended last Tuesday evening. The members are taking an active interest in the court and, with the able assistance of Chief Ranger R. Rosenberg and the other officers, the time is not far distant when the court will become the banner one of the order.

Chief Ranger Rosenberg will present a member's certificate framed and mounted on an easel to the brother bringing in the largest number of members during his term of office.

The A. O. F. of A. and Companions of the Forest are to have a hall of their own. Court United States has appointed a committee of two to act in conjunction with a like committee to be appointed by the various courts and circles in Oakland to either lease or build a hall for the use of the various organizations of the order in this city.

Brother A. H. Rhien, a past chief ranger of Court Jupstice, No. 7182, of San Francisco now a resident of Oakland, has received the appointment of deputy grand chief ranger for Court United States of America, No. 7741.

Court United States will pay a fraternal visit to Court Alisal, No. 8279, of Pleasanton soon. It intends also to visit all the courts in Alameda county. The different courts will be informed when they will be called upon.

Companions of the Forest.

United States of America Circle, No. 260, held one of its interesting meetings last Monday evening. One application was received.

There were visitors present from Excelsior circle of San Francisco and Oakland circle of this city. Deputy Mrs. Worms, assisted by Mrs. Ray Cohen, installed R. Rosenberg as financial secretary and Miss Fanny Lewis as treasurer. Under "good and welfare, etc.," remarks were made by all the visitors.

United States circle will pay a fraternal visit to Excelsior circle of San Francisco this evening. All those desiring to go will meet at Seventh and Washington streets in time to take the 8 o'clock train.

Companion Mrs. Freda Jacobs, chairman of the social committee, has arranged a splendid programme for the entertainment and social to be given Monday evening, August 12th. The programme will consist of club swinging, recitations, songs and fancy dancing.

Odd Fellows.

Brooklyn Lodge, No. 2, gave a social at I. O. O. F. hall last Monday evening. Quite a large delegation of members of sister lodges was present. On August 15th Haywards Rebekah lodge of Haywards will have an initiation and Brooklyn lodge has been invited to do the work.

Rebekah Degree.

Abset Invidia Lodge, No. 11, will give a social and dance at Enterprise hall, Twenty-second and Grove streets, on Tuesday evening, August 20th, to which the public will be welcome.

Sunset Rebekah Lodge, No. 109, will initiate three candidates Friday evening, August 16th. Sister lodges are cordially invited to be present and are welcome at Bartlett hall, corner of Seventh and Pine street, every Friday evening.

Oakland Rebekah Lodge, No. 15, will give a dime social next Saturday evening at Fraternal hall, corner Fourteenth and Washington streets.

Order Star of Bethlehem.

Mizpah Lodge, No. 16, Order Star of Bethlehem, will give a social and dance next Wednesday evening at California hall, on Clay, near Eleventh street.

Knights Templar.

Preparations are now nearly completed for the pilgrimage of the three California commanderies of Knights Templar who will attend the great triennial conclave which opens the latter part of this month at Boston. California Commandery, No. 1, of San Francisco will leave at 8 A. M. on the 18th, Golden Gate, No. 16, will leave at 8 P. M. on the same day and Oakland, No. 11, will leave at 8 P. M. on the 19th. Each will have a special train, and about sixty Knights from each commandery will make the journey. Including the families and friends of the Knights, about 300 people will journey across the continent to the Hub.

Last Monday evening Past Master Workman Charles Snook gave an address upon the "Thousand Membership Club" before Oak Leaf Lodge, No. 35, A. O. U. W., in Syndicate hall. The address was one of the most eloquent dissertations ever delivered before the order in this city. At its conclusion Brother Snook received the highest compliments on all sides for his effort.

Knights of Pythias.

Twenty-five years is a long time, where one considers it as a fraction of a century, but it seems a great deal longer when it is considered as the age, in a new country, of a benevolent organization.

On next Wednesday evening Live Oak Lodge, No. 17, K. of P., will attain to its twenty-fifth year and on that evening will celebrate its silver jubilee in a very enjoyable manner. Grand Chancellor Samuels of this city is a member of this lodge. He is now making his official visit to lodges throughout the jurisdiction, but he will be present at this gathering. So will several other grand officers.

H. A. Holland, secretary of the lodge, has issued a circular to the members, which will give an idea of the manner in which the anniversary will be celebrated. It runs as follows:

"On Wednesday evening, Aug. 14, this lodge will celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary by an 'at home' social, consisting of a literary and musical entertainment, followed by light refreshments.

"The evening will be devoted exclusively to the members of this lodge and their immediate families.

"You are, therefore, earnestly requested to come, bringing your family with you.

"As no money can be taken from the lodge fund for socials of this character, the committee has decided to ask donations of cake, fruit and ice cream from the members—in this way. Those having wives to furnish cakes, and those not so fortunate to give fruit or cash for the ice cream.

"The committee also desires to state that large donations are not expected, leaving that matter entirely to your own good judgment.

"We ask you to be sure and come. Let us meet and have a good social time together—the cost will be light and the pleasure great."

THE GRAND CHANCELLOR.

Grand Chancellor Samuels paid an official visit to Washington lodge in Vallejo last night. He was very hospitably entertained. The new officers of the lodge were installed, the grand chancellor being assisted in his work by Deputy Grand Chancellor Rawleigh Barcar of Vacaville.

OAKLAND LODGE.

At the last meeting of Oakland Lodge, No. 103, Brother O'Neill initiated the following brothers into the new degree of the Grand Orient: A. C. Aldrich, Solly Cohn, Caesar Isaacs, Manny Cohn, Samuel Ferris, Benjamin Gans, M. T. Conway, S. Grush and E. W. Griffin.

After taking the degree the members organized as Oakland Council, No. 1, and elected the following officers: grand orient, A. V. O'Neill; grand vice orient, A. C. Aldrich; grand past orient, Solly Cohn; grand prophet, Caesar Isaacs; grand herald, Manny Cohn; grand secretary, Sam Ferris; grand treasurer, Ben Gans; grand wardsman, M. T. Conway; grand vidette, S. Grush; grand G. A. P., E. W. Griffin.

The Grand Orient degree will be conferred every Friday night by Oakland council on all Knights.

All Knights members in good standing are eligible. It is hoped that the brothers of all the Oakland lodges will join the new rank.

It is the intention of Oakland council to spread the new work by organizing several new councils throughout the county, thereby creating new interest in all the lodges.

PYTHIAN JEWELS.

The Fresno Republican details the following as an incident of the late destruction by fire of the court house at that place:

"Some time ago the grand lodge of the Knights of Pythias presented Judge Stanton L. Carter with a fine jewel, set with gems. It had an intrinsic value of $100, but its possessor valued it much more than its gold and gems were worth.

"It was in his chambers of the court house when the fire occurred, and in the confusion he failed to get it out, and today he made a diligent search and found it in the ashes. It was not much damaged. A leather case protected it from the fire."

Degree of Honor.

The lodge room of Dawn of Hope Lodge, No. 1, Degree of Honor, presented a very animated and interesting appearance last Saturday evening. It was crowded with delegations from Ivy, Silver Star, Minerva and Golden Dawn lodges, who were imbued with the enthusiastic spirit of the occasion.

The interest was heightened considerably by the presence of a number of grand lodge officers, both of the Degree of Honor and A. O. U. W.

D. D. P. C. of H. Cogan of Ivy lodge faultlessly led the ceremonies, ably assisted by prominent workers of the degree.

The officers installed for the ensuing term were as follows: Past chief of honor, Miss M. Dolan; chief of honor, Miss Nellie Welch; lady of honor, Mrs. E. Murphy; chief of ceremonies, Mrs. A. Musser; sister usher, Mrs. S. Sjoberg; inside warden, Mr. L. Morten; outside warden, Mr. A. Fiske.

The remainder of the evening was given up to amusement of various kinds.

Sister Cogan and Sam Booth shared the applause of the audience for their creditable singing and P. G. C. of H. Stewart of San Francisco enlisted much sympathy in her address to the members when she reviewed the work and progression of the order in this State.

Sister Stewart concluded by presenting retiring Chief of Honor Dolan with a richly-jeweled badge, emblematic of the degree and a reminder of her efficient administration. The recipient, in a few words, warmly responded.

After being entertained by pithy addresses by prominent workers and grand officers, the lodge adjourned and all marched to the banquet hall, where the evening was closed in a festive manner over heavily-laden tables.

Order United Workmen.

IVY LODGE, NO 4.

Ivy Lodge, No. 4, Degree of Honor, A. O. U. W., had a very large number of members present at its last meeting Monday evening, the occasion being the monthly social.

The lodge room was artistically decorated with evergreens and beautiful flowers, which were enhanced by the pretty summer costumes of the ladies.

Delegations were present from Silver Star and Dawn of Hope lodges. One new member was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan read an elaborate report on an important question pertinent to lodge affairs. The subject will be fully discussed next Monday evening. Chief of Honor Mrs. Marks appointed as members of the new attraction committee for the next meeting Sisters Carr, Donaldson and Parkinson.

After the lodge adjourned an excellent programme was rendered. One of the features was guessing how many letters are in the word "bnomerangderang chang." Brother Cohen, the linguist of the lodge, said the word was Australian for "osculation." No one disputed such excellent authority. Sisters Wilkinson and Mayon tied their guesses, but in drawing for the prize Sister Wilkinson won. The prize was a beautiful silver souvenir spoon. Sister Carr won the booby prize, a pretty watch chain. The presents were donated by Brother San Samuels.

"The Beautiful Mule," was recited by Brother Isaacs and the animal apostrophised was so realistically represented that Sisters Mayon and Parkinson in great trepidation vacated their chairs.

"I Cannot Leave the Old Folks Now," by Sister Fulcher and her daughter was very sweetly rendered and loudly encored.

The recitation "A Helpmate" by Lady of Honor Mrs. Oakes was splendidly recited.

The song, "You Can't Play in My Back Yard," with guitar accompaniment, by District Deputy Grand Chief of Honor Mrs. Cogan, was sung with that lady's usual sweetness, and in response to an encore she recited "My Josiah."

Another recitation, "Two Little Heads With Curls," by Sister Donaldson, was the gem of the evening, and in response to a hearty encore Mrs. Donaldson recited the humorous piece, "Look Out for the Engine."

Brother Ingersoll convulsed all present with his "Parrot Story," the truth of which he vouches for.

After the musical and literary entertainment all present adjourned to the banquet hall, where justice was done to the spread.

The committee on entertainment, Sisters Samuels, Van Court and Jude deserve great praise for their splendid efforts in getting up one of the most enjoyable entertainments ever given under the auspices of the lodge.

Ivy lodge dramatic corps shortly intends to bring out a play on a grand scale.

Chosen Friends.

Unity Council, No. 179, Order of Chosen Friends, held a very interesting meeting Thursday last. Many visitors from this city and San Francisco were present to witness the installation of officers. The ceremony was performed by Past Councillor C. M. Havens and F. Welch from San Francisco council. A fine social followed. Several speeches and recitations were delivered and music was rendered till a late hour.

Catholic Ladies' Aid Society.

The usual meeting of the Catholic Ladies' Aid Society will take place at their hall this evening. The members are making great preparations to have their picnic and reunion, a grand affair, on Admission Day at Trestle Glen.

Ancient Order of Foresters.

Since the last meeting of the High Court, A. O. F., ten courts have been organized, two of which are in Oregon.

At the last regular meeting of the executive council, held in San Francisco last Saturday night, a resolution of thanks was adopted, setting forth the appreciation of the committee of the attention paid to the A. O. F. by this department of the Tribune.

Court Advocate a few nights ago paid a fraternal visit to Court Sunset and partook of the Oriental degree, which was conferred by a team of the A. O. U. W.

At the same meeting of Court Sunset nine candidates were initiated.

Court University is regaining strength. It had three propositions at its last meeting. A committee is making arrangements for a "bloomer" ball.

Court Advocate intends to make use of all its entertainment fund for the purpose of extending its membership.

Native Sons.

The celebration of Admission Day at Sacramento on September 9th is now beginning to attract attention among the parlors of Native Sons, all of which will attend in uniforms specially designed for the occasion. The first uniform announced is that of Stockton parlor, which comprises white caps, black coats, white trousers, belts of the same color and black shoes. White umbrellas will be carried to protect the Stockton boys from the Sacramento sun. Two cream-colored badges will be worn by each member. On the free end of one of the ribbons will be two lithographs of Stockton as it appeared in 1894 and as it looks in 1895.

EDEN PARLOR.

Tuesday evening, August 13th, Eden parlor of Haywards will celebrate the eighth anniversary of its organization by a social party in its beautiful hall at that place.

ARRANGED A COMPROMISE

No Allmony but the Wife Gets Some Very Valuable Realty.

The domestic difficulties that have for some months past caused a cloud in the family of Conductor Sam W. Bones of the Seventh street local road, were not made the basis of a sensational divorce trial in the Superior Court today as had been expected.

Mrs. Bones left the family fireside some months ago and returned to the old homestead at Ninth and Alice streets, where she has resided with relatives. Some sensational developments were anticipated when her suit for a divorce was filed, but the attorneys arranged for a quiet little divorce which was to be granted on the ground of cruelty.

The case was on Judge Frick's calendar today and testimony was taken. The only witness was Mrs. Ellen Bones, the plaintiff, who told her story.

A decree was granted and it included an order touching the property interests. Under it Mrs. Bones secured her divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and two valuable pieces of property became hers.

She relinquished her homestead right to property at East Eleventh avenue and Eleventh street and in return secured a deed to the property. She also placed on record today a deed to several fine lots at Ninth and Alice streets.

The custody of the daughter, Cora Hojes, was awarded to Mrs. Bones. Each side paid their own costs and allmony was allowed.

THE LYCEUM COMPANY.

A Big Sale for Good Plays to Be Here Next Week.

"The Case of Rebellious Susan," which the capable Lyceum Theater Company gives at the Macdonough theater Tuesday evening, is one of the most popular of London successes during the past year, and gave great satisfaction at the hands of this company during its four months' run at the Lyceum in New York. An interesting bit of gossip concerning this clever play is the fact that Charles Wyndham, manager of the Criterion theater in London, and well known several years ago in this country as a light comedian, has for several years announced each season that he intended coming to this country on a starring tour. Each season he has finally abandoned the idea because of a lack of suitable plays.

When he produced Henry Arthur Jones' attractive comedy, "The Case of Rebellious Susan," at his theater, and it made so pronounced a hit, he decided that he at last had the play which would serve as a vehicle for his American tour. He waited, to be absolutely positive that its popularity was not ephemeral, and then told Jones he would take the American rights.

"Sorry," said Jones, "but the American rights have been sold to Daniel Frohman."

"Then let me have the rights for your other play, 'The Bauble Shop.'"

"Sorry once more," said Jones, "that is also sold to the Frohmans for John Drew."

If Mr. Wyndham ever does visit America again, it will probably be "by permission of Mr. Daniel Frohman."

The Lyceum Company will remain here for three nights and a Wednesday matinee. The sale of seats commenced this morning and was very spirited. The repertoire will be: "The Case of Rebellious Susan," Tuesday night; "The Wife," Wednesday matinee; "An Ideal Husband," Wednesday night; and "The Amazons," Thursday night.

THE POLICE ROUND-UP.

A Variety of Cases Disposed of by Judge Wood.

"I don't owe yer a wifen and yer were mad 'cause I wouldn't meet yer and yer come to de house outer spite," said "Spade" White today while giving testimony in the case of the People vs. Fitzpatrick, "and yer gim'me de pleter."

Judge Wood did not think the Police Court a proper place to adjust lover's quarrels and found Fitzpatrick not guilty of disturbing the peace.

Phillip Shepard pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace of Mrs. L. Sabrino. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

Jacob Nelli, charged with violating an ordinance, was continued until tomorrow for the defendant to plead.

W. R. Walker in trouble over his love affairs, will have his preliminary examination on August 16th.

Toney Tuohy, E. Tracy, and E. C. Hitchcock, who, while in a state of joy produced by an overindulgence in the flowing bowl, threw the furniture out of the windows of the Weber House, were brought into court this morning charged with disturbing the peace. No complaint had been filed and the cases were continued until August 9th.

A Call for Dr. Chapman.

Rev. E. S. Chapman was unanimously called to the pulpit of the Market street Congregational Church at a meeting of the society held last night. His name was suggested by Rev. J. H. Goodell, the retiring pastor. The present salary of the position is $1,000 a year, but it is expected that it will be increased later. Messrs. D. Craig, W. S. Merriam and J. C. McCloud were appointed a committee to confer with Dr. Chapman regarding his acceptance of the call.

Dr. Chapman was seen by a Tribune reporter today and asked whether he proposed to accept the call of the church in question and said:

"The invitation came to me unsolicited and unexpected. I have not had time to see the committee or to look over the field. From what I know of the field it is a good opening for one whose chief desire is to do good work. I cannot now state anything about the probability of my decision in the matter."

THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER
It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!
Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all; therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one iota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly, greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention; and is based solely upon scientific principles." THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LIES IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is this, gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet, mixes quickly with the air and passes off, not giving time for the light to take up from the air all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore it passes off and is wasted. But in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle-pointed perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the blaze supplies sufficient air for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore NO WASTE OF GAS, NO BLUE BLAZE; all turned to light.

See what prominent business men and people you know say of it:

ARRANGED A COMPROMISE

Nothing Startling Comes in the Bones Divorce Suit.

No Allmony but the Wife Gets Some Very Valuable Realty.

The domestic difficulties that have for some months past caused a cloud in the family of Conductor Sam W. Bones of the Seventh street local road, were not made the basis of a sensational divorce trial in the Superior Court today as had been expected.

Mrs Bones left the family fireside some months ago and returned to the old homestead at Ninth and Alice streets, where she has resided with relatives. Some sensational developments were anticipated when her suit for a divorce was filed, but the attorneys arranged for a quiet little divorce which was to be granted on the ground of cruelty.

The case was on Judge Frick's calendar today and testimony was taken. The only witness was Mrs. Ellen Bones, the plaintiff who told her story.

A decree was granted and it included an order touching the property interests. Under it Mrs Bones secured her divorce on the ground of extreme cruelty and two valuable pieces of property became hers.

She relinquished her homestead right to property at East Eleventh avenue and Eleventh street and in return secured a deed to the property. She also placed on record today a deed to several fine lots at Ninth and Alice streets.

The custody of the daughter, Cora Bones, was awarded to Mrs. Bones. Each side paid their own costs and allmony was allowed.

THE LYCEUM COMPANY.

A Big Sale for Good Plays to Be Here Next Week.

"The Case of Rebellious Susan," which the capable Lyceum Theater Company gives at the Macdonough theater Tuesday evening, is one of the most popular of London successes during the past year, and gave great satisfaction at the hands of this company during its four months' run at the Lyceum in New York. An interesting bit of gossip concerning this clever play is the fact that Charles Wyndham, manager of the Criterion theater in London, and well known several years ago in this country as a light comedian, has for several years announced each season that he intended coming to this country on a starring tour. Each season he has finally abandoned the idea because of a lack of suitable plays.

When he produced Henry Arthur Jones' attractive comedy, "The Case of Rebellious Susan," at his theater and it made so pronounced a hit, he decided that he at last had the play which would serve as a vehicle for his American tour. He waited, to be absolutely positive that its popularity was not ephemeral, and then told Jones he would take the American rights.

"Sorry," said Jones, "but the American rights have been sold to Daniel Frohman."

"Then let me have the rights for your other play, 'The Bauble Shop.'"

"Sorry once more," said Jones, "that is also sold to the Frohmans for John Drew."

If Mr. Wyndham ever does visit America again, it will probably be by permission of Mr. Daniel Frohman."

The Lyceum Company will remain here for three nights and a Wednesday matinee. The sale of seats commenced this morning and was very solicited. The repertoire will be: "The Case o' Rebellious Susan" Tuesday night, "The Wife," Wednesday matinee, "An Ideal Husband," Wednesday night, and "The Amazons," Thursday night.

THE POLICE ROUND-UP.

A Variety of Cases Disposed of by Judge Wood.

"I don't owe yer a thing when and yer were mad 'cause I wouldn't me ! yer and yer come to de house outer spite," said "Sadie" White today while giving testimony in the case of the People vs. Fitzpatrick, "and yer gim'me de pieter."

Judge Wood did not think the Police Court a proper place to adjust lover's quarrels and found Fitzpatrick not guilty of disturbing the peace.

Phillip Shepard pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace of Mrs L. Sabrine. He will be sentenced tomorrow.

Jacob Neill, charged with violating an ordinance, was continued until tomorrow for the defendant to plead.

W. R. Walker in trouble over his love affairs, will have his preliminary examination on August 16th.

Toney Tuohy, E. Tivey, and E. C. Hitchcock, who, while in a state of joy produced by an overindulgence in the flowing bowl, threw the furniture out of the windows of the Weber House, were brought into court this morning charged with disturbing the peace. No complaint had been filed and the cases were continued until August 9th.

A Call for Dr. Chapman.

Rev. E. S. Chapman was unanimously called to the pulpit of the Market street Congregational Church at a meeting of the society held last night. His name was suggested by Rev. J. H. Goodell, the retiring pastor. The present salary of the position is $1,000 a year, but it is expected that it will be increased later. Messrs. D. Craig, W. S. Merriam and J. C. McCloud were appointed a committee to confer with Dr. Chapman regarding his acceptance of the call.

Dr. Chapman was seen by a Tribune reporter today and asked whether he proposed to accept the call of the church in question and said:

"The invitation came to me unsolicited and unexpected. I have not had time to see the committee or to look over the field. From what I know of the field it is a good opening for one whose chief desire is to do good work. I cannot now state anything about the probability of my decision in the matter."

THE MOREY
INCANDESCENT GAS BURNER
It Has Revolutionized Gas Lighting!
Only Sixty Days on the Market and yet the Sale is Enormous.

No parts burn out. The mantels, screens, prisms, used in other burners, are not used in the Morey Burner at all; therefore no parts to repair. The Cheapest Burner used, giving the greatest amount of light for the smallest amount of gas consumed.

The secret of its scintillating brilliancy is perfect combustion, not one iota going to waste—every atom of gas being consumed.

No ghastly, greenish white light, but a natural, mellow, golden sunlight, soothing to the eyes and radiant with power.

The Morey Gas Burner is the best results of long years of study, discovery and invention; and is based solely upon scientific principles. THE HIGHEST POWER OF GAS LIES IN THE BURNER EMPLOYED. The secret of the Morey Burner is the combustion secured.

You may ask why does the Morey Burner give so much more light for the same amount of gas consumed. Our answer is this, gas when burning through an ordinary gas jet, mixes quickly with the air and passes off, not giving time for the light to take up from the air all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore it passes off and is wasted. But in the Morey Burner it passes through a perforated circle of 76 small needle-pointed perforations, and the current of air passing on all sides of the blaze supplies sufficient air for the light to take up all the oxygen necessary for its proper combustion, therefore no WASTE OF GAS, NO BLUE BLAZE; all turned to light.

See what prominent business men and people you know say of it:

TESTIMONIALS.

Morey Incandescent Gas Co., City—
GENTLEMEN: We are more than pleased with the lamp we recently purchased from you, and instead of using three burners, which we formerly were compelled to do in our private office, we now get a better light from the one which you put in.
As soon as we fix up our offices will use them altogether in each of the departments.
Please have one of your representatives call on us about the 15th of May.
Yours truly,
S. P. TAYLOR Co.

RUNNING A WESTERN BANK.

The Clients Aren't Much on Figures, But Know Money When They See It.

It was a new bank in a new town in Colorado. As the "institution" opened for business in the morning a crowd of 200 men gathered and when the banker asked what was wanted the man who had been appointed spokesman replied.

"It's just this, Jim: We can't make out that monthly statement you got out yesterday."

"What's wrong with it?"

"She says deposits amount to $7000 and cash on hand $9000."

"Well, that's correct, and I can't see where you have any fault to find," said the President.

"Yes, but the boys don't go much on figgers. Figgers kin be twisted all around, you know. Have you got them 'ere $9000 handy by?"

"I have."

"Wall, won't you jest stand up on a chair and wave that money in the air a few times and let the boys see the color of it? Don't want to put you to any special trouble, you know, but the crowd kinder wants to feel sure about it."

The banker got the money from the safe and followed the suggestion and asked if they were satisfied.

"That's all right," replied the spokesman. "We ain't much on figgers, but we know money when we see it. Them deposits is $7000 and you've got $9000 to pay 'em. That's chuck up and no discount."

"Anything else?"

"Jest one little trifle. It's kinder got around town that you are goin' to Montana tomorrer. Before you start jest count them $9000 into the safe, lock 'er up as tight as a drum and then call in two or three of the boys to watch 'er while you're gone. We ain't showin' any lack of confidence, Jim, but we are givin' you a pointer on how to run a bank in this town without getting your neck into a slipknot!"

RUNNING A WESTERN BANK.

The Clients Aren't Much on Figures, But Know Money When They See It.

It was a new bank in a new town in Colorado. As the "institution" opened for business in the morning a crowd of 200 men gathered and when the banker asked what was wanted the man who had been appointed spokesman replied:

"It's just this Jim: We can't make out that monthly statement you got out yesterday"

"What's wrong with it?"

"She says deposits amount to $7000 and cash on hand $9000."

"Well, that's correct, and I can't see where you have any fault to find," said the President

"Yes, but the boys don't go much on figgers Figgers kin be twisted all around, you know Have you got them 'ere $9000 handy by?"

"I have"

"Well won't you jest stand up on a chair and wave that money in the air a few times and let the boys see the color of it? Don't want to put you to any special trouble, you know, but the crowd kinder wants to feel sure about it"

The banker got the money from the safe and followed the suggestion and asked if they were satisfied

"That's all right," replied the spokesman. "We ain't much on figgers, but we know money when we see it Them deposits is $7000 and you've got $9000 to pay 'em That's chuck up and no discount!"

"Anything else?"

"Jest one little trifle. It's kinder got around town that you are goin' to Montana tomorrer Before you start jest count them $9000 into the safe, lock 'er up as tight as a drum and then call in two or three of the boys to watch 'er while you're gone We ain't showin any lack of confidence, Jim, but we are givin' you a pointer on how to run a bank in this town without getting your neck into a slipknot!"

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES.

Promising Outlook for Many Trials of Skill.

The coming term is a most promising one for O. H. S. athletes. The football team will doubtless be up to the usual high standing. The boys hardly know what it is to be beaten by an academic team and they do not propose to taste defeat this year.

The football team began practice yesterday under Captain Anderson, last year's half. The entire left side of last year's team is back this term. Nelson at center, Hall guard, Butner tackle, Chickering end, Anderson and McCabe behind the line form a substantial nucleus for a fine team.

At a meeting held last Monday Harry Chickering was elected president; Hilary and treasurer; W. E. Dawson, field Hilary and treasurer; W. E. Dawson, field and track captain; Leo Hanford, baggage master.

Dawson is sanguine of putting a good team in the field. He will take care of both hurdles as he is perfectly competent to do. Cheek will not train this year. The boys are sorry as they expected to see him stake another slice off the pole vault record. However there is Hoffman who can go over 9 feet with the pole and H. Keller with a record of 5 feet 4 inches in the running high. Ed Lynch can throw the hammer 125 feet while Hanford is hard to beat in the sprints. If Jackson goes to the University of California then Smith and Russ will have to take charge of the mile run. There is some talk of the Stockton and San Jose High Schools coming into the league. The only drawback is the distance. In the first part of September the school boys will give the Y. M. C. A. athletes a battle royal on the Berkeley cinder path.

AMONG THE ACMES.

Wheeling News From the Winged Acorn Quarters.

The Acme boys were greatly disappointed at Nissen's failure to break the Oakland-San Jose road record. They have the consolation, however, of attributing the failure to accidents. Near Centerville his saddle broke, and it took six minutes to mend it, but as he was still ahead of time he kept on. Just beyond the village he ran into one of the tandems that was pacing him, and pulled a spoke out of his wheel. This accident put record breaking out of the question and he rode slowly into San Jose. He will try it again soon.

Many of the boys went to San Jose Saturday night in response to the invitation of the San José Road Club. They had a fine time and are loud in their praises of their hosts. They were met at Milpitas and escorted into town. Sunday morning they witnessed the San Jose 5 mile road race, and after seeing Nissen come in they started for home at 4:30 o'clock, arriving at 10 o'clock.

Professor Al. Lean is the happiest man in Acme circles now. He is the proud father of a little girl, who will be the future Acme mascot.

The Acme trampers will walk to Redwood Peak Sunday under Captain Carroll. They will elect their officers during the trip. The start will be made from the club house at 9 o'clock A. M.

CAN PUT THE SHOT.

Ralston Wilbur Doing Exceptionally Good Work.

Ralston Wilbur has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of his friends. Despite the fact that he suffered a serious injury he is putting the shot farther than ever. Last week, while practicing with Bob Edgren, he made the phenomenal put of forty-four feet. Edgren will make a specialty of the shot this season. He is putting it out to forty-one feet and though he does not expect to beat Wilbur, it will take a strong man to best him.

EVANGELIST VARLEY.

He Is Holding a Great Revival in West Oakland.

Yesterday began the four days' services conducted by Henry Varley in the Union street Presbyterian church. Large congregations assembled and were deeply interested in his earnest scriptural preaching.

At 3 P. M. there was a Bible reading and address on "Man's Thoughts and God's Thoughts." In the evening Mr. Varly preached a most powerful sermon on the text, "Awake thou that sleepeth and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

His subject tonight is "Unbelief."

Death of Mrs. McLaughlin.

Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, the mother-in-law of School Director J. W. Evans, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. McLaughlin was born in Ireland but early in life came to America and lived for some time at Utica, New York before coming to California.

Her funeral will be held at the residence of her son-in-law on the corner of Sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street tomorrow at 2 P. M.

Horses in a Bad Shape.

Mrs. Sanford of the Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals called at the stables of the East Oakland Horse Car Company yesterday and reported three horses to be unfit for service.

When you reach your destination your baggage is there also. This company also tends to the shipping and trans-shipping of goods to San Francisco with equal dispatch. The office is 418 Ninth street. HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES.

Promising Outlook for Many Trials of Skill.

The coming term is a most promising one for O. H. S. athletes. The football team will doubtless be up to the usual high standing. The boys hardly know what it is to be beaten by an academic team and they do not propose to taste defeat this year.

The football team began practice yesterday under Captain Anderson, last year's half. The entire left side of last year's team is back this term. Nelson at center, Hall guard, Butner tackle, Chickering end, Anderson and McCabe behind the line form a substantial nucleus for a fine team.

At a meeting held last Monday Harry Chickering was elected president; Hilary and treasurer; W. E. Dawson, field tary and treasurer; W. E. Dawson, field and track captain; Lee Hanford, baggage master

Dawson is sanguine of putting a good team in the field. He will take care of both hurdles as he is perfectly competent to do. Cheek will not train this year. The boys are sorry as they expected to see him take another slice off the pole vault record. However there is Hoffman who can go over 9 feet with the pole and H. Keller with a record of 5 feet 4 inches in the running high. Ed Lynch can throw the hammer 125 feet while Hanford is hard to beat in the sprints. If Jackson goes to the University of California then Smith and Russ will have to take charge of the mile run. There is some talk of the Stockton and San Jose High Schools coming into the league. The only drawback is the distance. In the first part of September the school boys will give the Y. M. C. A. athletes a battle royal on the Berkeley cinder path.

AMONG THE ACMES.

Wheeling News From the Winged Acorn Quarters.

The Acme boys were greatly disappointed at Nissen's failure to break the Oakland-San Jose road record. They have the consolation, however, of attributing the failure to accidents. Near Centerville his saddle broke, and it took six minutes to mend it, but as he was still ahead of time he kept on. Just beyond the village he ran into one of the tandems that was pacing him, and pulled a spoke out of his wheel. This accident put record breaking out of the question and he rode slowly into San Jose. He will try it again soon.

Many of the boys went to San Jose Saturday night in response to the invitation of the San Jose Road Club. They had a fine time and are loud in their praises of their hosts. They were met at Milpitas and escorted into town. Sunday morning they witnessed the San Jose 5 mile road race, and after seeing Nissen come in they started for home at 4:30 o'clock, arriving at 10 o'clock.

Professor Al. Lean is the happiest man in Acme circles now. He is the proud father of a little girl, who will be the future Acme mascot.

The Acme trampers will walk to Redwood Peak Sunday under Captain Carroll. They will elect their officers during the trip. The start will be made from the club house at 9 o'clock A. M.

CAN PUT THE SHOT.

Ralston Wilbur Doing Exceptionally Good Work.

Ralston Wilbur has exceeded the most sanguine expectations of his friends. Despite the fact that he suffered a serious injury he is putting the shot farther than ever. Last week, while practicing with Bob Edgren, he made the phenomenal put of forty-four feet. Edgren will make a specialty of the shot this season. He is putting it out to forty-one feet and though he does not expect to beat Wilbur, it will take a strong man to best him.

EVANGELIST VARLEY.

He Is Holding a Great Revival in West Oakland.

Yesterday began the four days' services conducted by Henry Varley in the Union street Presbyterian church. Large congregations assembled and were deeply interested in his earnest scriptural preaching.

At 3 P. M. there was a Bible reading and address on "Man's Thoughts and God's Thoughts." In the evening Mr. Varly preached a most powerful sermon on the text, "Awake thou that sleepeth and arise from the dead, and Christ shall give thee light."

His subject tonight is "Unbelief."

Death of Mrs. McLaughlin.

Mrs. Margaret McLaughlin, the mother-in-law of School Director J. W. Evans, died at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

Mrs. McLaughlin was born in Ireland but early in life came to America and lived for some time at Utica, New York before coming to California.

Her funeral will be held at the residence of her son-in-law on the corner of Sixth avenue and East Fourteenth street tomorrow at 2 P. M.

His Uncle Had It.

C. E. Eaton, who had his bicycle stolen from the front of the Albany Hotel some time ago, went yesterday to San Francisco and identified his wheel in a pawnshop.

Horses in a Bad Shape.

Mrs Sanford of the Society for the prevention of Cruelty to Animals called at the stables of the East Oakland Horse Car Company yesterday and reported three horses to be unfit for service.

It is simply remarkable the amount of care that has been taken off the mind of the traveler by the excellent forethought given to his comfort by transportation companies. When you reach your destination your baggage is there also. This company also tends to the shipping and trans-shipping of goods to San Francisco with equal dispatch. The office is 418 Ninth street.
